26 Persons Killed In Plane Crackup In Virginia Woods

Chartered Airliner Runs Into Trouble Soon After Takeoff in Richmond Area

Richmond, Va., May 16 (AP)—Twenty-six persons were killed today in the crash of a southbound chartered airliner which ran into trouble a few minutes after its takeoff from Byrd airport near Richmond and plunged into a rain-drenched stand of pine woods in a vain attempt to return to the field.

The twin-engine Viking airliner came to grief in the heavy overcast about 1:10 a. m., plowed through the trees and burned on the soggy banks of Doran creek only a few thousand yards from the airport.

The airliner left Newark, N. J., early last night for Atlanta. It put into Richmond and took off again about 12:30 a. m. in heavy weather. The ceiling at the airport was fluctuating between zero and 200 feet and visibility was one mile when she took off.

The C.A.A. said the plane carried 24 passengers and a crew of two. A farmer, William Walton, who lives near the scene in Henrico county, said he counted 26 bodies—20 men, three women, and three children.

Bodies of the victims were being brought out by horse and wagon and sent to Richmond funeral homes. The Byrd airport reported that the weather for the station was a definite 200-foot ceiling with visibility one mile. Planes of Eastern Airlines, which use Byrd airport as a regular stop on the New York-Miami run, were bypassing Richmond during the night, an airline spokesman said, because of the weather conditions.

Radio Tower Gives News
The first call to county police headquarters on the crash came at 1:24 a. m. from a radio tower on the Charles City road reporting a plane down near Doran creek about a half mile off Doran road.

County Police Sergeant H. W. Henshaw went into the crash area and counted 24 bodies, 20 in the wreckage and four more on the ground near the chartered airliner. Most of the bodies were badly burned, he said, and there was a possibility only one could be readily identified.

Mrs. T. Flammia whose home is about a mile and a half from the scene said she did not hear the plane and her first knowledge of the accident came when a man from a Richmond mortuary came to her room about daylight and asked to use her telephone to call for more hearses.

In New York city, airmen said Viking Air Transport Co., operated non-scheduled air carriers from Grand Central Air Terminal, Glendale, Calif., to Phoenix, Houston and New Orleans and from Los Angeles to Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Memphis, New Orleans and Los Angeles.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration in New York said it's report showed the plane crashed at 1:10 a. m. (E.S.T.) and that 27 persons had been killed.

Demands for Help Reported Locally

Brickyards, Resorts, Power Sewing Machine Workers Are Needed

Heavy demands for brick yard workers, experienced summer resort help and power sewing machine operators are being made on the Kingston office of the United States Employment Service, district manager George Stanton said today.

Several good jobs starting with base pay of $6.20 a day are available at Brigham Brothers, Lower Goldrick, Upper Goldrick and Staples, he said.

"There is plenty of opportunity for overtime," he said, "and the work, due to modern machinery, is not as difficult as it is sometimes painted." Mr. Stanton said that many workers earn at least $10 a day.

Local garment manufacturing concerns can use at least 300 power machine operators, experienced and learners. These jobs are largely for women, Mr. Stanton said, and beginners start at 50 cents an hour before advancing to piece work, where the rate is considerably higher.

In order to cope with anticipated heavy demands for experienced resort workers, the U.S.E.S. has established a central pool in New York to meet local requirements, Mr. Stanton said.

The New York pool will cooperate with regional offices to supply experienced resort workers to area hotels where the local offices are unable to fill requisitions. The pool will operate on a year-round basis.

"The demands have been pretty heavy so far," Mr. Stanton stated, "and we've been able to keep abreast of the local needs. However, we're fast approaching the point where we'll need help from New York."

Napanoch Superintendent Assails Comic Books, Radio, Movie Thrillers

Attacking the publication and sale on public news stands of the modern "comic books," the "blood and thunder" radio programs and the "terrible movies" which depict all kinds of imaginary crime, Major Thomas J. Napanoch, superintendent of the Napanoch Institution for Male Mental Delinquents, told the members of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association Wednesday evening, unless these modern "thrillers" are suppressed we might expect our juvenile delinquency rate to continue to climb, he said.

These modern "thrillers" which are brought to the attention of the youths of our time by screen, air and print he said were breeding places for future crime and he urged that they be driven from circulation and further that parents, schools and churches take a deeper interest in our youth during the impressionable age when their minds are being shaped. Unless there is a broad program of education to shape the courses of the young, he said our crime waves would continue and our institutions would continue to be filled with young men who might have been saved from conflict with the law had they been directed on the right path during their early age.

Speaking before 36 members of the association at Hotel Stuyvesant following the serving of a turkey dinner Wednesday evening, Major Hanlon told a story of a young man, attending one of the state's universities who was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile. This young man admitted that he had "learned the technique from the comic serials."

Major Hanlon said these apparent harmless forms of entertainment were "poisoning the homes" of our boys and girls today. He said the programs should be removed from the air and books should not be on sale in stores. Ideas which are derived from these forms of entertainment are imprinted on the minds of the youth at a time when they are at a very impressionable age and it tends to instill a lack of respect for authority, for law and for order.

In order to combat this evil he said an educational program should be started, first in the home by the parents and also in the schools, the churches and the community.

In reality he said the juvenile delinquent and the criminal was at war against society, Major Hanlon continued on Page Twenty

Yerry Says, -Has Not Had Adequate Representation; Also Cites Industries
George E. Yerry Jr., business agent of the Kingston Metal Trades Council, A.F.L., today confirmed reports that five local unions will not renew membership in the Chamber of Commerce, but may rejoin later.

The surprise action culminates a lengthy personal campaign by Mr. Yerry to secure what he considered adequate representation on the Board of Directors and various committees of the Chamber of Commerce.

Queried by a reporter, Mr. Yerry readily admitted the union's plans to withdraw its memberships from the Chamber. Action on the withdrawal was taken at a meeting held Tuesday night, he said.

The five unions affected by the move are Carpenters Union 1175, Plumbers Union 223, Federal Labor Union 2387, Kingston Metal Trades Council and City Employees Union 316.

The unions' intentions to pass up renewal of their memberships was couched in a strong letter to the Chamber of Commerce, in which labor criticized the Chamber for failing to live up to its aims and purposes.

"In spite of the fact that the constitution requires the appointment of a labor relations committee," Yerry said, "nothing has been done. When we objected to the lack of union representation on committees we were told that in proportion to the number of memberships purchased that we were well represented."

"This in spite of the fact," Yerry continued, "that no one directly representing labor unions was on any committee."

Many other groups such as attorneys, he said, have nearly 100 per cent representation while other committee appointments are given to persons not members of the organization.

President Confers With Lewis, Soft Coal Spokesman

Nature of Discussion Is Not Commented Upon; Later Session Is Called Today

Washington, May 16 (AP)—President Truman today conferred for 10 minutes with John L. Lewis and a representative of the soft coal operators and asked them to return at 5:30 p. m. E.S.T. for a third White House conference on the coal dispute in two days.

The United Mine Workers' chief and Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the operators, left the White House without commenting on the nature of their discussion with Mr. Truman.

Also attending the morning conference were Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach and Edward F. McGrady, the special government conciliator who yesterday recessed the contract negotiations indefinitely after the operators flatly rejected Lewis' No. 1 demand for a seven per cent payroll levy to finance a miners' welfare fund.

Operators calculate the levy would net the union $70,000,000 annually on the basis of last year's payroll.

O'Neill told reporters only that he would return at 5:30 p. m. and made his way out of the White House offices.

Lewis trailed along a moment later and said "the magic number is 5350."

Pressed for a statement on what he would do until the hour for returning to the White House, Lewis stared long and hard at his questioner and then said:

"The whole situation gives one a feeling of being in a trap. He would say nothing more."

It was understood that the 250-man U.M.W. Policy Committee which Lewis assembled in Washington a week ago and which had authorized a two week strike truce has returned home.

U. S. Eating Hits Record, Agency Says

Despite Predicted Big Harvests, Consumer Demands Will Exceed Supplies

Millions Suffer

Eighteen Millions Face Starvation Rations in U. S. Zone in Reich

Washington, May 16 (AP)—The United States today is eating itself into a new record for per capita food consumption, despite shortages in grains and fats at home, and a hungry world abroad.

That is the gist of a report from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, which bases its forecast of record-breaking domestic food consumption in 1946 on the year's statistics to date and the prospects for the coming months.

The bureau, a branch of the Agriculture Department, said bumper quantities of most foods are expected to be available to meet the nation's unprecedented appetite. But it predicted nevertheless that consumer demands will outrun supplies.

It is estimated the per capita volume of food consumed will be 14 per cent greater than the average for the pre-war period of 1935-39.

Supplies during the next several months are expected, however, to drop below the yearly average level because of seasonally small quantities of some cereal products, potatoes, sweet potatoes, meats, fats, sugar, canned fruits and canned fish.

Against relatively short spring and summer supplies in these items, the bureau said, will be record or near record per capita quantities of vegetables, poultry, eggs, fresh and frozen fish, canned fruit juices, cheese, fluid milk and cream, ice cream, and skim milk products.

One-Third Higher Estimate
The bureau said 1946 production of food crops and livestock is now estimated to be about one-third above the average for 1935-39. If this estimate proves correct, 1946 food production would about equal that of 1943 and be exceeded only slightly by the record production in 1944 and 1945.

The bureau said the nutritive value of the per capita food supply is expected to be close to the 1945 figure. It said the number of calories available per person per day

Rotarians Honor Dr. F. B. Seeley

Two Anniversaries Marked at Weekly Luncheon

Kingston Rotarians paid a sincere tribute to Dr. Frank B. Seeley on the 50th anniversary of his ordination into the ministry at the regular weekly luncheon meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

The occasion also marked Dr. Seeley's 20th anniversary as a charter member of the Kingston Rotary Club.

Designed for simplicity, the program under the direction of Chairman Joseph J. Morgan was carried out implicitly and was featured by the presentation of a basket of flowers by the young sons of Rotarians Burton S. Davis and Harry R. LeFevre, Jr.

Arthur G. Carr, who also is a charter member of the local service club, Frank W. Thompson and Stanley Matthews gave intimate testimonials of the work of Dr. Seeley in his ministrations as pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church and as a Rotarian who exemplified the ideas of Rotary.

Dr. Seeley expressed his profound appreciation for the many kind expressions and testimonials from this fellow Rotarians. He said he was particularly grateful for the letters and telegrams he received from residents of the city and county. All faiths were represented in the warm messages, he said.

Dr. Seeley recalled many of the charter members, who have died, and the lasting friendships that were made in their associations as Rotarians.

There was a record attendance present to extend felicitations to their distinguished member.

AN OPPORTUNITY (An Editorial)

The State of New York today ends the period of isolation which has existed between the City of Kingston and the communities of northern Dutchess County by its authorization of the New York State Bridge Authority to operate a ferry service between these communities.

This is an important event and one worthy of celebrating, because it is recognition by the State that there should be communications across the Hudson River between these regions. The progress of these communities has been retarded and the people have suffered from lack of a convenience that has been afforded other residents of the State.

We believe that a ferry service is inadequate in this day of modern highways and travel. What we need and what we will fight for is a bridge.

The State of New York, however, affords residents of these communities a great opportunity—and one to be taken advantage of—in our fight for the erection of a bridge here. Through this ferry service, if we patronize it, we can furnish further proof that a bridge here is a vital necessity for the welfare of residents of both sides of the Hudson.

The ferry service is termed an interim service. Let's make it as temporary as possible by showing the State Authorities that we want to cross the Hudson at this point. And the only way we can show them is by using the Ferry George Clinton.

Traffic experts from the New York State Highway Department will check the flow of traffic on the Ferry George Clinton and also on the highways leading to and from Kingston and Rhinebeck. Through this study they will learn of traffic conditions here.

If a study warrants a bridge across the Hudson at this point, Senator Arthur H. Wicks has Governor Dewey's assurance that a bridge bill passed at the next session of the legislature will receive his favorable consideration.

Here is the opportunity. Let's make the best of it.

Senator Wicks Denies He 'Ducked Out' on Bridge Bill

Legislator Sums Up His Efforts in Behalf of Bridge Measure and Pledges Himself to Work Untiringly for New Span

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, sponsor of the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry bill, and co-sponsor of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge bill vetoed in April by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, refused the charge made last month by Mayor William F. Edelmutt that he "ducked out" on the bridge bill. Senator Wicks did not mention Mayor Edelmutt by name.

Interviewed regarding the veto by Governor Dewey, Mayor Edelmutt said in effect that Senator Wicks should have remained in this area to promote approval by the governor instead of going away on vacation.

In his speech today at the opening of the ferry service Senator Wicks, who is chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee, said he filed a voluminous memorandum with the governor, commended with various state officials and "left no stone unturned" in his efforts to persuade the governor to sign the bridge bill.

"The full text of Senator Wicks' address appears in the running story of today's ferry ceremony."

"However," Senator Wicks said, "I am only a legislator. I can introduce bills and work for their passage. But I am not the governor. I cannot sign bills after they have been passed. Nor can I compel the governor to approve bills which I introduce."

Later in his address Senator Wicks said: "I can remember the time when my efforts to obtain this ferry were ridiculed by my political opponents and were called a pipe dream put out for political purposes. You were told that the ferry would never be operated by the state and that I knew it was an impossibility."

Today we are dedicating the ferry. Actions speak louder than words."

Bridge Authority Saw Need for Ferry, Got Much Help From Senator

Others Are Praised

Dr. Edwards, Loughran and Hagginbotham Did Much, Hoe Says

"The State Bridge Authority has advocated a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and hopes that in the not too distant future such a bridge will be accomplished," Robert Hoe, chairman of the State Bridge Authority, said at the exercises that marked the resumption of ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff this morning.

"My pledge is that I shall work untiringly for a bridge," declared Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who also spoke.

The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, chairman of arrangements for the ceremonies, presided, and in opening said that owing to a previous engagement Governor Thomas E. Dewey had been unable to accept the invitation to be present and speak. The Rev. Mr. Gollnick said that the governor had to remain in Albany to attend the ceremonies of dedicating the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Building in the capitol city.

The ceremonies were attended by several hundred people who had assembled in the ferry shed for the exercises that marked the resumption of ferry service on the Hudson river between this city and Rhinecliff, which had ceased in December, 1942.

As the mayor cut the ribbon, marking the resumption of ferry service, he spoke briefly, saying that the operation of the ferry "is a good step forward."

The mayor said the ferry service would prove a great asset to the business interests of Kingston and vicinity, as well as to the public, since it would afford a shorter route to the east shore of the Hudson river.

In closing he expressed his thanks to Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Harold E. Dutchess county. He said he also desired to express his thanks to Chairman Hoe and the other members of the Bridge Authority.

Chairman Hoe Speaks
Chairman Hoe was the first speaker. He said:

It is a great pleasure to be here today at the inauguration of the ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

The New York State Bridge Authority has, for some time, realized the need and the right of the people of Kingston and Rhinecliff to ferry service, and, even before your Senator Wicks had an opportunity to introduce the bill making such service possible, the subject had been discussed at several of the Authority meetings. After the bill became law, there were some inherent difficulties to be overcome and serious legal hurdles to be jumped, but the Authority was so convinced of the need of the ferry, and so well backed-up and helped in every way by Senator Wicks, that finally, through his aid and with the advice of its own attorneys, and with the heartiest possible cooperation from the attorney general, the state comptroller and the superintendent of public works, the problems were met and overcome, and today we have the satisfaction and pleasure of seeing the ferry in actual operation.

I want here to say a word, both for myself and for Dr. Edwards, about a man you all know, James Loughran, a co-member of the Authority, and about our genial and capable executive officer, William Hagginbotham. Both these men have worked untiringly in your interests. They have traveled far and wide in their search for a ferry boat suitable and adequate for the communities to be served, and I am sure you will agree with me that "George Clinton is a fine monument to their disinterested labors."

We are fortunate in having secured to operate our boat, Captain Tierney and Chief Engineer Hornbeck, both of whom have had long experience in navigating the Hudson river, and we may all feel sure that we are going to have safe and dependable service.

I would like, for a moment, to touch on another subject about which there has been some discussion.

Through this ferry service, if we patronize it, we can furnish further proof that a bridge here is a vital necessity for the welfare of residents of both sides of the Hudson.

The ferry service is termed an interim service. Let's make it as temporary as possible by showing the State Authorities that we want to cross the Hudson at this point. And the only way we can show them is by using the Ferry George Clinton.

Traffic experts from the New York State Highway Department will check the flow of traffic on the Ferry George Clinton and also on the highways leading to and from Kingston and Rhinebeck. Through this study they will learn of traffic conditions here.

If a study warrants a bridge across the Hudson at this point, Senator Arthur H. Wicks has Governor Dewey's assurance that a bridge bill passed at the next session of the legislature will receive his favorable consideration.

Here is the opportunity. Let's make the best of it.

Senator Wicks Denies He 'Ducked Out' on Bridge Bill

Legislator Sums Up His Efforts in Denial of Bridge Measure and Pledges Himself to Work Untiringly for New Span

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, sponsor of the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry bill, and co-sponsor of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge bill vetoed in April by Governor Thomas E. Dewey, refused the charge made last month by Mayor William F. Edelmuth that he "ducked out" on the bridge bill. Senator Wicks did not mention Mayor Edelmuth by name.

Interviewed regarding the veto by Governor Dewey, Mayor Edelmuth said in effect that Senator Wicks should have remained in this area to promote approval by the governor instead of going away on vacation. In his speech today at the opening of the ferry service Senator Wicks said, "I am not a duck. I am a legislator. I cannot sign bills after they have been passed. Nor can I compel the governor to approve bills which I introduce."

Later in his address Senator Wicks said, "I can remember the time when my efforts to obtain this ferry were ridiculed by my political opponents and were called a pipe dream put out for political purposes. You were told that the ferry would never be operated by the state and that I knew it was an impossibility. . . . Today we are dedicating the ferry. Actions speak louder than words."

At the conclusion of the legislative session Senator Wicks said he followed his usual procedure of taking a vacation. When he returned he said he was astonished to hear the governor had vetoed the bridge bill, "and while I was several thousand miles away and not here to defend myself, I was accused of ducking out."

Reads Determination Senator Wicks denied "ducking out," and said, "I could have accomplished nothing further by sitting on the governor's doorstep for 30 days while he was acting on the hundreds of bills which were before him for consideration during the legal 30-day period in which bills must be acted upon by the governor. I was not here to defend myself, I was accused of ducking out."

Building Is Dedicated Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey, formally dedicating the 34-story state office building as the "Governor Alfred E. Smith State Office Building," said today the four-term Democratic state chief executive "brought order out of chaos" in governmental organization. The "Happy Warrior" was "the father of the concept of streamlining government," Dewey said in an address prepared for the dedication ceremonies at 12:30 p. m. E.D.T.

Legion Meets Friday

An important meeting of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, will be held in the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street, Friday at 8 p. m. There will be discussion on the war memorial fund. After the meeting refreshments will be served.

Two Men Are Killed When Bomber Falls in California

Fairfax, Calif., May 16 (AP)—Two men were killed and six were injured critically when a four-engine army bombing plane ran out of fuel and crashed near here early today.

Three of the injured were taken to the army hospital at nearby Hamilton Field, but the others were so badly hurt they could not be moved from the scene. Blood plasma was rushed from Hamilton Field and administered in efforts to save their lives.

The B-17, en route from Los Angeles, crashed into a hillside three miles west of Fairfax. The pilot and co-pilot crawled out of the control cabin, and a rescue party cutting with torches through the fuselage of the big B-17 to learn the fate of the others extricated one other soldier. The three survivors were taken to the nearby Hamilton Field hospital in critical condition.

First report of the crash at Hamilton Field came at 2:45 a. m. (P.S.T.) when the pilot telephoned from a house near the wreckage and reported that some of the six trapped men were then alive.

Bridge Authority Saw Need for Ferry, Got Much Help From Senator

Dr. Edwards, Loughran and Hagginbotham Did Much, Hoe Says

"The State Bridge Authority has advocated a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and hopes that in the not too distant future such a bridge will be accomplished," Robert Hoe, chairman of the State Bridge Authority, said at the exercises that marked the resumption of ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff this morning.

"My pledge is that I shall work untiringly for a bridge," declared Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who also spoke. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, chairman of arrangements for the ceremonies, presided, and in opening said that owing to a previous engagement Governor Thomas E. Dewey had been unable to accept the invitation to be present and speak. The Rev. Mr. Gollnick said that the governor had to remain in Albany to attend the ceremonies of dedicating the Alfred E. Smith Memorial Building in the capitol city.

The ceremonies were attended by a large number of people who assembled in the ferry shed for the exercises that marked the resumption of ferry service on the Hudson river between this city and Rhinecliff, which had ceased in December, 1942.

As the mayor cut the ribbon, marking the resumption of ferry service, he spoke briefly, saying that the operation of the ferry "is a good step forward."

The mayor said the ferry service would prove a great asset to the business interests of Kingston and vicinity, as well as to the public, since it would afford a shorter route to the east shore of the Hudson river.

In closing he expressed his thanks to Senator Wicks and Assemblyman Hatfield of Dutchess county. He said he also desired to express his thanks to Chairman Hoe and the other members of the Bridge Authority.

Chairman Hoe Speaks Chairman Hoe was the first speaker. He said: "It is a great pleasure to be here today at the inauguration of the ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff."

The New York State Bridge Authority has, for some time, realized the need and the right of the people of Kingston and Rhinecliff to ferry service, and, even before your Senator Wicks had an opportunity to introduce the bill making such service possible, the subject had been discussed at several of the Authority meetings. After the bill became law, there were some inherent difficulties to be overcome and serious legal hurdles to be jumped, but the Authority was so convinced of the need of the ferry, and so well backed-up and helped in every way by Senator Wicks, that finally, through his aid and with the advice of its own attorneys, and with the heartiest possible cooperation from the attorney general, the state comptroller and the superintendent of public works, the problems were met and overcome, and today we have the satisfaction and pleasure of seeing the ferry in actual operation.

I want here to say a word, both for myself and for Dr. Edwards, about a man you all know, James Loughran, a co-member of the Authority, and about our genial and capable executive officer, William Hagginbotham. Both these men have worked untiringly in your interests. They have traveled far and wide in their search for a ferry boat suitable and adequate for the communities to be served, and I am sure you will agree with me that the "George Clinton" is a fine monument to their disinterested labors.

We are fortunate in having secured to operate our boat, Captain Tierney and Chief Engineer Hornbeck, both of whom have had long experience in navigating the Hudson river, and we may all feel sure that we are going to have a safe and dependable service.

I would like, for a moment, to touch on another subject about which there has been some discussion. I am sure that you are all interested in the subject of a bridge across the Hudson river. I am sure that you are all interested in the subject of a bridge across the Hudson river. I am sure that you are all interested in the subject of a bridge across the Hudson river.

Milk Strike May Begin on July 1

Dairymen in Two Counties Want Higher Prices for Product

Utica, N. Y., May 16 (P.)—Dairymen of two counties projected the threat of a strike in the vast New York milkshed today with demands of higher returns for their milk or a stoppage on July 1.

A spokesman for 600 Tioga county dairymen testified before government and farm representatives yesterday his group had adopted a resolution to halt the flow of milk unless they received a 25 percent increase for the last six months of the year over the price for the corresponding period in 1945.

The spokesman, Paul Smith, Newark Valley, chairman of the Tioga County Farmers Action Committee, said the strike call "was contingent on the other counties joining us and I want to state that other counties have organized or are organizing mass meetings preparatory to a strike unless our demands are met."

Smith spoke at a hearing, now in its third day, on proposed changes in the metropolitan New York milk marketing order.

His testimony preceded by several hours adoption of a similar strike resolution by 500 Broome county dairymen at an organizational meeting in Binghamton last night.

The resolution stated, however, the strike move "is conditioned on unit of action" by the entire milkshed.

A group to be known as the Broome County Dairy Farmers Action Committee was authorized to decide whether to withhold milk entirely or divert it to processing plants if the strike is effected.

Dr. C. J. Blanford, metropolitan milk marketing area administrator announced Tuesday, dairymen in the six state New York milkshed will receive a uniform price of $3.39 per hundredweight for April deliveries and in addition subsidies of 70 to 80 cents per hundredweight.

Red Cross Awards Medals
Washington, May 16 (P.)—The American Red Cross announced today the posthumous award of its bronze medal to 233 Army and Navy nurses who lost their lives in the last war.

Ironing Tips

An iron always heats more rapidly than it cools. Begin with fabrics that require low temperature, such as some synthetics, then progress to those that require high temperature, such as cottons and linens. Put dampened clothes in basket accordingly, with "first-comes" on top.

Glazed tiles, used in the United States chiefly as floor and wall coverings, are also used in Europe as an exterior finish for stoves.

Comerice Office Has 8 Reference Building Books

With officials of more than 300 American cities now at work revising building codes in order to speed the national housing program and prevent the erection of dangerous firetrap "emergency" buildings, the American Iron and Steel Institute has produced a series of eight reference bulletins covering technical phases of building regulation.

A complete set of the bulletins are available at the Kingston Chamber of Commerce for study by public officials, builders and others.

Under the general title "Building Code Modernization," the bulletins are being sent to code authorities in this and other cities. They are based on a long-term study of building practices throughout the United States, started in 1938 and carried out by the Institute's Committee on Building Codes of which R. E. Zimmerman is chairman and B. L. Wood consulting engineer.

The bulletins include facts related to the purpose and legal limitations of building codes, contents and arrangement, building classification, fire hazards, fire protection and exit regulations, structural standards, in form suitable for code use, covering hot-rolled steel shapes, modern light steel constructions, steel piles and metal veneers—all based on the latest recognized standards and on sound, conservative, engineering practice.

"The primary reason for modernization," the Institute's new booklet containing the bulletin says, "is the need for placing regulatory requirements on a more scientific basis and making proper provision for the new building materials, methods and techniques developed in recent years.

"In the light of recent developments and the progress made, many of the older descriptive code regulations, which have served their purpose well in the past, have now become outmoded. When applied to modern materials and construction, they acquire a restrictive meaning not contemplated when they were originally written. More national and scientific regulations have since been developed."

Apples Keep Anchor Aweigh
Honolulu (P.)—When the Liberty ship Johnny Appleseed put into port the first food taken aboard was apples. Capt. Frank V. Kerley explained: "We ate so many dehydrated vegetables, fruits and canned ham during the seven months since we left the mainland that those fresh apples looked mighty good to us."

Waffle Iron Test
To test the waffle iron use a piece of paper. If the iron is just hot enough the paper will brown in about half a minute. If it takes longer to brown the iron is too cool.

It has an area less than that of Mexico.

Roosevelt Papers Are Now Available for Use

Portions of the personal papers of the late President Roosevelt have been made available to qualified users by the opening of the search room in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park, N. Y., Dr. Solon J. Buck, archivist of the United States, who administers the Library, announced today.

Selected manuscript and museum items have been on display at the library for the last five years, but neither the president's papers nor the other collections in the library have heretofore been open to students, writers, and other researchers.

Sections of President Roosevelt's White House central files for the years 1933-41 are now available. They include correspondence, reports, and memoranda of the administration of federal agencies; on such public issues as social security legislation; and on constitutional questions, Pan-American affairs, Government reorganization, business, money, and national disasters—in fact on almost everything from football to the use of the President's name in advertising.

Vets Go Last When Jobs Are Abolished

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein ruled today that in instances when Civil Service positions are abolished, veterans are entitled to be suspended last and reinstated first in new jobs.

An opinion of veterans' reinstatement rights had been requested by the State Civil Service Department.

Goldstein said where a position was abolished after January 1, this year, veterans not only are entitled to be let go last but also shall be the first hired again from the preferred list upon which their names are entered.

He added this limitation, however:

"Since the constitution did not require retention of veterans over non-veterans, senior in service, prior to January 1, 1946, the right of veterans to preference in reinstatement from preferred lists applies only as between those whose names were placed on such lists after that date."

DEAD BERLIN

The usual American idea of Berlin, perhaps, as it stands today, is that it will be rebuilt as many other wrecked cities have been after former wars. But recent information indicates that it is far too much demolished for any possible salvaging. There are pleasant villages and homes not far from the ruined city, but Berlin itself is such a tremendous mass of twisted and shattered wreckage that, except for age, it suggests the ancient deserts of Arabia and other antique habitations of man abandoned thousands of years ago.

This is what modern war does to cities recently alive like our own, and blest with all the activities in which civilized men have engaged since the beginning of human history and its manifold creations. And to a meditating American, even though far removed by a merciful Providence from such fate, here is what might happen to us Americans in our own land, if the deadly struggles of our recent modern warfare should be renewed, with the grim "improvements" that a next war would bring.

When medals are being handed out to civilians who have done distinguished war work, it might be well to remember the builders of cars, trucks and busses whose sound workmanship has helped to keep American transportation going.

DUTCH TRAITOR

The air is purer now in the Netherlands. Anton Mussert, Hitler's Dutch advance agent and leading Nazi, has been executed as a traitor.

As far back as 1931 Mussert founded a Dutch National Socialist party, with principles similar to those of the German Nazis. Like them he had storm-troopers, and he used to ride through the streets, using a riding-whip on pedestrians whom he disliked. At first he was not anti-Semitic; this stage came later. His movement was financed by his wife, who was also his aunt. His shortness (he was only 4 feet 10) did not equip him to be a striking figure, and his personality was repellent.

Under the Nazis he was the ruler of the Netherlands, not because Hitler had confidence in him but because there was almost no one else. While the Dutch escaped the worst torments that accompanied Nazism, they had no bed of roses, and were implacably resolved that when they regained freedom, Mussert should pay.

"They all look good when they're far away," according to a bit of old-fashioned slang. But as for new automobiles, the old timer was wrong. To most people they look best when they're new models, just out of the shop.

THE HOOVER REPORT

Herbert Hoover, reporting to the President, says it is too early to plan definitely for a return to rationing. He reports that the food deficit, as studied in 22 shortage countries, is less than previously estimated, and there is a better chance of filling the minimum needs between now and September 30. At that time their own production will begin to take hold, and while there will be need for another year or two, by autumn the worst will be over.

Further vigorous measures are needed to conserve wheat and fats in surplus countries, he says, and more energetic cooperation between nations, including Russia and the countries of Central and South America.

Full help with voluntary rationing is needed, especially now.

The British have a brilliant idea; they're going to quit Egypt and let Pharaoh do the worrying.

HANDBOOK FOR COMMITTEES

If you get excited about something, organize a Committee. There are millions of them all over the country.

The first job is to get a Front. A Front is a person who is willing to lend his name to a Cause. He need not know what it is all about. Although he is expected to make speeches, there need be no fear over that as any first class Front is willing to read a speech written by a Ghost. In fact, no Front ever writes his own speeches. That would be sticking his neck out—which a Front never does. It is easy to raise money for any Cause. The easiest way is to put an advertisement in the newspapers with a coupon in the right-hand corner. Psychologists have never been able to explain why the coupon in the right-hand corner intrigues so many folks to cut the coupon out, attach money to it and mail it to the Committees. Some Committees exist almost entirely on money raised that way.

Larger sums come from Income-Tax Deductors. It is extremely helpful to give away a maximum of 15 per cent to charitable, educational or other worthy causes. Some deductors are so keen on deductions that they give to anything, up to 15 per cent, even when the cause is against them. That brings in lots of money to Committees. If they know how to go about it. If no one on the Committee knows how to do this, they can hire—retain in the word—professionals who have lists, organization, techniques and experience and know-how. They charge adequately for this service, but enough remains for the Committee.

To be very successful, a Committee must be against something. Committees that are for something do not do so well. It used to be good business to be against Hitler. Now that he is dead, it is still good business to be against Hitler's ghost. It is also good business to be against Bilbo and Rankin, the N.A.M., Congress generally, the Republican party, Jews, negroes or those who dislike Jews and negroes. It is becoming better business to be against Stalin now, so those who were for unity will now turn on themselves. That does not hurt if the twist is well timed.

It was once suggested that all the hired help of all these Committees organize a union to keep the pot boiling, because nothing would throw these people out of work so drastically as if Americans calmed down and stopped fighting each other. Nobody picked up the suggestion.

Publicity is the heart of the work. It does not matter whether the publicity is favorable or unfavorable. In fact, unfavorable publicity at the beginning is preferred because it starts a controversy and attracts attention. The best way to get quick results is to start a little persecution—noting serious, of course—just enough to make the front pages of newspapers and to have the radio commentators bleating their heads off.

Radio is essential. The best way to get radio results is to have one of the noisy radio boys—someone like "Butch" La Guardia—insult everybody pro and con. That is always an excellent starter.

Then the Committee must tie up with the Committees of kindred purposes, so that a Movement results. A Movement differs from a Committee in size and intensity. A Movement is particularly good when it ties up with something international or becomes associated with something that nobody believes is true, like O.P.A., but which must be supported because otherwise one is a self-smearing anti-liberal. That goes over big.

If the Movement appears to spend itself and it looks as though the Committee might die, all that is necessary is to get a new Cause. The Committee can remain the same. The Front remains the same. The hired help remains the same. The excitement is the same. The money rolls in the same way. The mass-meetings are the same.

Boy, Oh Boy! Some business! It is the only one that has been prosperous in recent years—truly prosperous before and after taxes. Because—and this is the pay-off—Committees pay no taxes. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HEADACHE

Some years ago a magazine article which was intended to be humorous and a dig at the medical profession told of the experience of the writer in consulting ten different physicians regarding a headache from which he "suffered." Each of the ten physicians gave him a prescription and no two were alike. To this writer a headache was just a headache and he thought therefore that all ten physicians should have prescribed the same medicine. There are well over 100 causes of headache.

It is estimated that headache is an outstanding symptom in 10 of every 100 patients consulting a physician and a moderate symptom in 5 to 10 per cent more. What this writer did not fully explain was how he described his headache, because as he had no ache or pain in his head he would have to draw on his imagination in describing it.

As we know, how much pain, how it comes on, whether it is sharp or dull, and other factors are known only to the patient as he is the only one that is "feeling" or experiencing the pain. As pain is a subjective (the subject alone feels it) symptom, its intensity must be estimated by the statements of the sufferer. A neurotic (nervous) patient will complain bitterly of pain from a cause which in one of dull sensibilities will only cause discomfort.

There is cutting pain, boring pain, shifting pain, cramp-like pain, acute and chronic pain.

Although, as mentioned above there are over 100 causes of headache listed a "general" list which serves as a guide is: 1. Anemia (thin blood) or loss of blood from any cause. 2. Nephritis, (inflammation of the kidneys). 3. Constitutional diseases—gout, rheumatism, 4. Poisons or wastes in the blood. 5. Fevers. 6. Inflammation of brain. 7. Growths. 8. Impure air. 9. Fatigue.

Pain from anemia—pressing pain over eyes, forehead, top of head. Pain from kidneys, throbbing, with dizziness, head noises. Pain from fatigue (neurasthenia) tight band around top of head. Pain from eyes—forehead and back of head coming on after use of eyes. From constipation, indigestion, pain is also in forehead and back of head. Pain at back of head often caused by disturbance of uterus.

My dear Editor:

I wish to extend to you the sincere thanks of those having charge of the Welcome Home Reception held recently in the Municipal Auditorium for members of the various bowling leagues in this city who served in the armed forces in World War 2. We feel the success of the affair was due largely to the news space in your paper which brought to the attention of the people of this community the object and purpose of the reception.

We also wish to thank the many friends of bowling who so ably assisted the committee in any way to make the affair an outstanding event in the bowling history of Kingston.

Very truly yours,
PETER KERESMAN,
Chairman, Bowlers Welcome Home Reception Committee.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Protection of Early Potatoes Pays

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

THE PROTECTION you apply above ground pays off in the size and quantity of tubers you'll harvest from underground.

This means that the foliage of potato plants must be kept healthy. And this means protecting the plants against both insects and disease.

Almost as quickly as the young plants appear above ground an alert enemy also puts in appearance. This is the yellow and black striped potato beetle, illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

These beetles feed upon the foliage and terminal growth of the potato plants, and in between times lay their eggs on the undersides of the leaves. In four to nine days the eggs hatch producing humpbacked larvae which immediately start gorging themselves on the leaves.

Both the adult beetles and the larvae can be controlled by thoroughly spraying or dusting the plants with a stomach poison such as calcium arsenate or lead arsenate.

Early blight will also take toll of your tubers unless you dust early. The brown patches on the leaves, illustrated, spread until the entire leaf and stem become infected. This blight checks root development and thus curtails the yield of tubers.

Blight can be prevented or cured by dusting with Bordeaux mixture. Start dusting when the plants reach a height of four inches and repeat every 10 to 14 days.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

I recall the years when a boy that I liked nothing better than watch either a circus or a fireman's parade, and that fact is emphasized by the announcement that at the convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association to be held in Kingston in July, the convention will close with the annual parade.

This will be the first parade of the fire companies in years in the city. The county firemen have not held a parade in connection with the annual convention since the war years, when all parades were omitted.

It is interesting to recall that the first parade of the county convention was held in Kingston. The convention this year is the 11th annual event, since the association was organized.

And speaking of fireman matters the Board of Fire Commissioners at its meeting held on August 9, 1928, elected Harry B. Walker president of the board to succeed Louis Kolts who had resigned from the board.

Mr. Kolts had been serving for 21 years as a fire commissioner of the city.

The fire board that day after electing President Walker adjourned to attend the farewell dinner tendered Mr. Kolts at the Golden Rule Inn.

Mr. Walker for years was actively identified with fireman affairs in the city, and is still actively interested. Earlier this year he retired from the retail drug business, but still maintains an office in his apartment over the drug store where he is carrying on a business of providing equipment to those who have received leg and other injuries.

It was on August 9, 1928, that Schuyler C. Schultz, senior member of the real estate and insurance firm of Schultz & Bogart on Fair street, bought the interest of Elva H. Bogart in the concern.

Mr. Schultz established the business in April, 1890, and nine years later in 1899, Mr. Bogart became a member of the firm.

The Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley died at Cornwallville on August 13, 1928, aged 52 years. He had been serving as pastor of St. James Methodist Church for six years. In 1928 he was suddenly taken ill and had gone to Cornwallville in an effort to recover his health.

During the six years he served the uptown church as its pastor he was very active in the religious life of Kingston.

Dr. Francis J. Malone, who had been practicing his profession in Poughkeepsie, decided to locate in Kingston, and in Kingston, and in August, 1928, he leased the offices of the late Dr. W. E. Little on St. James street.

Charles B. Van Demark died in Phoenixia.

Crawford R. Styles, widely known business man, died in his home on Franklin street.

May 16, 1938—Robert, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Courland Martin, of Saugerties, fatally injured when struck by a truck in that village.

Mrs. Jonah Marshall died in her home on Franklin street.

Miss Alice Rita Baker and Leonard Finch married.

Kingston High School defeated Middletown at baseball by a score of 9 to 1.

President Truman in Settling Merger Difficulty Proves 'Flexibility and Discernment'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 16—President Truman has exhibited flexibility and discernment in settling differences between the army and navy on the so-called merger plan. What has happened is that the President gains his original objective—which is "unification"—but at the same time erases the discord among the armed services which earlier plans for a single department of national defense would have entailed.

Mr. Truman has adhered to the principle which was "unification" or "integration" of the armed services and on this he has been on solid ground all along. Where the differences developed was on the method of gaining the objective and, as soon as the President saw the difficulties and potential dangers of a paper plan, he agreed to consider alternate programs which would achieve his main purpose.

What eventually will emerge out of the discussing is a plan for three cabinet secretaries, one of whom presumably will be the coordinating director of defense. There would be joint offices for certain tasks, such as intelligence and possibly in the field of purchases and contract making. But the armed services themselves would not be ruled by a single chief of staff as recently proposed. Instead the U. S. joint chiefs of staff would be the top-level organization which would issue orders to the armed services, as was the case during the war.

This plan insures the retention of those benefits and experience which the war developed. It involves the maintenance of the organization which not only functioned effectively with respect to our own armed services but worked out a system of cooperation with the military and naval air staffs of the other Allied countries. A going concern is permitted to go on developing without being upset by a new line of command or authority. The President's decision in this respect is to be heartily commended.

There remains, of course, the problem of solving the status of the air forces within the War Department. There can be no denying that the air forces have been progressive and alert and have knocked tradition into a cocked hat by their wonderful use of the new artillery of the air. Whether the time has come to make a separate armed service of the air forces is something on which opinions differ.

Certainly there are two separate and distinct types of aerial combat. One relates to the use of aircraft close to ground troops as a cover for their movements and as an offensive weapon against enemy communications close to the battle line. The other relates to the long-range strategic bombing in which the Army Air Forces feel there is a new dimension involved. This is concerned with the long-distance bombing of factories and industrial equipment as a means of crippling the enemy's capacity to carry on a war.

The strategic air operations should, of course, be tied in with all the other armed services, but its proponents contend it is as much a separate entity as the Navy or the Army. Some proponents want to go so far as to give the air forces a separate department, but the ground forces of the Army are not inclined to go all the way on this.

One thing has developed clearly, and that is the need for keeping the Naval Air Forces tied in with the Navy because air operations over the seas must be necessarily controlled by ship commanders in a given area even though the planes may be based on islands as well as aircraft carriers.

There is a growing trend toward agreement between the armed services and this is a healthy thing, because the men who want to see the United States kept in a state of preparedness have the impression that the wartime organization was effective and hence favor continuance, whereas experiments that produce discord and impair harmony would merely mean prolonged controversy at a time when unification of the armed services is so essential.

Mr. Truman is making substantial progress in harmonizing the views of the armed services and if he can get agreement soon, as seems probable, it is likely Congress will pass the plan finally recommended by the White House. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

VOLUNTARY OR COMPULSORY—WHICH DO YOU PREFER?

If Americans cherish freedom as much as I think they do they will whip to a frazzle-edge the backers of bills to federalize medicine.

If Liberty means anything to us, it means the right to pay our money and take our choice of doctors when we are sick or have a sick child. And if Congress can be pressured to take away this right, then Congress can pick our wives for us. Being readied for action on the floor of the Senate are two bills which will surely take away that distinctly American right.

The Wagner-Murray Dingell Bill and the Pepper Bill, if enacted into law, will tax every employed and self-employed person, hire nearly all the doctors and nurses and take over, under a virtual dictatorship of one man in Washington, nearly all medical and hospital care. Employed persons will be compelled to pay four per cent of their income up to a maximum annual tax of $144. Self-employed persons will pay five per cent of their income, up to an income of $3600 yearly. The cost would be considerably more than that of American medicine today.

But the greatest cost would be in liberty and health.

Proof of the greatness of our system of private practice is everywhere. All nations look to us for the latest in hospital planning and facilities, for new miracles of medical science, for advanced methods in reducing human suffering and disease. In our country this is the golden age in medicine. The countries which have extensively socialized their medicine—Germany, England, Australia, New Zealand—are far behind us.

Among the fifty per cent of Germany's people under a compulsory government health program for sixty years, the average incidence of sickness was several times as great as in the United States in the years just preceding the war, while in the other fifty per cent of the population the average was almost exactly the same as in this country. Compulsory medicine did not reduce sickness. Quite the contrary. Doctors became negligent, lacking incentive. During the years when American medicine and private German medicine moved from miracle to miracle, the compulsory medicine of Germany went to pot.

The story is the same in England where nearly half the people have been forced into government health program for a third of a century.

Why our leftists—the C.I.O., P.A.C. and fellow travelers—can't see such figures beats me. They need not go outside our own country to find them. They might take a look inside the veterans' hospitals where, in spite of all the money that has poured into them, in twenty years or so doctors and nurses have lost their zip just as did their professional brothers and sisters in Germany. And for the same reasons: loss of incentive, loss of freedom to follow their own bent. Genius and initiative don't flourish under the whip. Men and women are no different from children when it comes to incentive; they've got to be interested in what they are doing or they won't play.

Left on his own the doctor has set for himself a standard of ethics so high I wonder that even the Murphys and Peppers and Billings and the editor of the P.M. have dared sling mud at him. He will drive himself day and night, through the worst kind of weather, to help his fellow man—pay or no pay. This tradition is so well known it sounds "rite." Yet so great is the zeal of certain political and labor leaders for socialism they have blinded themselves to the eternal truths about the American doctor and the miracles he has brought us.

We must preserve his freedom and our own as we encourage voluntary medicine—voluntary health insurance and voluntary assistance through the churches and community welfare groups—and we must extend aid to the needy through federal grants to the states. Let's get the job done the only way it can be done—The American way.

Members of the Plattekill Fire Department were visitors in Kerhonkson, Friday evening.

Raymond H. Shea, 3½, U.S. N.R., recently reported for duty on the state of the U.S. Navy, Naval Air Transport Service, Atlantic Wing, at Guam. Shea, who entered the Navy in 1944, served at Alameda, Cal., previous to his arrival in Guam.

Treated on Part-Time Basis

Moscow (P)—The Soviet government will double the number of its night sanatoriums to treat tubercular industrial workers while they remain on the job. By the beginning of 1946, such institutions were treating some 50,000 patients yearly in Moscow, Leningrad, Sverdlovsk and the Urals. Night sanatoriums were established first during the war to rest to workers in the first stages of tuberculosis.

Roosevelt Papers Are Now Available for Use

Portions of the personal papers of the late President Roosevelt have been made available to qualified users by the opening of the search room in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library at Hyde Park, N. Y. Dr. Solon J. Buck, archivist of the United States, who administers the Library, announced today.
Selected manuscript and museum items have been on display at the library for the last five years, but neither the president's papers nor the other collections in the library have heretofore been open to students, writers, and other researchers.
Sections of President Roosevelt's White House central files for the years 1933-41 are now available. They include correspondence, reports, and memoranda of the administration of federal agencies; on such public issues as social security legislation; and on constitutional questions, Pan-American affairs, Government reorganization, business, money, and national disasters—in fact on almost everything from football to the use of the President's name in advertising.

Vets Go Last When Jobs Are Abolished

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein ruled today that in instances when Civil Service positions are abolished, veterans are entitled to be suspended last and reinstated first in new jobs.
An opinion of veterans' reinstatement rights had been requested by the State Civil Service Department.
Goldstein said where a position was abolished after January 1, 1945, veterans not only are entitled to be let go last but also shall be the first hired again from the preferred list upon which their names are entered.
He added this limitation, however: "Since the constitution did not require retention of veterans over non-veterans, senior in service, prior to January 1, 1946, the right of veterans to preference in reinstatement from preferred lists whose names were placed on such lists after that date."

'Disease Detectives'

To Do Job for Army

Washington, May 15 (AP)—The War Department announced today it will send a score of "disease detectives" to ferret out causes of illness among Army men in Korea, Japan, Germany and the United States.

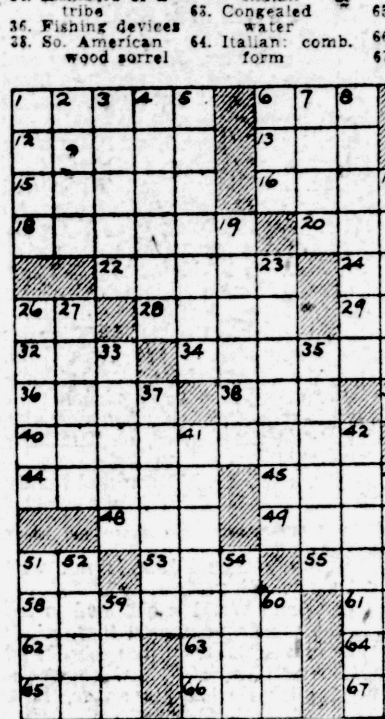

The "detectives" will be medical officers who have just completed 32-week courses in preventive medicine at Harvard and Johns Hopkins universities.

They will concentrate, the announcement said, on stamping out "venereal-breeding dens" and will serve too as "courts of inquiry in eliminating foci of disease."

will average about 3300 compared with 3350 in 1945 and with 3250 in the 1935-39 period.

Government limitations on supplies of flour and other consumer wheat products will have no significant effect, the bureau said, upon per capita nutritive supplies for the year as a whole.

U.N.R.R.A. Director LaGuardia, however, came forward with suggestions yesterday on how he thought those limitations could be made more effective for famine relief purposes.

At a news conference he recommended farmers be "required" to market their grain, and not feed it to livestock. He also proposed still darker bread and a moratorium on pastry for all Americans.

On the darker bread, LaGuardia's idea was that millers be compelled to extract 90 per cent of the wheat kernel in manufacturing flour, as against the 80 per cent now required, and the 72 per cent utilized before the food emergency became acute.

Germans Are Notified

BY DANIEL DE LUCE

Stuttgart, Germany, May 16 (AP)—Eighteen million Germans in the American occupation zone were officially notified today that their "hunger" food ration would be cut more than seven per cent to 1,180 calories daily May 7.

The German Council of Ministers-President, exercising its newly granted authority to make independent decisions, announced a 95-calorie reduction from the previous average scale of 1,275 calories in three states.

British military food administrators warned at London today that it would send 70,000 tons of barley and 80,000 tons of potatoes to the British zone in the next five weeks in an effort to reduce the threat of starvation. This would provide an average of 17½ pounds of grain and 20 pounds of potatoes for the 9,000,000.

The ration slash in the U. S. zone was made entirely from the bread allowance, which was cut one-third. The Germans will receive 22 pounds of bread weekly instead of 33 pounds.

More Workers Wanted
Some 20,000 Mexican agricultural laborers probably will be recruited for work in the United States this season, despite earlier advice that none would go north, Mexico City reports. United States interests were reported to have wanted 120,000 "braceros" but to have settled for the smaller number.

MODENA

Modena, May 15 — Plans are complete and tickets are being sold for the turkey supper and dance, honoring returned veterans from this locality, on Thursday evening, May 16, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. The affair is desired to be successful, being the final gesture of appreciation and esteem for the lads who were in the service of our country. The Modena-Ardonia Service Cheer Club is sponsoring the affair.

The Public Health Nursing Committee meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lillian Courter was attended by Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. Arthur Schonberg, Mrs. Burton Ward, and the public health nurse, Miss Wilma Petroff. The committee is sponsoring the attendance of the dental hygienist at Memorial Hall on Wednesday, May 22. This will be an all-day session, the regular clinic and child health consultation being conducted in the afternoon. Dr. Peter F. Lordi of Highland, physician in charge.

Officers of the Democratic Club of the Town of Plattekill were named at a meeting held Thursday evening in Memorial Hall. David Dawes was appointed president; Howard Simpson was re-appointed vice-president, and Mrs. Lillian Courter, secretary and treasurer. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lagatutta, Mrs. David Dawes, Ruth Dawes, Nathaniel Dawes, Louis Venuti, Wilfred Berube. Next meeting Friday evening, June 14.

The Misses Mary, Anna, Ruth and Ellen Morris and their brother from Newark, N. J., visited relatives here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis attended the Haver-Crowell wedding held May 12 at Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock; also the reception which followed at the Crowell home in Kingston.

The Modena Fire Department was called out twice Sunday morning, the first at 3:15 when the house of Isaac Conklin in Clintondale was almost destroyed by fire. Highland and Clintondale companies were also on the scene. The second call came from Ardonia section, where a chimney fire at Dederick Ronk's home was becoming dangerous.

Gerald DeWitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeWitt, has enlisted in the U. S. Army, and left town for the induction center at Fort Dix, N. J. Tuesday. Harold Wager was in Albany Tuesday.

Additional veterans returning home from war service are Donald and Martin Decker, Myron Coy, Emil Rode and Michael Kalamucki. Byron Paltridge of the U. S. Navy is now stationed in Galveston, Texas. He expects an extended furlough in August.

Lester A. Wager, Jr. spent the past week-end with his aunt, Mrs. Elmore Smith and family in Kingston.

Theodore Ross has been called as a trial juror at the present term of court at the Kingston court house.

Mrs. Margaret Carroll and Miss Mary Carroll entertained at a family dinner on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Duser and family of Sylva; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Carroll and daughters, of Highland; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Carroll of Kingston.

Members of Sullivan-Shafer Post, American Legion, New Paltz, sponsored a dance Friday evening in Memorial Hall.

Eber H. Smith, R. N., has been appointed as supervisor at the Hudson River State Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The sum of $41 was cleared at the cafeteria supper served Thursday evening in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall by a committee of the W.S.C.S. of the Modena Methodist Church.

Lingerie
STAYS BRIGHTER AND FRESHER!
NO SOAP-FADING!

Dreft is milder to colors than any soap in the world! Colors stay bright and fresh far longer when washed with Dreft. There's no film to cause soap-fading. Your pretty slips, blouses, "undies" wash brighter and fresher than with any soap!

Dishes Shine Without Wiping!

It's a Fact! No soap in the world performs the miracles Dreft performs in your dishpan. It makes dishes shine — without wiping! Even glasses sparkle — without rubbing or polishing!

No Streaks! You'll be delighted the way Dreft's amazing suds rinse clean and clear! No matter how hard the water, Dreft leaves no greasy streaks or cloudiness on dishes the way all soaps do. And Dreft is kind to hands! Try it for tonight's dishes!

dreft Works Wonders
No Soap in the World
Can Match!

• No Soap-Fading! Now you can wash stockings, lingerie, woollens — knowing that with Dreft there's no cloudy film to cause soap-fading!

• Dishes Shine — Even Without Wiping! With Dreft no dish towel is needed for wiping or polishing. Dishes and glasses fairly sparkle.

• Instant Suds — More Suds! In cool water, in hardest water — Dreft suds billow up instantly. And Dreft suds last so long!

• Clear, Clean-Rinsing Suds! First suds in history to leave no streaks or cloudiness on dishes — no dulling film on silks, nylons, woollens.

Stockings
WEAR LONGER! LOOK LOVELIER
THAN WITH ANY SOAP!

You'll be delighted at Dreft's gentleness to stockings! Dreft suds leave no soapy film to heavy-up hose and cloud their beauty. Colors stay fresh far longer than with any soap. What's more — nightly Dreft-washing prolongs stocking life — gives noticeably longer wear!

Ferry Service From Rhinecliff to Kingston Is 190 Years Old

Route Between East, West Banks of Hudson Is Ancient

Back in 1752 Jacob and Abraham Kip Carried Cattle Dealers and Others; George 2nd Gave Original Grant

Regular ferry service across the Hudson river, between Kingston and Rhinecliff, was resumed today, with a fast, modern boat and equipment, under direction of the Bridge Authority of the State of New York.

The populace on both the Ulster and Dutchess shores of the river turned out en masse to celebrate fittingly the auspicious occasion.

It was in a real sense a historic event, marking, as it did, the revival of an activity that up to about three and a half years ago had continued practically without interruption to furnish a vital service to the people of the two counties for 190 years.

An Ancient Ferry Route

That alone would seem to justify the claim that this ferry service, between Kingston and Rhinecliff, is one of the most ancient in the United States.

The record is much better than that, however, for besides these years during which the ferry operated as a government-authorized service, it is known that ferrying of a sort was carried on by boat owners on both sides of the Hudson for many preceding years. There is good evidence that "for about 50 years" previous to the granting of a royal charter for a ferry, in 1752, Jacob Kip of Dutchess county and his son, Abraham Kip, "had been used and accustomed to carry in their boats, travelers and their horses, cattle and goods, to and from the landings on the east and west sides of the river, across the same river."

Thus it will be seen that there is a record of at least 240 years of ferrying service over the Kingston-Rhinecliff route, which takes us back to the year 1702. Presumably sloops and boats of various kinds and descriptions crossed the river before that time.

However, one wonders if there had been too much reason to cross the river east from Kingston a great many years before 1700. In point is the statement in the petition upon which a ferry charter was granted in 1752, that Jacob Kip, father of one of the petitioners, had been "one of the first settlers of Dutchess county about 70 years ago." That would indicate settlement there about 1682—a quarter of a century or more after Wiltwyck, or Kingston, was settled.

Discontinued in 1942

It was on December 17, 1942, that the ferryboat "Kingston," then on the route, made her last trip and ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff was discontinued. The "Kingston" was sold about a year later and was taken to Harris county, Texas. At last reports it still was in service there.

Original Grant from George 2nd

Through the courtesy of Edward Coykendall, so long prominently identified with the ferry company, as well as with the Hudson river shipping and boating interests generally, the writer has been permitted to consult a certified copy of the original royal ferry grant, dated August 5, 1752.

The copy of the original record was verified at Albany April 12, 1883, by Amos J. Wood, deputy secretary of state. The cover bears the notation, "The grant was made by the royal charter, and was in the late fire and badly injured. April 13, 1883."

The copy covers 14 foolscap pages of handwriting and the opening statement follows: "George the Second, by the Grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, and so forth. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting. Whereas our loving subjects, Abraham Kip of Dutchess county, Kingston, and Moses Cantyne of Ulster county, in the county of Ulster, yeoman, by their humble petition presented on the third day of July last past to our trusty and well beloved George Clinton, Esq., our Captain General and Governor-in-Chief of our Province of New York and Territories thereon depending in America, Vice Admiral of the same and Admiral of the White Squadron of our Fleet, in Council have set forth:

Allegations in the Petition
Then follows the matters set forth in the petition, the main items being, in effect:

That Jacob Kip, father of the petitioner Abraham Kip, was "one of the first settlers of Dutchess county about 70 years ago," that he was the owner of a tract of land, "adjoining upon Hudson's river," such land now being in the possession of Abraham Kip.

That "the petitioner Moses Cantyne is the owner and possessor of lands adjoining upon Hudson's River, opposite the landing of Abraham Kip."

That Jacob Kip had built a wharf and that a public highway had been laid out and used above "30 years," also that a highway to the westward from the landing of Moses Cantyne "had been used between the town of Kingston and Hudson's River for a long time."

same thing "for more than ten years last past." This had been done with great inconvenience and disadvantage, it was claimed, for want of the rights and privileges of an established ferry.

No Other Ferry Within 10 Miles

It was alleged that no other person had been used to keep any ferry across the river within about 10 miles north or south of the petitioners' landings; that there was no established ferry across the river northward nearer than 60 miles, nor southward nearer than Newburgh, about 40 miles.

The petitioners stated that they had applied to the trustees of Kingston and had visited every inhabitant living on either side of the river within two miles of their landings. All it was stated had approved their design to petition the governor for right to operate a ferry—provided the people were hindered from transporting themselves and their own goods across the river in their own canoes.

Presented to Governor Clinton

The petition had been presented to Governor Clinton, along with a table of fees to be charged. The governor submitted the petition to his council, which gave its approval. Thereupon Governor Clinton under date of July 21 directed the attorney general of the Province of New York to prepare a draft of Letters Patent to Abraham Kip and Moses Cantyne, their heirs and assigns, with the table of ferriage fees as approved by the council, and under an annual Quit Rent of five shillings.

George II Approves

Fees To Be Charged

The table of fees to be charged, as approved, were:
Single man and horse, two shillings and six pence; if three or more together, for each man and horse two shillings.

For a single person, one shilling.

For each footman, if three or more together, nine pence.

For a single horse or beast, one shilling and six pence; if three or more together, for each one shilling and three pence.

For every calf or hog, six pence.

For every sheep or lamb, four pence.

Other rates included pail of butter, two pence; firkin or tub of butter, four pence; bushel of salt or grain, one penny; for every hundredweight of iron, lead, etc., nine pence; for every chaise, kitteren or sleigh, four shillings; for every wagon or cart, loaded, six shillings—and so in proportion for all things for which no provision is hereby made, according to their bulk and weight.

Grant Was Forever

The Grant was to Kip and Cantyne, their heirs and assigns, forever, as tenants in common—"To be holden of us, our heirs and successors, in free and common socage, as of our Manor of East Greenwich, in the county of Kent, in that part of our Kingdom of Great Britain called England."

In return for the privileges granted the grantees were to pay, "yearly and every year forever," at the custom house in New York, "on the fifth day of March, commonly called Lady Day," the yearly rent of five shillings.

Some Rights and Obligations

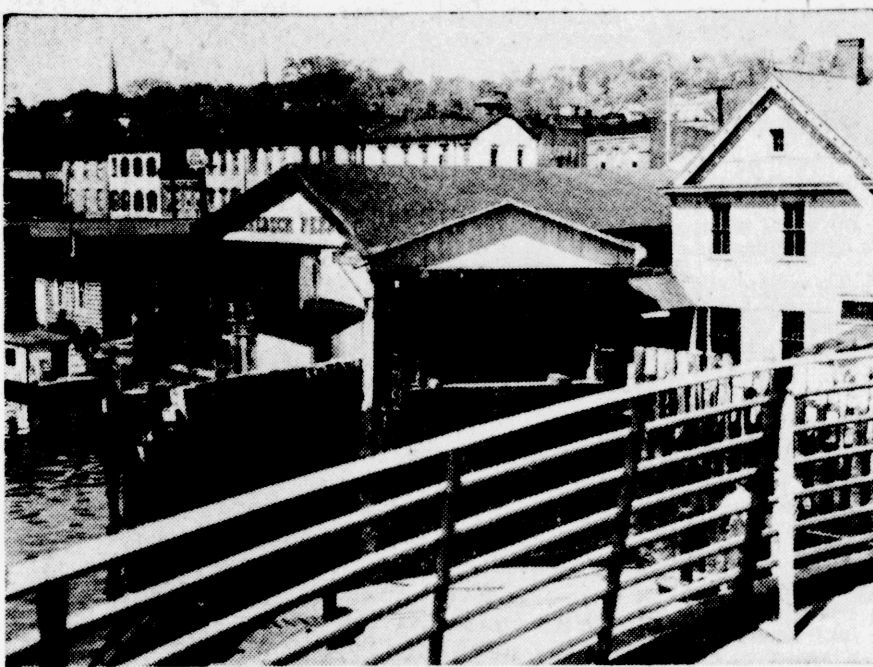

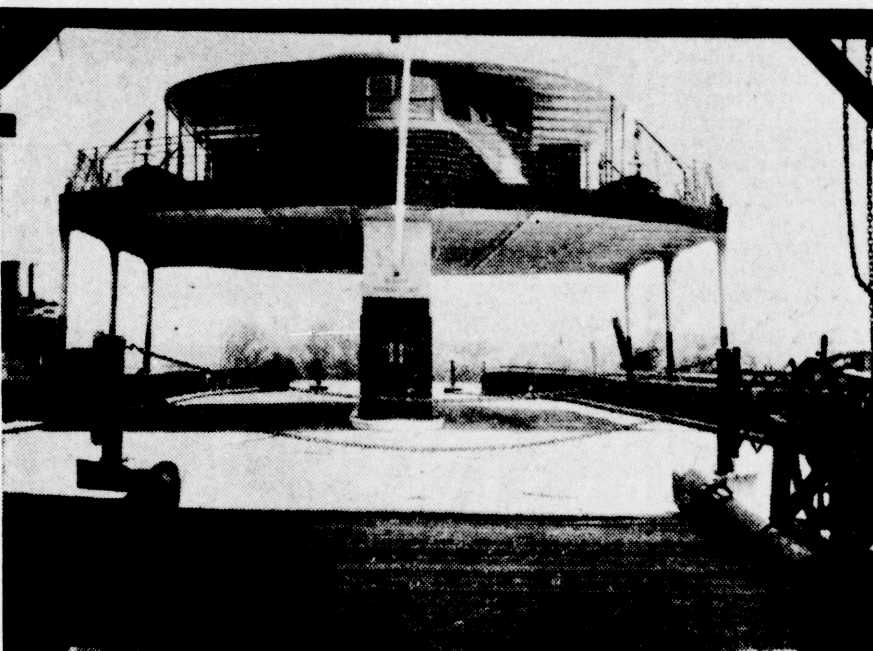

The grant stipulated that two boats should be maintained, one on the east side and one on the west side of the river; that service should be such as to give no unreasonable delay to travelers, and that no fees other than those specified should be collected. It was provided that the operators of the ferry should not be obligated to transport persons or goods from the first day of November to the first day of March, yearly, without double fees, and then, "only during that part of the year when such boats can pass the river without apparent danger from the ice." Further, they were not obligated to transport persons "after eight o'clock of the night from the first day of March to the first day of November, yearly, without double fees."

The Letters Patent were dated: "At our Fort in our city of New York, the fifth day of August, in the twenty-sixth year of our Reign and in the year of our Lord Christ one thousand seven hundred fifty-two."

The story of river transportation between Kingston and the east

the entrance and terminal at the Rhinecliff side. Tomorrow the ferry will begin its regular schedule of 14 round trips from 9 a. m. to 6:55 p. m. daily. Automobiles, including passengers, will be charged 50 cents. Pedestrians' fare will be 15 cents.

bank of the Hudson is one that has received little if any attention from Kingston and Ulster county historians, so far as the writer has been able to discover. He finds no available date as to how long Messrs. Kip and Cantyne—"their heirs and assigns forever"—continued to operate.

Royal charters became a bit passe following the Revolution, but the old ferry service was continued and in March, 1827, the State Legislature passed a special Act under which James Elmendorf and Peter W. Radcliffe were given legal authority to operate a ferryboat between Kingston and the east shore of the Hudson. Elmendorf and Radcliffe, evidently proprietors of a ferry then in service, were authorized to operate a boat propelled either by steam or horsepower.

Ferry Company Incorporated

April 9, 1853, nearly one hundred years after the first grant for a ferry, the Legislature enacted a general law covering ferries. In May of that same year the Kingston-Rhinebeck Ferry Co., was incorporated. The incorporators were Charles H. Russell, William H. Russell, Thomas Cornell, Charles E. Butler and Robert S. Hone.

Eventually the time limit of this charter expired and in 1919 the company was reincorporated and operated the ferry until service was finally discontinued in December, 1942. This information is from Attorney Harry H. Fleming, who for many years represented the company in its legal affairs and who handled the long negotiations that resulted in the sale of the Company's properties to New York State this spring, for the use of the State Bridge Authority, which will operate the ferry.

Early Ferryboats

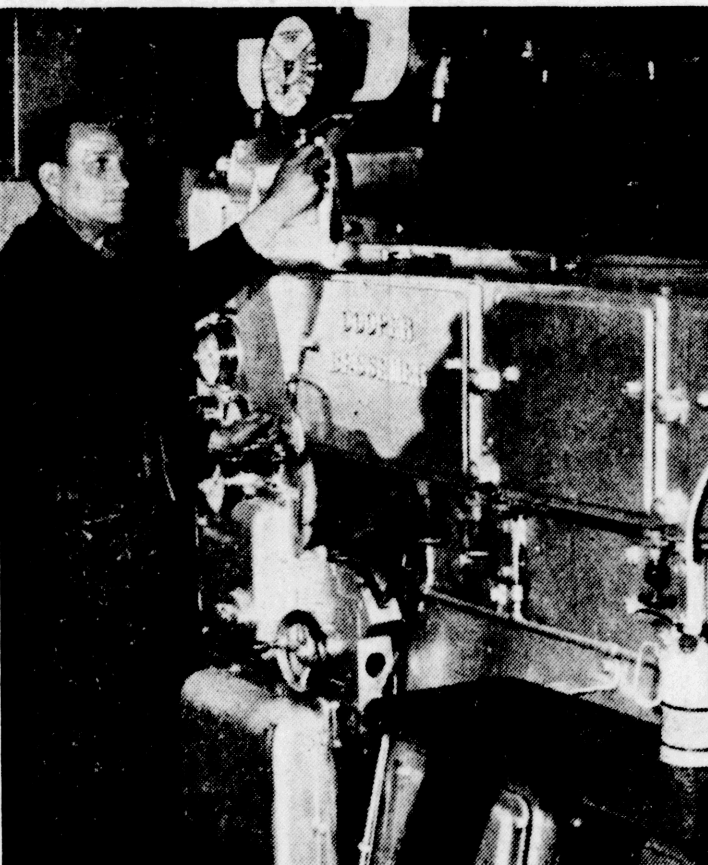

As to the early ferryboats, when horsepower succeeded oars and sails, and when steampower made horsepower obsolete, there is little information available. The late Judge A. T. Clearwater at one time wrote that his grandfather had frequently spoken of crossing the river on the "first" ferryboat. According to the Judge's story the boat was called the "Periauger," was constructed of two large, hollow butternut logs, on to which planks were bolted. It was said to have carried a mast and sail, also a bank of oars.

Just what time this contraption saw service does not appear, but undoubtedly it was considered a "modern convenience" in its day.

The sidewheel ferry boat, with power supplied by horses operating a treadmill, was the next advance. Then came the days of steam propulsion, but there is no record as to just when.

The late George W. Murdock, whose hobby for years was the collecting of information about Hudson river boats and boating, believed that the "Knickerbocker" was the first steam ferryboat on the Kingston-Rhinebeck route.

The earliest mention Mr. Murdock had found was in the story of an accident in which one Peter Kieffer, engineer on the "Knickerbocker," was severely scalded

KINGSTON FERRY COMMITTEE

Later Boats

Mr. Murdock's records indicated the following steam ferryboats succeeded the "Knickerbocker" on the Kingston-Rhinebeck run: The "Rhine," built in 1852, to replace the "Knickerbocker."

The "Lark," which was put into the service in 1860. It ran until September, 1881, when it was sold by the battles it had fought against wind, weather and ice made its last run.

The last boat before service finally was discontinued was the "Kingston." Built in 1877 and known originally as the "Columbia," it ran on the Delaware river for some time. In 1927 the boat was rebuilt, more powerful engines installed and as the "New Rochelle" was put into service on Long Island Sound. The Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Co. purchased the boat in 1930, renamed her the "Kingston," and she made her first regular trip here May 10, 1930.

For several summers, when demands of traffic were high, both the "Transport" and the "Kingston" were placed in service on the route. After the "Transport" was retired the "Kingston" did duty alone until the ferry was discontinued in December, 1942. Next year the boat was sold to Texas interests.

Early Terminus

In earlier years the western terminus of the ferry was at Columbia Point (Kingston Point). In the late fifties, a new ship was built on the Rondout creek, with a ferry house on Ferry street. Thereafter, except during one year, when the experiment was made of using Poughkeepsie as a terminus, the terminus at Rondout has continued in use.

It is this Rondout ferry property that was transferred to the State of New York in April of this year, along with the ferry properties of the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Co. at Rhinecliff. The transfers were made by the Cornell Steamboat Co., which earlier in the month had acquired title to them from the Ferry Company.

The properties were taken over by the State for the use of the New York State Bridge Authority, which will operate the ferry.

The Latest and Best

The latest in the succession of boats that have followed the crude "Periauger" of ancient days, and whose official appearance was celebrated today with "pomp and ceremony," has been named the "George Clinton."

It is of steel construction throughout and of modern design, acclaimed as far superior to any of its predecessors. In fact, Captain Christopher Tierney told a Freeman reporter, when asked how the George Clinton compared with former boats on the run, "It is by far the finest ferry boat that ever has been on the route—or, on the Hudson river."

The George Clinton is a comparative youngster, having been built in Burlington, Vt., in 1937. The New York State Bridge Authority purchased the boat this spring from the Electric Ferry Co. of New York, for a price said to have been about $175,000. Originally named the "Richmond," it had been in the neighborhood of New York on routes of the Electric Ferry Co. More lately, it is understood, it ran between 125th street, New York and Edgewater, N. J.

Captain Tierney and Engineer Howard Hornbeck brought the boat to Kingston on March 23, making the 103 miles from the New York Custom House to the Rondout creek in about seven hours, against head winds.

It was tied up at the Hillebrand dock and later overhauled and given a complete new dress of paint. The body color is dark green, with trim of Indian red and ivory.

The Coast Guard gave the boat its final inspection the first part of this month. Since then officers and crew have been making trial runs and getting everything shipshape for the grand opening today.

Boat 153 Feet Long

The George Clinton has an overall length of 153 feet, eight inches, with a 39-foot beam and an overall width on the main deck of 44 feet. It measures 10 feet in depth from the main deck to the bottom of the keel. Without load the boat has a draft of about six feet, six inches. Gross tonnage is 373 tons, or 189 tons net.

It is a twin screw boat, powered by a Cooper-Bessner eight-cylinder Diesel engine of 450 H. P. Speed is about 12 knots per hour. Its tanks, when full, carry 6,500 gallons of fuel oil for the engine. The steering gear can be operated either by power or manually.

The boat is licensed to carry 305 passengers. Captain Tierney said that there are seats for about 105 in the enclosed cabin on the upper deck and others ranged about the cabin on the outside.

The George Clinton is a radically different design and construction from the old, traditional ferryboat. The main deck is open and clear, except for the "island" through the center which supports the superstructure and through which two stairways lead to the cabin and upper deck. Thirty-two or more cars can be accommodated in the four lanes of the main deck.

The superstructure, with cabin and pilot houses, measures 60 feet in length, the upper deck extending the full width of the boat.

Church Committees Are Named for Blind Sale

The Kingston sale for the blind will open at the L. B. Watrous electric store, 9 Main street, on Tuesday, May 21, with committees representing St. Joseph's Catholic and Trinity and St. James Methodist Churches in charge. The sale will continue through May 27.

Many useful household articles, including rugs, hearth brooms, potholders, linen towels, leather goods, etc., will be offered for sale. The price of each article is made up of the cost of materials, plus the wage paid the blind worker. Only the blind benefit from these sales.

The schedule of church committees, together with their chairmen and times of service, is as follows: St. Joseph's Catholic, Miss Margaret Martin, chairman; with a committee of ladies from that church, 9-12.

Trinity Methodist, Mrs. Lester Finley, chairman; Mesdames S. Eighmey, M. Burger, E. Hale, H. Eldridge, D. Schoonmaker, A. Tongue, H. Willmot, George Long, F. Thompson, W. Gregory, and Miss Mary Hale, 12-3.

St. James Methodist, Mrs. T. L. Culver, chairman; Mesdames William E. Finch, Alfred Schmid, Chris Longyear, James A. Guttridge, and Miss Mary Treadwell, 3-5.

Scout Camporee Will Be Held at Katsbaan Locale

The big general Camporee of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, will be held this year at Trunk's, near Katsbaan. The date has been set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 31-June 2.

This is one of the outstanding events of the Boy Scout year and recent annual gatherings in Forest Park, Kingston, have attracted some 500 Scouts and Scouters.

Complete regulations governing the meet were recently adopted by representatives of the various districts of the Council. Some important ones are: Adult leadership positively required for overnight. The Scoutmaster to be in complete charge of his Troop Camp. Official Scout uniform to be worn if possible. No pop, or any bottled drinks to be brought to the Camporee grounds. No ball playing. No bugles, as it is necessary to maintain respect for general calls. Use of axes will be restricted.

Keep Pets Home

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The State Conservation Department asked the public today to protect wildlife during the coming breeding season by keeping pet dogs and cats out of the field. Prowling dogs and cats, the department said, cause as much damage among rabbits, pheasants, grouse and other ground-nesting wildlife as all other predators combined.

General Smith Retires From Marine Command

Camp Pendleton, Calif., May 16 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith—the Devil Dogs he led from the bloody beach at Tarawa to Iwo Jima called him "Howling Mad"—has bid farewell to his beloved Marine Corps.

In his retirement address here yesterday, the colorful general spoke in the same "rock 'em and sock 'em" language he used to inspire his Leathernecks in their surge across the Central Pacific to the doorstep of the Japanese homelands.

As long as there is a United States of America, there'll be the Marine Corps, he declared in turning over his last command—the Marine training and replacement command, San Diego area—to Lt. Gen. Harry Schmidt.

"Marines are the best fighting men in the world," he asserted. "There does not walk on the face of the earth a better soldier than a U. S. Marine."

The retiring general, who was top Marine general throughout most of the heaviest fighting in the Central Pacific, in leaving the corps said:

Camps Open May 27

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—New York state's 29 public camp sites will open May 27 and a record season is expected. About 2,000,000 campers can be accommodated at the state's 25 Adirondack and four Catskill sites, Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday. Additional facilities will be constructed for another 1,500,000 campers, he added.

U. S. Merchant seamen receive nearly three times the pay of the average of 15 other leading maritime nations.

The Kingston Hebrew School announces that Sunday morning in celebration of the holiday, "Lag B'Omer," all the children will have an all-day outing in the vicinity of Newburgh. All Jewish boys and girls of the neighboring cities will participate.

A chartered bus will leave from the Kingston Hebrew School promptly at 10 a. m. All children should be at the Hebrew School at 9:30, with their lunch. Any child who wishes to participate in this outing should contact either Rabbi Schechter, 2806 or S. Schwartzberg, 1041-M. All Jewish boys and girls are most cordially invited to participate, whether they are pupils of the Hebrew School or not. Members Agudas Achim Congregation are requested to bring "Yizkor" pledges to either Louis Ellenbogen, 64 Broadway, or Joseph Epstein, 48 Broadway.

Special Riding Equipment Is Shown at Uptown Store

In conjunction with a national tie-up with the Lee Company, the show window of Kaye Sportswear, 46 North Front street, is displaying an unusual arrangement of western and English style riding equipment.

These articles of wearing apparel are grouped around a large portrait of Donald Warren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Warren of this city who is employed at the store. Mr. Warren is shown mounted on a Urte which is considered Germany's greatest jumping horse. There also is a photo of Mr. Warren holding Betty, a famous German show horse. A feature of the display is a handmade combination jumping and riding saddle which was made especially for Mr. Warren in Munich, Germany.

Washington, May 15 (AP)—The War Department announced today it will send a score of "disease detectives" to ferret out causes of illness among Army men in Korea, Japan, Germany and the United States.

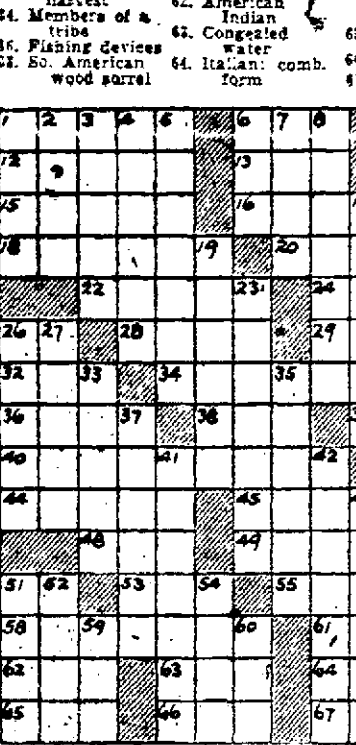

The "detectives" will be medical officers who have just completed 32-week courses in preventive medicine at Harvard and Johns Hopkins universities.

They will concentrate, the announcement said, on stamping out "venereal-breeding dens" and will serve too as "courts of inquiry in eliminating foci of disease."

Stamps

IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

John Sevier, pioneer settler, Indian fighter, congressman and first Governor of Tennessee, will make his first appearance on a United States postage stamp when the three-cent Tennessee statehood commemorative is issued at Nashville, Tenn., June 1.

Sevier's portrait will appear with that of Andrew Jackson and a picture of the Tennessee state capital on the stamp, paying tribute to the Volunteer State's 150th anniversary of statehood. The stamp will be the usual purple in color. Suggestions for the design are understood to have been made to the Post Office Department by the Tennessee Historical Commission.

Although Jackson occupies the more prominent place in American history, Sevier played an important role in the early development of the United States. Born in Rockingham county, Virginia, in 1745, he founded the village of New Market in the Shenandoah Valley and was active in the annexation of the Watauga district to North Carolina, serving as a member of the state convention and legislature of that state. In 1780 he was one of the leaders in the victory at King's Mountain over the British.

Sevier actually was governor of the Tennessee region before it became a state in 1796. In 1784, when North Carolina ceded the region to the federal government, settlers of the region set up a state they called "Franklin" and elected Sevier as governor. A conflict with North Carolina resulted and Sevier was arrested but rescued by his friends. He became a brigadier general in 1793 and in 1793 led a successful expedition against the Creek and Cherokee Indians. Elected Governor of Tennessee in 1796, he served until 1801 and again from 1803 to 1809. He returned to Congress in 1811 and was serving as a commissioner in locating boundaries of the Creek territory when he died in 1815.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send a maximum of 10 addressed envelopes, together with remittance for the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Nashville.

Stamps are helping to rebuild the little native church of St. Francis, Belmont, on Carriacou island in the Grenada group of the British West Indies. When a hurricane wrecked the little church in 1944, the pastor, the Rev. C. E. Pipe, began sending used United States commemorative stamps sent him by friends in this country to a Croydon, England, stamp dealer and in return has received $1,250, representing one-fourth of the amount needed to rebuild the church, thus far.

Argentina's post, tribute to the late President Roosevelt is a five-centavo slate gray portrait stamp, which bears the inscription: "Propulsor de la Buena Vecindad y Abandono de la Nueva Justicia Social" (Promoter of Good Neighborliness and Standard Bearer of a New Social Order). The stamp was issued April 12 on the first anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt's death.

Russia's latest stamp issue are three stamps marking the re-election of Generalissimo Stalin as head of the government. Two stamps, 30 and 60 kopeks, picture the Soviet coat of arms while the third features a picture of the Kremlin and a banner on which is apparently inscribed a reference to Stalin's re-election. The date "Feb. 2, 1946" on which the election was held is inscribed on the upper right of the stamp.

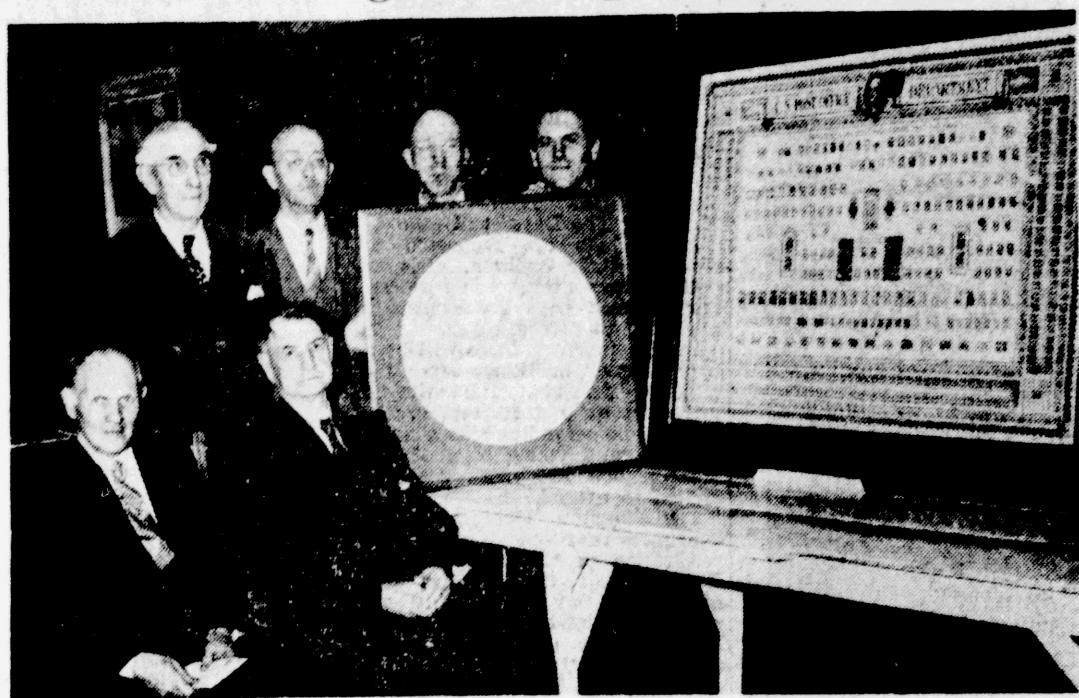

Turkey, according to the New York Times, issued three stamps picturing the U. S. battleship Missouri to mark the arrival of the big American battleship with the body of the former Turkish ambassador to the United States April 5. . . . El Salvador is reported preparing a set of stamps to be issued in September commemorating the 400th anniversary of the San Salvador city charter. . . . Arranged Stamp Exhibit

Many stamp collectors have visited the exhibit in the Y.M.C.A. held by Colonial City Stamp Club. It closes tonight. Members of the club who were in charge of arranging the feature: Standing left to right, C. Augustus Raschke, vice president; Charles A. Terwilliger, Byron V. Stevens and Lewis DeGraff, secretary. Sitting, Edwin Schultz, president, and Ernest J. Linson, treasurer. (Freeman Photo).

Stamp Club Holds Its 5th Annual Exhibit at Y.M.C.A.

The fifth annual exhibit of the Colonial City Stamp Club opened Tuesday evening in the Y.M.C.A. There are 75 frames of U. S. and foreign stamps, first day covers, revenues and commemorative stamps; also frames of stamp designs.

The stamps include the first issue of 1847 up to the present issue of the honorable discharge emblem. There is the first stamp issued in England in 1840, the One Penny Black on cover and a pair of the famous "Mulready Envelopes."

The following members are exhibitors: Edwin B. Schultz, C. Augustus Raschke, Byron V. Stevens, Lewis A. DeGraff, Ernest J. Linson, Miss Lydia M. Scott, Charles R. O'Connor and Charles A. Terwilliger. There are three junior exhibitors, Miss Diana Schultz, Thomas Fickus, Donald Bernard.

Blue, red and white ribbons were awarded. The U. S. Government frame of proofs including stamps from 1847 to 1893 was the highlight of the exhibit. It attracted much favorable comment. The show will continue until 10 o'clock to night in the Y.M.C.A. building. Admission is free.

ety expects to issue a new air mail catalog this fall which will reflect the present market and values, society president George D. Kingdom reports. . . . The Society will hold its 1946 convention in Detroit May 31, June 1 and 2. . . .

Judge Has Fistic Duel With Defendant

Gary, Ind., May 15 (AP)—Superior Judge Homer E. Sackett, 69, left his bench yesterday and grappled with and twice threw to the floor Virgil Underwood, 35 year old, 6 foot, 3 inch, 175 pound tavern owner of Black Oak, Ind. Bailiff Joseph Melzer said that Underwood, who was in court as a defendant in a divorce case, during a conference with his wife, her attorney, Richard S. Kaplan, and witness, had struck a woman witness, blacking her eye.

Judge Sackett grabbed Underwood, pulled him over a three-foot railing and threw him to the floor, after which, Melzer said, Kaplan came to his aid.

Underwood got up and swung at the judge, but Sackett who is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds seized him around the neck again and threw him to the floor. Deputy sheriffs ran in from the hallway and took charge of Underwood.

Judge Sackett returned to the bench and fined Underwood $200 and sentenced him to 90 days in jail for contempt of court.

Norway Is 'Doing Well'

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Lithgow Osborne, retiring ambassador to Norway, reports the Scandinavian country "is getting back on its feet faster than other liberated countries and is in better shape than any of them with the possible exception of Belgium." Osborne, retiring after 11 months as ambassador, said he will return to his newspaper, The Citizen-Advertiser, Auburn, N. Y.

Red Army Soldiers Being Demobilized

Moscow, May 15 (AP)—The vanguard of several million Red army men who will be demobilized between now and September have begun to arrive in Moscow and other large cities of the Soviet Union. Special food ration bureaus, clothing stations and employment agencies have been set up to take care of the new arrivals. Privates and non-commissioned officers in six age classes are being returned to civilian life under the demobilization decree, which was adopted last March 20. It was the third such demobilization ordered since the end of the war in Europe, affecting in all a total of 29 age groups.

Beer Going to Japan

Honolulu, May 16 (AP)—Ten million bottles of beer will be shipped to Japan for American occupation troops, Army headquarters at Fort Shafter has announced.

Redeployment

(By The Associated Press)
One vessel, carrying 604 service personnel, is scheduled to arrive today at New York while 2,316 more troops are due to debark from four transports at San Francisco.

In addition, one ship with 1,050 war brides and children, is expected at New York.

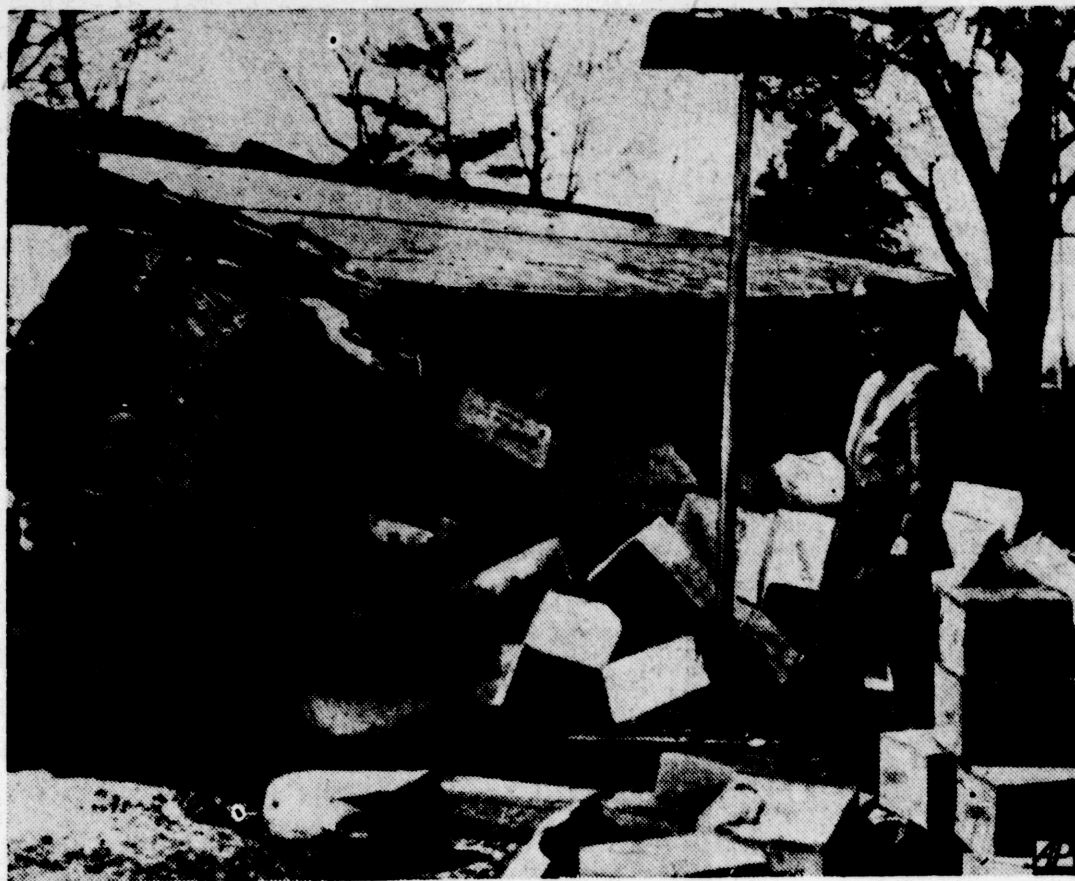

Ships and units arriving:
At New York
St. Albans Victory from Bremen, 604 miscellaneous troops, Washington from Southampton, 1,050 war brides and children.

At San Francisco
Miscellaneous personnel on following vessels: Arthur Middleton from Pearl Harbor, 846 navy, five marines; Oneida from Tokyo, 1,377 navy, 25 marines, seven army; Titania from Subic, 249 navy; Merapi from Taku, nine navy.

Seamen Detained

Pearl Harbor, May 16 (AP)—Four hundred forty-one seamen eligible for release from the Navy today had been "frozen" in their jobs for a maximum of 90 days. Capt. F. M. O'Leary, commandant of Aiea barracks and the Pearl Harbor receiving station said they "will be retained on the grounds of military necessity as no replacements can be provided." Their job: To help speed thousands of other men home.

SEVEN TONS OF THAT SWEET STUFF

Would Christianize China

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., May 16 (AP)—Since "only two of the world's four great powers are Christian x x x," it is the responsibility of the church to make China the third Christian power," says Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York, president of the United Lutheran Church of America. Such a task, he told the 199th convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states last night, will require 100,000 mission workers. He quoted Chiang Kai-Shek as saying the missionaries "are not only needed in China but would be warmly welcomed there."

Valentine Finished

Tokyo, May 16 (AP)—Lewis J. Valentine, former New York police commissioner, has completed his survey of the Japanese police system and will report shortly to General MacArthur, who requested his assistance. Valentine will return to the United States soon aboard the U.S.S. Tazewell.

Feared Lost

Tokyo, May 16 (AP)—Two occupants of a U. S. Fifth Air Force A-26 bomber were feared lost at sea yesterday when their plane was forced down in the ocean 50 miles north of the Ashiya airbase. However, headquarters said a smoke signal and dye marker had been reported from a search plane late yesterday, and that the search would be continued. Names were withheld.

Railroaders Idle

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad estimates 1,800 of its workers in the Albany district extending from Harmon to Syracuse are idle because of the soft coal strike. I. W. Martin, superintendent of the West Albany locomotive shop, said yesterday 1,600 workers had been laid off indefinitely and B. H. Dayton, assistant district superintendent, reported 200 brakemen and firemen were idle as a result.

will average about 3300 compared with 3350 in 1945 and with 3250 in the 1935-39 period.

Government limitations on supplies of flour and other consumer wheat products will have no significant effect, the bureau said, upon per capita nutritive supplies for the year as a whole.

U.N.R.R.A. Director LaGuardia, however, came forward with suggestions yesterday on how he thought those limitations could be made more effective for famine relief purposes.

At a news conference he recommended farmers be "required" to market their grain, and not feed it to livestock. He also proposed still darker bread and a moratorium on pastry for all Americans.

On the darker bread, LaGuardia's idea was that millers be compelled to extract 90 per cent of the wheat kernel in manufacturing flour, as against the 80 per cent now required, and the 72 per cent utilized before the food emergency became acute.

British military food administrators warned at Herd that 9,000,000 persons in the British occupation zone might be placed on starvation rations of 500 calories or less unless there were substantial grain imports in the next few weeks.

(However, the British government announced in London today that it would send 70,000 tons of barley and 80,000 tons of potatoes to the British zone in the next five weeks in an effort to reduce the threat of starvation. This would provide an average of 17½ pounds of grain and 20 pounds of potatoes for the 9,000,000.)

The ration slash in the U. S. zone was made entirely from the bread allowance, which was cut one-third. The Germans will receive 2.2 pounds of bread weekly instead of 3.3 pounds.

More Workers Wanted
Some 20,000 Mexican agricultural laborers probably will be recruited for work in the United States this season, despite earlier advice that none would go north, Mexico City reports. United States interests were reported to have wanted 120,000 "braceros" but to have settled for the smaller number.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

The Easy Way

Los Angeles, May 16 (AP)—Ira A. Gilmore, 39, and his wife Sybil, 27, have found a solution to the housing problem which has been plaguing them since last October. They both joined the army yesterday.

Gratitude

Seattle, May 16 (AP)—Bartender Omar C. Bjornlie is gambling nickels to test human gratitude. He deposits nickels in parking meters for overdue car owner with notes pointing out: "I deposited a nickel to protect you against a police fine. If you appreciate this favor please mail it to me."

So far, says Bjornlie sadly, only one response has come from six nickels. But that grateful soul sent a quarter.

Name, Please?

Denver, May 16 (AP)—First. Buckley Field flushed a private named Saint Peter working in the post chaplain's office. Now the public relations office has come up with: Pvt. Frank Sinatra and Pvt. Tommy Dorsey, who can not sing or play a trombone, respectively; Pvt. Harold Lloyd and Pvt. James Byrnes, basic trainees; Lou Boudreau, who is not on Buckley's baseball team, and Pvt. Lloyd Douglas, too busy to write books. And, in the hospital, a Sgt. Chronic.

Right Bait

Brainerd, Minn., May 16 (AP)—The opening of the fishing season found George Fisher, Brainerd newspaperman and fishing enthusiast, unable to find a rod and reel to complete his tackle. Then he inserted a "blind" classified advertisement in a newspaper. The first answer which brought him the equipment was a surprise. It was from S. G. Fitzpatrick, Fisher's roommate.

Political Ad

Hammond, Ind., May 16 (AP)—A resident of nearby East Chicago sent the following classified ad to a Hammond newspaper: "Attention, Democrats: If I don't get an apartment soon, I'll vote Republican, so help."

War Crimes Tribunal Studies Defense Demands

Tokyo, May 15 (AP)—The International War Crimes Tribunal, which is to try Ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and other high ranking Japanese for war crimes, adjourned indefinitely today to study the extensive demands of an American defense attorney for a bill of particulars.

Army Capt. Samuel J. Kleiman of New York city had asked in behalf of five of the defendants that the prosecution: Specify the times, places and manner in which the defendants conspired to wage aggressive war. Supply a list of all witnesses and persons questioned by the prosecution, also all statements, including those of the defendants, on which the 55-count indictment was based.

FLYING TIGERS' WASHDAY

Crowds gathered and the stately atmosphere of Colorado's statehouse district in Denver was disrupted when eight ex-Flying Tigers, now air circus pilots, did a washing and flew it out the front windows of the dignified Argonaut Hotel. (AP Wirephoto).

Port Ewen Legion Hears Reports on Memorial Program

Legionnaires Will Parade for First Time; Bruhn Is Listed as Orator for Ceremonies

Memorial Day chairman Robert T. Fairbrother and Poppy Day chairman, Vice-Commander Robert J. Henry made their reports at the meeting of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion, held at St. Leo's Hall, Tuesday evening. The activities of these two committees were the highlights of a very interesting meeting.

The Post has assumed the arranging of a suitable observance of Memorial Day in the Town of Esopus and Chairman Fairbrother brought out that invitations have been sent to all of the organizations in the town to participate and several acceptances have already been received. Louis G. Bruhn, district attorney of Ulster county, will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies to be held at Port Ewen cemetery.

Poppy Day Chairman Henry is distributing the poppies to Legionnaires throughout the town for distribution. The sale of poppies at this time of the year by veterans' organizations has always been recognized as a very worthy activity. The poppies are made by disabled veterans in the various Veterans Hospitals and purchased from them by the New York State Department of the American Legion Auxiliary. The posts in turn purchase the poppies from the State Auxiliary and distribute them to the public. Proceeds from the sales, less the cost of the poppies, is put into the posts' rehabilitation and relief fund and earmarked for that purpose only. In the case of Town of Esopus Post, this will be the first opportunity to place funds in such a category and special efforts are being made to start the fund with a substantial sum.

Will Decorate Graves
The Post will also assume the responsibility of decorating the National Organization of the Legion. The list is now being compiled.

Commander Beichert made a special request to all members of the post to turn out on Memorial Day as this will be the first public appearance of the post as a body. The new colors of the post will be carried by a representative group of all of the services. Chester Barth has been appointed in charge of the firing squad for the Memorial Day services.

Barth Honored by France
Commander Beichert also pointed out that a member of the post had been greatly honored during the past week when Chester W. Barth, former staff sergeant of the 78th Division, had received from the French Government a Croix de Guerre citation, along with the medal and campaign ribbon.

A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting with Post Activity Chairman Bob Doyle in charge.

Gardener Finds Mine

Bernard Stackhouse, wheeling a barrow in his garden in a small Scottish town, felt the ground give, gave the wheelbarrow a shove, and jumped. Where he and the barrow had been a few seconds before, was an old mine shaft, 60 feet deep and 10 feet across, with water at the bottom, Glasgow reports.

Mashed potato cups filled with green peas or diced vegetables are an excellent accompaniment to serve on the platter with broiled lamb patties.

Gus Valenti, 18-months-old son of Patrolman Charles Valenti of Baltimore, plays with a stuffed toy, unhurt after a 40 foot fall from a fire escape at his home. Attendants at a hospital to which he was taken said he suffered only a gum laceration. (AP Wirephoto).

MODENA

Modena, May 15—Plans are complete and tickets are being sold for the turkey supper and dance, honoring returned veterans from this locality on Thursday evening, May 16, in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. The affair is desired to be successful, being the final gesture of appreciation and esteem for the boys who were in the service of our country. The Modena Ardonia Service Cheer Club is sponsoring the affair.

The Public Health Nursing Committee meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lillian Courter was attended by Mrs. Frank Coy, Mrs. Arthur Schonberg, Mrs. Burton Ward, and the public health nurse, Miss Wilma Petroff. The committee is sponsoring the attendance of the dental hygienist at Memorial Hall on Wednesday, May 22. This will be an all-day session, the regular clinic and child health consultation being conducted in the afternoon. Dr. Peter F. Lordi of Highland, physician in charge.

Officers of the Democratic Club of the Town of Plattekill were named at a meeting held Thursday evening in Memorial Hall. Mr. Howard Simpson was re-appointed vice-president and Mrs. Lillian Courter secretary and treasurer. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lagatutta, Mrs. David Daves, Ruth Daves, Nathaniel Daves, Louis Venuti, Wilfrid Betube. Next meeting Friday evening, June 11.

The Misses Mary, Anna Ruth and Ellen Morris and their brother from Newark, N. J., visited relatives here on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shults attended the Haver-Croswell wedding held May 12 at Christ Lutheran Church, Woodstock, also the reception which followed at the Croswell home in Kingston.

The Modena Fire Department was called out twice Sunday morning, the first at 3:15 when the house of Isaac Conklin in Clintondale was almost destroyed by fire. Highland and Clintondale companies were also on the scene. The second call came from Ardonia section where a chimney fire at Dick Runk's home was becoming dangerous.

Gerald DeWitt son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl DeWitt, has enlisted in the U. S. Army, and left town for the induction center at Fort Dix, N. J. Tuesday. Harold Wager was in Albany Tuesday.

Additional veterans returning home from war service are Donald and Martin Decker, Myron Coy, Emil Rode and Michael Kalamucki. Byron Paltridge of the U. S. Navy is now stationed in Galveston, Texas. He expects an extended furlough in August.

Lester A. Water Jr. spent the past week-end with his aunt Mrs. Elmore Smith and family in Kingston.

Members of Sullivan-Shafer Post American Legion New Paltz, sponsored a dance Friday evening in Memorial Hall.

Eber H. Smith, R. N. has been appointed supervisor at the Hudson River State Hospital Poughkeepsie.

The sum of $41 was cleared at the cafeteria supper served Thursday evening in Hasbrouck Memorial Hall by a committee of the W. S. C. S. of the Modena Methodist Church.

Vacation Is Planned
For State's Blind Women

New York, May 16—Blind women in New York state, may if they wish, enjoy a vacation as guests of the American Foundation for the Blind. The Foundation announced that its holiday estate, "Rest Haven" near Monroe, N. Y., will open its season this year on May 27 and will entertain a limited number of sightless guests for periods of 18 days each.

The seven holiday periods will begin respectively on May 27, June 17, July 8, July 29, August 19, September 9 and September 30. Last year the Foundation provided over 150 blind women with these care-free and expense-free vacations.

"Rest Haven," a spacious mansion in its own wooded grounds is 40 miles north of New York city. The Foundation's invitation is open to a limited number of blind women from 18 to 70 years of age "who cannot afford vacations at paid summer resorts."

Applications for a vacation at "Rest Haven" are now being received at the headquarters of the American Foundation for the Blind, 15 West Sixteenth Street, New York, 11, N. Y.

Talc, widely used in the manufacture of floor and wall tile, is also the base of talcum powder.

It's Here! The Greatest Suds Discovery in 2000 Years!

Procter & Gamble's drefl brings you
FASTER, BRIGHTER, SAFER CLEANING
than any suds before in history!

Dishes Shine Without Wiping!

It's a Fact! No soap in the world performs the miracles Drefl performs in your dishpan. It makes dishes shine—without wiping! Even glasses sparkle—without rubbing or polishing!
No Streaks! You'll be delighted the way Drefl's amazing suds rinse clean and clear! No matter how hard the water, Drefl leaves no greasy streaks or cloudiness on dishes the way all soaps do. And Drefl is kind to hands! Try it for tonight's dishes!

drefl Works Wonders
No Soap in the World
Can Match!

• No Soap-Fading! Now you can wash stockings, lingerie, woollens—knowing that with Drefl there's no cloudy film to cause soap-fading!
• Instant Suds—More Suds! In cool water, in hardest water—Drefl suds billow up instantly. And Drefl suds last so long!
• Clear, Clean-Rinsing Suds! First suds in history to leave no streaks or cloudiness on dishes—no dulling film on silks, nylons, woollens.

Lingerie

STAYS BRIGHTER AND FRESHER!
NO SOAP-FADING!
Drefl is milder to colors than any soap in the world! Colors stay bright and fresh far longer when washed with Drefl. There's no film to cause soap-fading. Your pretty slips, blouses, "undies" wash brighter and fresher than with any soap.

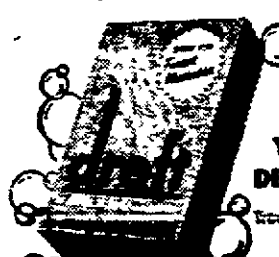

Stockings

WEAR LONGER! LOOK LOVELIER
THAN WITH ANY SOAP!
You'll be delighted at Drefl's gentleness to stockings! Drefl suds leave no soapy film to heavy-up hose and cloud their beauty. Colors stay fresh far longer than with any soap. What's more—nightly Drefl-washing prolongs stocking life—gives noticeably longer wear!

New Woollens

WASH SOFTER, FLUFFIER THAN EVER BEFORE!
When washed in Drefl suds your precious new woollens are a joy to look at—a delight to feel! No soapy deposit to coarsen woollens and dim their colors. Your lovely new sweaters and baby things wash softer and fluffier than with even the most expensive soap flakes!

During the evening Chester Miller, Jr., sang two selections. Two pounds of butter and a shirt were auctioned by Earl Sweet and Sherill Keyser. Assisting Mr. Stang were Walter Cautitz as Corny, Robert Alward as Bobby Filippino, Fred Hahn, Ralph Shultis and Mrs. Robert McAndrew as general chairman.

Middletown Schedules Community Concerts

A series of at least four concerts with the possibility of a fifth are planned for next season by the Middletown Community Concerts Association. The association, organized like the Kingston group, is four years old and is being assisted by Lawrence Bernhardt in its drive this week. Kingston will have three concerts this season.

The Middletown group plans 1,200 members, 100 more than the Kingston group can accommodate in the Kingston High School auditorium. At the opening campaign dinner Monday night in Middletown, 450 renewals of memberships were announced.

In accordance with the announcement two weeks ago, one of Middletown's concerts will be the National Symphony Orchestra, which is also scheduled for Kingston. Another concert announced Monday in Middletown will be the Don Cossack Russian Chorus and Dancers.

One of the exceptional cases where notes of thanks never are required is described in this letter: "My young child gave a birthday party and all the little guests brought presents. My child thanked each one and I thanked them, too, and said something as well to each nurse. Considering the young ages of the children, I don't know now whether I should write and thank the parents, whom I know only slightly. The fact that several of the children brought rather expensive gifts makes me even more doubtful.

Thanking each donor and emphasizing this fact to his (or her) nurse was correct and sufficient.

Again Preface
Dear Mrs. Post: Originally, at the time I was named, I was "Third." When grandfather died, I became "Junior." During recent years I have been writing my name "W. Henry Blank" instead of the way my father writes his, "William Henry" or "William H. Blank." I now wonder whether it might be possible for me to drop the "Jr." after my name?

Answer: I think it is very possible and to avoid all future complications, if I were you I would be inclined to do so. (This is however, something you should think about seriously before deciding.)

No "Rehearsal" Party Required
Dear Mrs. Post: Who gives the afternoon tea or dinner in connection with entertaining the wedding party after or before the rehearsal?

Answer: Any friend or relative who cares to may invite the wedding party to what she pleases. On the other hand, no entertainment is expected. Usually, however, they all go back to the bride's own house or to that of a friend to talk for a little while and possibly have light refreshments.

Depends on The Weather
Dear Mrs. Post: When a man calls for a girl and she is not quite ready and the man prefers to wait outside on the porch, does it seem rude to close the front door on him? Perhaps not in cold weather, but please answer about when weather is no consideration.

Answer: If it is cold you have to close the door obviously! If it is hot, there is no reason for not leaving it open.

Firemen to Discuss Convention at Meeting

All of the volunteer firemen of the city will meet with Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy at the city hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock, to discuss plans for making the 11th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association to be held in Kingston Friday and Saturday, July 26 and 27, a success.

The convention committee, composed of delegates from all of the 10 volunteer fire companies of Kingston, will also meet that night at the city hall to complete plans for the Firemen's Ball to be held in the municipal auditorium Thursday evening, May 23.

Will Attend Luncheon

Colonel Charles Brandon Booth of the Volunteers of America will attend a meeting and luncheon of the local advisory board of the Volunteers of America at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Friday, May 17, at 12:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by Adjutant Arthur G. Noble of the local Volunteers of America organization.

Ferry Service From Rhinecliff to Kingston Is 190 Years Old

Back in 1752 Jacob and Abraham Kip Carried Cattle Dealers and Others; George 2nd Gave Original Grant

Regular ferry service across the Hudson river, between Kingston and Rhinecliff, was resumed today, with a fast, modern boat and equipment, under direction of the Bridge Authority of the State of New York.

The populace on both the Ulster and Dutchess shores of the river turned out en masse to celebrate fittingly the auspicious occasion.

It was in a real sense a historic event, marking, as it did, the revival of an activity that up to about three and a half years ago had continued practically without interruption to furnish a vital service to the people of the two counties for 190 years.

An Ancient Ferry Route

That alone would seem to justify the claim that this ferry service, between Kingston and Rhinecliff, is one of the most ancient in the United States.

The record is much better than that, however, for besides these years during which the ferry operated as a government-authorized service, it is known that ferrying of a sort was carried on by boat owners on both sides of the Hudson for many preceding years.

There is good evidence that "for about 50 years" previous to the granting of a royal charter for a ferry in 1752, Jacob Kip of Dutchess county and his son, Abraham Kip, "had been used and accustomed to carry in their boats travelers and their horses, cattle and goods, and to and from the landings on the east and west sides of the river, across the same river."

Thus it will be seen that there is a record of at least 240 years of ferrying service over the Kingston-Rhinecliff route, which takes us back to the year 1702. Presumably sloops and boats of various kinds and descriptions crossed the river before that time.

However, one wonders if there had been too much reason to cross the river east from Kingston, a great many years before 1700. In fact, the statement in the petition upon which a ferry charter was granted in 1752, that Jacob Kip, father of one of the petitioners, had been "one of the first settlers of Dutchess county about 70 years ago." That would indicate settlement there about 1682—a quarter of a century or more after Wiltwyck, or Kingston, was settled.

Discontinued in 1942

It was on December 17, 1942, that the ferryboat "Kingston," then on the route, made her last trip and ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff was discontinued. The Kingston was sold about a year later and was taken to Harris county Texas. At last reports it still was in service there.

Original Grant from George 2nd
Through the courtesy of Edward Coykendall, so long prominently identified with the ferry company, as well as with the Hudson river shipping and boating interests generally, the writer has been permitted to consult a certified copy of the original royal ferry grant, dated August 5, 1752.

The copy of the original record was filed at Albany April 12, 1883, by Amos J. Wood, deputy secretary of state. The cover bears the notation: "The grant was on parchment and was in a safe in the late fire and badly injured, April 13, 1883."

The copy covers 14 foolscap pages of handwriting and the opening statement follows: "George the Second, by the Grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland King, Defender of the Faith, and so forth. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting: Whereas our loving subjects, Abraham Kip of Dutchess county, yeoman, and Moses Cantyne of Kingston, in the county of Ulster, yeoman, by their humble petition presented on the third day of July last, unto our trusty and well beloved George Clinton, Esq., our Captain General and Governor-in-Chief of our Province of New York and Territories thereon depending in America, Vice Admiral of the White Squadron of our Fleet, in Council have set forth:

Allegations in the Petition
In follows the matters set forth in the petition, the main items being in effect:

That Jacob Kip, father of the petitioner Abraham Kip, was "one of the first settlers of Dutchess county about 70 years ago," that he was the owner of a tract of land, "adjoining upon Hudson's river, such land now being in the possession of Abraham Kip."

That the petitioner Moses Cantyne "is the owner and possessor of large adjoining upon Hudson's river, opposite the landing of Abraham Kip."

That Jacob Kip had built a wharf and that a public highway had been laid out and used above 30 years; also that a highway to the westward from the landing of Moses Cantyne "had been used by the town of Kingston and Hudson's River for a long time."

Then follows the statement that Jacob and Abraham Kip had "for about fifty years" been carrying travelers and goods across the river with their boats; also that Moses Cantyne had been doing the same thing "for more than ten years last past." This had been done with great inconvenience and disadvantage, it was claimed, for want of the rights and privileges of an established ferry.

No Other Ferry Within 10 Miles

It was alleged that no other person had been used to keep any ferry across the river within about 10 miles north or south of the petitioners' landings; that there was no established ferry across the river northward nearer to the landings than Albany, about 60 miles, nor southward nearer than Newburgh, about 40 miles.

The petitioners stated that they had applied to the trustees of Kingston and had visited every inhabitant living on either side of the river within two miles of their landings. All it was stated had approved their design to petition the governor for right to operate a ferry—provided the people were not hindered from transporting themselves and their own goods across the river in their own canoes.

Presented to Governor Clinton

The petition had been presented to Governor Clinton, along with a table of fees to be charged. The governor submitted the petition to his council, which gave its approval, whereupon Governor Clinton under date of July 21 directed the attorney general of the Province of New York to prepare a draft of Letters Patent to Abraham Kip and Moses Cantyne, their heirs and assigns, with the table of ferriage fees as approved by the council, and under an annual Quit Rent of five shillings.

George 2nd Approves

Fees To Be Charged

The table of fees to be charged, as approved, were:

For a single man and horse, two shillings and six pence; if three or more together, for each man and horse two shillings.

For a single person, one shilling. For each footman, if three or more together, nine pence.

For a single horse or beast, one shilling and six pence; if three or more together, for each one shilling and three pence.

For every calf or hog, six pence. For every sheep or lamb, four pence.

Other rates included pail of butter, two pence; firkin or tub of butter, four pence; bushel of salt or grain, one penny; for every hundredweight of iron, lead, etc., nine pence; for every chaise, kitteren or sleigh, four shillings; for every wagon or cart, loaded, six shillings—and so in proportion for all things for which no provision is hereby made, according to their bulk and weight.

Grant Was Forever

The Grant was to Kip and Cantyne, their heirs and assigns, forever, as tenants in common—"To be holden of us, our heirs and successors, in free and common socage, as of our Manor of East Greenwich, in the county of Kent, in that part of our Kingdom of Great Britain called England."

In return for the privileges granted the grantees were to pay "yearly and every year forever" at the custom house in New York "on the 25th day of March, commonly called Lady Day," the yearly rent of five shillings.

Some Rights and Obligations
The grant stipulated that two boats should be maintained, one on the east side and one on the west side of the river; that service should be such as to give no unreasonable delay to travelers, and that no fees other than those specified should be collected.

It was provided that the operators of the ferry should not be obligated to transport persons or goods from the first day of November to the first day of March yearly, without double fees, and that when such boats can pass the said river without apparent danger from the ice. Further, they were not obligated to transport persons "after eight o'clock of the night from the first day of March to the first day of November, yearly, without double fees."

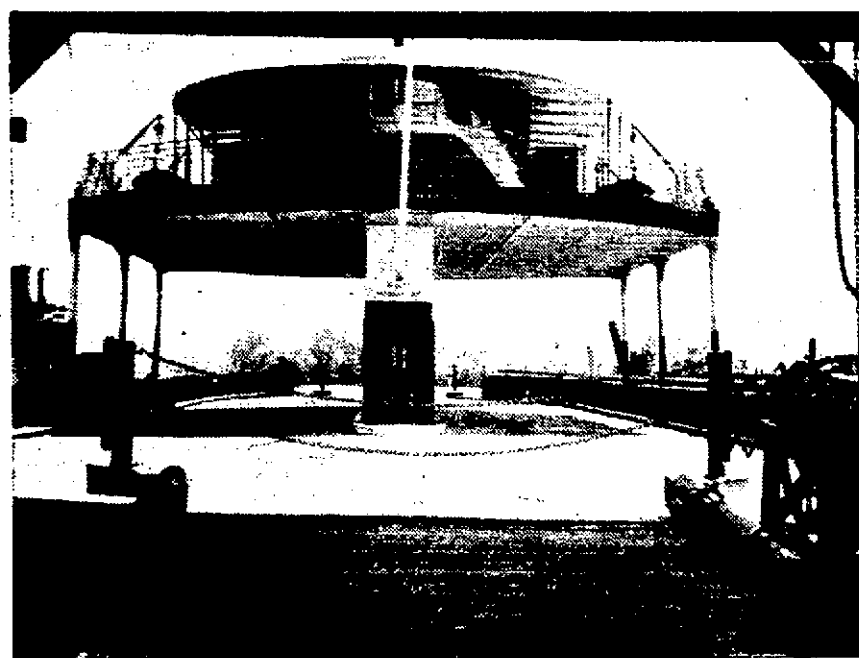

The Letters Patent were dated:
"At our Fort in our City of New York, the fifth day of August, in the twenty-sixth year of our Reign and in the year of our Lord Christ one thousand seven hundred fifty-two."

Neglected by Historians
The story of river transportation between Kingston and the east bank of the Hudson is one that has received little if any attention from Kingston and Ulster county historians so far as the writer has been able to discover. He finds no available date as to how long Messrs. Kip and Cantyne—"their heirs and assigns forever"—continued to operate.

Royal charters became a bit passe following the Revolution, but the old ferry service was continued and in March, 1827, the State Legislature passed a special act under which James Elmendorf and Peter W. Radcliffe were given legal authority to operate a ferryboat between Kingston and the east shore of the Hudson. Elmendorf and Radcliffe, evidently proprietors of a ferry then in service, were authorized to operate a boat propelled either by steam or horsepower.

the entrance and terminal at the Rhinecliff side. Tomorrow the ferry will begin its regular schedule of 14 round trips from 9 a. m. to 6:55 p. m. daily. Automobiles, including passengers, will be charged 50 cents. Pedestrians' fare will be 15 cents.

Later Boats
Mr. Hornbeck's records indicated the following steam ferryboats succeeded the "Knickerbocker" on the Kingston-Rhinecliff run: The "Rhine," built in 1852, to replace the "Knickerbocker."

The "Lark," which was put into service in 1860. It ran until, September, 1881, when it was sold, by the battles it had fought against wind, weather and ice made its last run. The last boat before service finally was discontinued was the "Kingston," built in 1877 and known originally as the "Columbia," it ran on the Delaware river for some time. In 1927 the boat was rebuilt, more powerful engines installed and as the "New Rochelle" was put into service on Long Island Sound. The Rhine-

Early Terminus

In earlier years the western terminus of the ferry was at Columbia Point (Kingston Point). In the late fifties, a new ship was built on the Rondout creek with a ferry house on Ferry street. Thereafter, except during one year, when the experiment was made of using Ponckhockie as a terminus, the terminus at Rondout has continued in use.

It is this Rondout ferry property that was transferred to the State of New York in April of this year, along with the ferry properties of the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry Co. at Rhinecliff. The transfers were made by the Cornell Steamboat Co., which earlier in the month had acquired title to them from the Ferry Company.

The properties were taken over by the State for the use of the New York State Bridge Authority, which will operate the ferry. The latest and best of the latest in the succession of boats that have followed the crude "Periauger" of ancient days, and whose official appearance was celebrated today with "pomp and ceremony," has been named the "George Clinton."

It is of modern construction throughout and of modern design, acclaimed as far superior to any of its predecessors. In fact, Captain Christopher Tierney told a Freeman reporter, when asked how the George Clinton compared with former boats on the run, "It is by far the finest ferry boat that ever has been on the route—or, on the Hudson river."

The George Clinton is a comparative youngster, having been built in Burlington, Vt., in 1937. The New York State Bridge Authority purchased the boat this spring from the Electric Ferry Co. of New York, for a price said to have been about $175,000. Originally named the "Richmond," it had been in the neighborhood of New York on routes of the Electric Ferry Co. More lately, it is understood, it ran between 125th street, New York and Edgewater, N. J.

Captain Tierney and Engineer Howard Hornbeck brought the boat to Kingston on March 23, making the 103 miles from the New York Custom House to the Rondout creek in about seven hours, against head winds.

It was tied up at the Hillebrandt dock and later overhauled and given a complete new dress of paint. The body color is dark green, with trim of Indian red and ivory.

The Coast Guard gave the boat its final inspection the first part of this month. Since then officers and crew have been making trial runs and getting everything shipshape for the grand opening today.

Boat 153 Feet Long

The George Clinton has an overall length of 153 feet, eight inches, with a 39-foot beam and an overall width on the main deck of 44 feet. It measures 10 feet in depth from the main deck to the bottom of the keel. Without load the boat has a draft of about six feet, six inches. Gross tonnage is 373 tons, or 189 tons net.

It is a twin screw boat, powered by a Cooper-Bessmer eight-cylinder Diesel engine of 450 H. P. Speed is about 12 knots per hour. Its tanks, when full, carry 6,500 gallons of fuel oil for the engine. The steering gear can be operated either by power or manually.

The boat is licensed to carry 305 passengers. Captain Tierney said that there are seats for about 105 in the enclosed cabin on the upper deck and others ranged about the cabin on the outside.

The George Clinton is of radically different design and construction from the old, traditional ferryboat. The main deck is open and clear, except for the "island" through the center which supports the superstructure and through which two stairways lead to the cabin and upper deck. Thirty-two or more cars can be accommodated in the four lanes of the main deck. The superstructure, with cabin and pilot houses, measures 60 feet in length, the upper deck extending the full width of the boat.

The George Clinton carries six officers and men: Christopher Tierney, captain; Howard Hornbeck and John Miller, engineers; John J. Malone, pilot; Arthur H. Brown, collector; Nelson Sleight, deckhand.

Church Committees Are Named for Blind Sale

The Kingston sale for the blind will open at the L. B. Watrous electric store, 9 Main street, on Tuesday, May 21, with committees representing St. Joseph's Catholic and Trinity and St. James Methodist Churches in charge. The sale will continue through May 27.

Many useful household articles, including rugs, hearth-brooms, potholders, linen towels, leather goods, etc., will be offered for sale. The price of each article is made up of the cost of materials, plus the wage paid the blind worker. Only the blind benefit from these sales.

The schedule of church committees, together with their chairmen and times of service, is as follows: St. Joseph's Catholic, Miss Margaret Martin, chairman; with a committee of ladies from that church, 9-12.

Trinity Methodist, Mrs. Lester Finley, chairman; Mesdames S. Elbridge, M. Burger, E. Hale, H. Elbridge, D. Schoonmaker, A. Tongue, H. Willmot, George Long, F. Thompson, W. Gregory, and Miss Mary Hale, 12-3.

St. James Methodist, Mrs. T. L. Culver, chairman; Mesdames William E. Finch, Alfred Schmid, Chris Longyear, James A. Guttridge, and Miss Mary Treadwell, 3-5.

Capacity House Anticipated for Boxing Show Here Tonight; Maroon Trackmen Travel to Poughkeepsie Friday Afternoon

Big Improvement in Field Events May Be Deciding Factor; Arlington Here Next Saturday

Having finally found themselves in the N.Y.M.A. meet last week, Kingston High's 1946 track squad travels to Poughkeepsie Friday afternoon for a date with the Bridge City cindermen. The Maroon routed N.Y.M.A. at Cornwall last week 82-31 after losing 74-38 to Newburgh, and the locals hope to score their second straight victory.

The Maroon presented a well strengthened squad to the cindermen which accounts for their overwhelming victory. Although weak in the field events at Newburgh, the locals came back to hold their own in the field last week and presented some encouraging optimism to local fans for the rest of the season.

Although victories over Poughkeepsie and Arlington in the dual meets this week and next are the immediate events in the minds of the Maroon trackmen, all are pointing to the all-important DUSO meet at Middletown June 1. Here, the forces of Coach G. Warren Kias get another crack at Newburgh, this time for the DUSO title, and the Kingston boys are looking for revenge after the defeat in the Hilly City two weeks ago.

Locals Confident

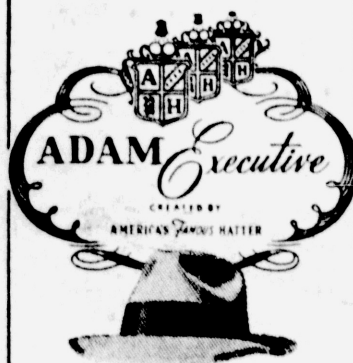

The locals are confident that they can turn the tide against the Goldbacks next time and become one of the next two meets may tell the story. The field events have been strengthened, and the running events which have been the main point-getters for Kingston in recent years have been improving every week. However, Kingston has hopes that one of the other teams can cut into Newburgh's points and put the Maroon in a good position to cop the title.

The Kingston record holders, Eddie McCord in the half mile, and Frank Dolan in the 440 will be counted upon this week. The amazing factor about Dolan's record is that he had never participated in the 440 before being a half miler in previous years.

If Kingston can continue its winning form against Poughkeepsie, local fans can look forward to the DUSO meet with anticipation. The Maroon coaching staff, G. Warren Kias and Loryne Connick have been working hard with the boys all year, and their labors brought results last week.

The Arlington meet, scheduled for next Saturday, is the only home meet of the year for the Maroon. The stadium cinder paths should ring with some close action since a meet between these schools is always a close battle and local track fans will have a chance to see some real competition.

Grimm Confident Cubs Will Make Bid for Pennant

Jolly Cholly More Grim These Days as He Leads Team Through Eastern Invasion

New York, May 16 (AP)—Jolly Cholly Grimm of the championship Chicago Cubs seems more grim than jolly as he leads his National League pennant winners on the club's first eastern invasion of the baseball season.

Leaning back comfortably in the drawing room of a Pullman, en route from Philadelphia to New York where the Braves open a series with the Giants today, Grimm nodded grimly.

Glad to Leave Philly "I'm sure glad to leave Philly," he said. "It may not show in the standings, but those Phils are tough. You can't relax against them a minute."

His Cubs had made a mad dash to catch the train at the north Philadelphia station after the Phils had forced them to go 13 innings before winning, 6-4. "Where's my banjo?" Charley echoed a question. "I never take it with me on trips. When I'm home I like to strum on it, but not on trips."

"I'm confident the boys will soon start hitting," he went on. "Our pitching has been good, but we haven't been backing it up. If we make a good showing on this trip I believe we have a chance of repeating."

Now in Fourth

Currently the Cubs are tied for fourth place with Cincinnati at 12 victories and 10 defeats. Of the 12 triumphs, eight have been against clubs below them in the standings; three against the Reds, one against the Giants and two each against Pittsburgh and the Phils.

A year ago the Cubs used the second division Boston Braves, Reds and Phils as a stepping stone to the pennant. In '36 games against these three clubs they played a superlative .803 game, winning 53 and losing only 13, far above the overall .636 percentage they turned in on a 98-56 worst record in taking the flag.

Race to the Wire

"But it'll be different this year," Grimm grinned. "We beat the Reds 21 of 22 games last year and three times already this season, but it's much harder. And you know the Braves aren't the same. They're a 1,000 per cent better. The whole circuit is stronger and it should be a race right down to the wire with the Cards, Brooklyn and us in the thick of it."

Player Changes In City Baseball, Softball Leagues

Two new players have been added by the Chez Emile baseball club of the City League. Norman Markle, secretary, announces. The players are H. Thompson and Bob Purvis. The same club also omitted Joe Woods and Jim Martin from future games.

Other changes involved Morgan's Restaurant who signed Scherer while Perry's Service Station announced the acquisition of J. Russo. The Old Capital Motor club has released D. Ransom.

The following changes in rosters of City Softball League teams have been announced by Sid Lutz, superintendent of the recreation department:

Mayon Tavern club has added Andy Ball, D. Osterhout and J. Schoonmaker. Worfs have added Ad Stumpf and omitted Junie Guess. The B'nai Brith outfit has released M. Levy and J. Epstein and added J. Gruber and H. Basch.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press) Howie Pollett, Cards—Blanked Brooklyn, 1-0, on five hits enabling St. Louis to move into first place in National League by eleven percentage points.

Johnny Berardino, Browns — Belted homer with bases loaded to spark St. Louis to 8-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Clyde McCullough, Cubs — Cracked three-run circuit blast in 13th inning to provide Chicago with 6-4 triumph over Philadelphia.

Mel Harder and Steve Gromek, Indians—Harder blanked Philadelphia 3-0 on six hits in opening game of double header and Gromek shut out Athletics, 5-0, in nightcap on four safeties.

Johnny Rigney and Murrel Wood, White Sox—Rigney pitched three-hit 3-2 victory over Red Sox and Jones smashed two run homer.

Stan Spence, Senators—Drove in half of Washington's runs in 6-3 victory over Detroit with three-run circuit smash.

Joe Beggs, Reds—Limited the Giants to six hits to gain his fourth straight victory 2-1 in 10 innings.

New Track Record

Arcadia, Calif., May 16 (AP)—Setting a new track record of 2:03 1/2 for the mile, Kaola yesterday won the $5,000 Airon Free For All Stake Trot at Santa Anita. The old mark of 2:04 was set April 27 by Axomite.

Dodgers Sign Two

New York, May 16 (AP)—The signing of two guards, Jack Freeman of the University of Texas and Bernie Jovans of New York University, was announced today by the Brooklyn Dodgers of the All-America Football Conference. The Dodgers also received the signed contract of Sam Flowers, former Rice Institute center.

B'nai Brith Wins

The B'nai Brith softball team scored a 26 to 1 victory in its opening game of the City League Wednesday night at Hasbrouck Park. Leon Miller, Jack Gruber and Len Miller worked for the winners while Leo Mellert and Ruby Lewis formed the shirten's battery.

Local Boxers Will Appear on Program With Clevelanders

Carmen Virgilio, Bridge City Favorite, Back for Second Showing; First Bout 9 P.M.

With practically all the ring-side seats sold, and boxing fans talking favorably about tonight's B'nai Brith card, a capacity crowd is expected at the municipal auditorium tonight at 9 o'clock for the fistie show that features the Cleveland Golden Gloves champions.

The invading champs are matched with the best talent in the Adirondack Division of the A.A.U., which means that there should be plenty of action.

In addition to the Clevelanders the card contains the names of local favorites, Bobby Bowers, Barney Emberson, Pat Bowers, substituting for Eddie Albright, and Carmine Virgilio, Poughkeepsie boy who fought a sensational fight on the last card.

The complete card:

Five Pounders
Jimmy Taylor 150, New York vs. Billy Hunt, 142, Cleveland. Both boys are Golden Gloves. Hunt having won the welter title this year.

Matt Baranski, 145, Albany, Kansas City G. C. champ in 1944 vs. Billy Stevens Cleveland G. C. title winner and South Pacific army champion.

Charles (Babyface) Decker, 118, Schenectady, formerly of Kingston, G. C. open class winner in New York, 1946 vs. Jimmy Bowman, 115, Cleveland sensation.

Three Pounders
Carmine Virgilio, 115, Poughkeepsie kayo punter, vs. Joe Schenectady, Cleveland G. C. champion. Bobby Bowers, 137, Kingston, vs. Eddie Morton, Albany.

Barney Emberson, 12, Kingston, vs. Harland Milton, Albany. Pat Bowers, 138, Kingston, vs. Jimmy Thomas, Schenectady.

Hummingbirds in Tie
The Newburgh Hummingbirds fought to a 4-4 tie (called at the end of the 10th due to darkness) in a regular North Atlantic League game with Stouffville last night. In other open contests Bloomingdale score a double win over Thornhill, 4-3 and 4-0, while Peekskill walloped Mahanoy City by 7 to 1.

Katrine Gun Club Has Added 239 New Members Since 1936

Sportsmen Make Great Plans for New Club Grounds Which Will Include 17½ Acres

A tremendous jump from a starting membership of 50 to the present high total of 289, including the success story of the active Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club which is developing into one of the most widely known organizations of its kind in New York state.

Since its beginning back in 1936 when Emerson Mayes became the first president, the popular sportsmen's organization has made such rapid strides that it today holds cherished incorporation papers.

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club was founded in 1936 by a group of enthusiastic sportsmen including Emerson Mayes, Philip Hendricks, Al Montovani, Sr., George Munier (killed in service of the United States), and Chester Joy, who realized the scarcity of game in this particular area and who decided the best way to accomplish a steady stream of game in the future years was to complete the foundation for a strong club.

Since its early days 10 years ago the five-wire club has gained a membership from a lowly total of 50 to its present lofty total of 289. The organization has an ultimate goal of 300 members at which time the membership drive will end.

Work Project Progressing

One of the greatest work projects of any organization is now progressing rapidly on the new club grounds located off the Neighborhood road in Lake Katrine. Upon the completion of this vast undertaking the club will possess one of the finest and most complete layouts ever owned by a club of its type.

The new grounds were secured from Don Parish and they were formerly known as the Parish Homestead grounds on the Neighborhood road. Included in all there will be 17½ acres for the club's range and shooting grounds. At the present time the organization has a total of 1200 acres of posted land and about 1800 acres of open land.

"We've undertaken this gigantic task," President Chester Joy said to a Freeman writer earlier this week "as a royal tribute to our 50-odd members who went off to war. It's going to take quite a bit more time to complete all the constructions and arrangements but upon its completion we will have one of the finest setups of any similar organization in this state."

A large bulldozer began work on clearing off the club grounds around Easter and a look at the area will tell a person what a tremendous job already has been done. Plans for the area include a 350-foot triangle for parking space which is expected to accommodate about 150 vehicles. Cinders will cover that area. The rest of the land, including the outfield, will be seeded with a mixture of Timothy Clover and Kentucky Blue Grass.

May Open July 4

"At the present time we hope to begin work on the construction of skeet and trap shoots sometime in June," President Joy said, "and sometime later our club house will be erected." The new structure will be a 40 x 60 building. New installations on the grounds also will include three skeet fields and two standard 10-yard trap shoots. Spokesmen of the club said this week that it is their hope that the first shoot of the season will be run July 4.

While arrangements continue for the new area, early foundations are being planned for other recreational facilities for the club members.

On the north end of the property the club has a 250-foot creek frontage which will be devoted to boating, swimming and fishing. "We have a few members who do not participate in the sport of skeet or trap shooting," Les Hotaling, the club's able secretary, declared, "and thus we plan to offer them these privileges."

One of the most unusual collections of the work now being done on the club grounds will be Elliott Clark's prized films which he has taken since the first bit of ground cutting. Mr. Clark has followed the first steps of the ground improvement and will continue to take pictures until the final buildings are constructed. All of the pictures will be shown in technicolor at the end of the project.

The club's treasurer plans on showing these films to the various sportsmen's clubs of this section.

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, which is operated on a non-profit basis, experienced its beginning in 1936 when the first official meeting was held at the Lake Katrine Inn. From that time until the present the organization held meetings and members in several areas. Then in 1942, as members began to go into service, the men behind made it their goal to obtain an area which would be stable for a long time to come. A little later the present grounds on the Neighborhood road were purchased. The club now holds its regular bi-monthly meetings at the Rose Marie Cabins off N.W.

Land Owners Are Praised

"We wouldn't have such a favorable outlook today, however," officers of the club spoke in unison "if we did not have the complete cooperation of the various land owners in our area. They have been very cooperative and we owe a large part of our success to these people." Land owners who have been very instrumental in the progress of the sportsmen's club are Henri Reither, Alfred Montovani, Sr., Copeland Gates, Myron Boice, Don Parish, Herman Roosa, Tony Ferlazzo, John Cook, Courtney Van Ethen, Pratt Boice, Bert Chambers, Ken Parish, Steve Vassiliou, Gertrude Trueman, Chester Newell, Thomas Goodman, Fred Weideman, William Linden, Leroy Crosby, Tracy Munson, Lawrence Winchell and Jim Pfeiffer.

In addition to the membership goal of 300, officials of the club hope to release a total of 2,000 pheasants a year. "We can possibly reach that goal this year or not even next season," Elliott Clark treasurer, said this week "but we do plan on releasing something like 400 to 500 birds this year. We'll keep on shooting for that 2,000 mark, though." Since 1936 the organization has released approximately 3,500 birds.

Expert Marksmen

A look over the membership roster of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club will find some of the best shooters in these parts. Others, who do not profess such high standards, are ardent members of the club who have donated so much of their time in making the organization what it is today and what it will eventually be tomorrow. Some of the most outstanding marksmen in the organization are Fred Schwenk, Emerson Mayes, Ray Caunitz, Isaac Merrihew, John Van Gonsic, Tony Van Gonsic, Henry Ork, Harold Siskler, Joe Dulin, Nelson Shultis, James McGrath, Charlie Senor, Claude Needes, George Dixon, Nick Bruck, Bill Henninger, Chris Flanagan, Harry Smith, Scott Vining, Frank Koenig and Bob Gross. This imposing list gives the club one of the finest group of sharpshooters in the state.

From the time war was declared in 1941 until now when the majority of war veterans are returning to civilian life, the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club has sent about 50 of its members into uniform of Uncle Sam. Four veterans failed to return. They were George Munier, former recording secretary; Albert Tromp, Bud Frommer and William Geisel. At the completion of the project which is now under way, appropriate memorial services will take place on the club grounds, and at that time the area will be dedicated to those who paid the supreme sacrifice for their country.

While some of the members were off to war, others who stayed behind did not give up the pledge in keeping the popular organization alive. In 1942 the club's treasury was frozen with total assets reaching $50. From 1942 until 1945 members who were still with the club raised that total to $1200 through auctions and various skeet and trap matches.

Inter-City Match Planned

Although definite plans for the future are somewhat hazy at the present time due to the great job ahead of securing enough shares to finance the project, the club expects to sponsor an inter-city competition on skeet and traps this fall. "By September or a little later we should have our grounds in fine shape," spokesmen of the club agreed "and by that time we'll be ready to put on this attraction." The club also plans for a Federation trap shoot on the grounds sometime during the fall months. From time to time competitive matches with other Federation club members will be held.

Sometime ago word was received by the club from Roscoe Coles, former president of the Ulster County Gun Club, that he had offered his services at any time in setting up skeet traps. "Of course, we'll welcome Mr. Coles' aid," Les Hotaling stated, "and through the coming season we surely hope the veteran marksman will take part in some of our competitive matches."

A capable list of instructors has been set up by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club for the season. They are Joseph Zech, Gordon Boice and Al Montovani. "All of these men are fully capable of giving the best instruction possible," one of the officers added, "and we know a lesson from any one of the shooter." In 1940 Montovani was the club champ and received a national association medal for his honors. Joe Zech copped the honors in 1941.

One of the most well remembered matches put on by the club occurred in 1943 when the Hercules gunners challenged and defeated a group from the Electoral plant.

First Officers

The first slate of officers elected by the club was in 1936 and included Emerson Mayes, president; Philip Hendricks, vice-president; Al Montovani, recording secretary; George Munier, corresponding secretary and Chester Joy, treasurer. These same officials served through 1937 and 1938. In 1939 Mayes was re-elected president and Howard Myers was chosen vice-president. Other officers that year included Al Montovani, Jr., recording secretary and Robert Morehouse, treasurer. John Smith became the new president in 1940 and his mate as vice-president was Leo Smith. Robert Morehouse took over the top office in 1941 with Chester Joy as his running mate.

The present secretary, Les Hotaling, made his first appearance as an officer in 1942 when he was elected to that post. Joy was named president while Gordon Boice was elected vice-president. Emerson Mayes was given the job of recording secretary and treasurer. Joseph Zech took over presidential duties in 1943 with Chester Joy being named vice-president. Tom O'Reilly, treasurer and Les Hotaling, secretary. Then in 1944 members voted Chester Joy as president and through 1945 and 1946 he has retained that same office.

The present slate of officers this year in addition to the president are Hiland Atwater, vice-president; Elliott Clark, treasurer, and Les Hotaling, secretary. A board of directors, including Don Parish, Fred Schwenk, Joe Zech, James McGrath, Ray Caunitz and Charles Warren, also were named at the 1946 elections.

Guild Seeks First Negotiations With Pittsburgh Pirates

Bill Benswanger Silent on Assertion That 90% of Players Are Union Members

Boston, May 16 (AP)—The American Baseball Guild, in singling out the Pittsburgh Pirates for its first request for negotiations, asserts that more than 90 per cent of the players are union members but the club president has to be shown.

That would indicate that the Labor Relations Board would be requested to conduct a vote on whether the players wish the A.B.G. to represent them for collective bargaining purposes.

Robert Murphy, prime mover of the player organization, last night sent a telegram to President William E. Benswanger of the Pirates asking that club officials meet with the guild for bargaining purposes.

The message went to Pittsburgh and Benswanger in New York said he would have to wait for it to catch up with him before he could comment on it.

Of Murphy's assertion that 90 per cent of the players were members Benswanger remarked that he would have to see that for himself to believe it.

Recently the guild filed charges with the Baltimore Regional Labor Board accusing Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, of "intimidating and coercing his players from their right to join or form a labor organization."

Murphy said he had received no official answer from the board on that issue.

Duck Hunters Are Asked To Bag Fewer This Year

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Bad news for duck hunters came today from the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Reporting a decline of 25 per cent in the continental population of migratory waterfowl in the last year, Director Albert M. Day said:

"It is obvious, therefore, that American sportsmen will be called upon to take a smaller portion of the 1946 crop so that more breeders can be permitted to fly north in the spring of 1947."

Milk Stout Must Go

Milk stout will disappear from the British market, because the Food Ministry objects to the word "milk" claiming there is no whole milk used in its manufacture, London reports. Under a "gentleman's agreement" with brewers, it will be sold under other names, now being sought. Milk stout contains lactose, a form of sugar derived from whey.

Aliens Regimented

Enemy aliens who were interned on Somers Island, off the New Zealand coast, now are being released, Auckland reports, and will not be allowed to enter business or work in that country on their own account without official permission. If not deported, they will be put to work on high priority jobs, such as public works, railways or building hospitals.

Rollick Sets Money Record of $948.33 At A.B.C. Tourney

Officials Release Basis for Prize Awards; 1108 Doubles or Higher Will Be in Money

The total surpasses the previous high of $772 collected at Cleveland in 1939 by national match-game champion Joe Wilman of Chicago.

Checks totaling $209,598 will go to winners of 9,696 cash prizes in the 62-day meet which ended Tuesday night.

The 34-year-old traveling salesman set the new record on these performances:

Singles (737 title score) $300
Team (one-fifth share of $1,500 title score) $300
All-events (second-place 2052 score) $250
High single game in doubles (300) $40
Second high team single game (1093) $12
High single-game in singles (279) (six-way tie for fourth place) $25.83
Doubles (one-half of $42 for 1203 score) $21

In addition, Rollick will receive either a diamond-studded medal or buckle for his 300 perfect game, the only one of the tournament, medals, one for winning the singles event and the other as a member of the championship team.

A preliminary check by A.B.C. officials indicated that cash prizes would be received by all doubles tandems scoring 1108 or better; singles competitors totaling 567 or higher; all-events participants tallying 1759 or more; and five-man teams scoring 2646 or better.

The doubles prizes range from $10 up to $300 for the winning 1360 rolled by John Gworek and Henry Knidowski of Buffalo; singles awards from $5 up to $300 for Rollick's winning 737, all-events from $5 up to $300 for the winning 2054 rolled by Wilman, and team prizes from $25 up to $1,500 for the winning 3023 grossed by the Lio-Dar-Mar bowl team of Santa Monica, Calif.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, May 15—At the meeting of the Fire Department Monday night $100 was voted for the Veterans Home-Coming celebration planned by the village for July 4. Alvin Beatty was named chairman for a block party to be held that night. Eugene Sheeley, Jay LeFevre, 2d and Gerald Sheerin, 3d were made a committee for a block party on July 20. Harold Heroy, Walter Simpson and Frank Neff were named to take charge of the firemen's baseball activities and $50 was voted for expenses.

The Methodist Church will hold a congregational dinner on May 22 in honor of the church's returned war veterans. It will be a covered dish supper, served at 6.20, with entertainment afterward.

Miss Mary Jane Hasbrouck, a member of the graduating class at Teachers College, will teach the sixth grade in the Red Hook central school next year.

Mrs. Margaret B. Hall, former resident of New Paltz, called on Mrs. Della Dungee in Kingston recently.

T/4 Kenneth A. Roth has been discharged from the army.

The Study Club will make a trip to Lake Mohonk on May 21, to visit the flower gardens, after which there will be a social hour at the house. If rainy the trip will be made the next day. They will meet at the Reformed Church at two o'clock.

Mrs. John Colwell has sold her residence property to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Follette, both graduates of the New Paltz Normal School. Mrs. Colwell will leave soon for Honolulu to spend some time with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald D. Reye. Mr. Colwell, who died several years ago, was chef at Mohonk Lake for many years.

The Rev. John Follette is visiting friends in Brooklyn. Plans are being made for a "Frolics" entertainment at the New Paltz theatre on July 27, with professional and local talent and a preview of a new Hollywood picture.

Mrs. John VanNostrand has been entertaining her little grandson, John VanNostrand.

Gus Meissner and son of Ozone Park, L. I., were recent visitors in the vicinity. Mr. Meissner is a brother-in-law of the late Martin Wennerholm of Plutarch.

Mrs. Michael Yess entertained the Country Club at her home for the May meeting. The June meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Louis Yess.

WISE BUSINESS MEN ADVERTISE THE CLASSIFIED WAY

Carnival Party Is Enjoyed by 250 Kiddies Wednesday

Wednesday was a gala day for 250 children from three homes in this area, when they were guests at the Penn Premier Shows, playing at Pan Am field all this week for Ulster County Voiture 40 and 8 of the American Legion.

From the time they arrived in four special buses and private cars, whose motors were drowned out by carnival music, the kiddies had an enjoyable time visiting the various attractions that were opened free by Lloyd D. and Mrs. Serfass, owners of the show.

The big ferris wheel and merry go rounds went round and round for two hours. Every child had a ride. Then the crowd shifted to Captain Shaw's animal show and the Cavalcade of Strange People, featuring midgets, wildmen and the amazing fire-eater. The Monkey Circus was popular, too, with the youngsters as was the daredevil riding of Flash Davis in his big motordrome.

On the way out, the little folks got their share of ice cream and other refreshments that go with a carnival.

Members of the 40 and 8 Penn Premier Shows personnel remarked about the good behavior of the children who came from Sacred Heart Orphanage in West Park, Industrial Home and the Convent of St. Anne.

Committee men from the 40 and 8 at the show grounds for the outing were Mayor William F. Edelmuth, County Judge John M. Cashion, Judge Bernard A. Culliton, Sheriff George Smith, John N. Cordts, Meyer Kaplan, Nathan Markson, Thomas Bohan, John Janakis, Gus Paulson, Edward Jones, Phil Schantz of Highland, Vince Shannon of Saugerties and Charles Hummer, carnival chairman for the 40 and 8, who with Mr. Serfass planned the party.

Personnel of the Penn Premier Shows who entertained the children were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Serfass, Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson, Charles Hayes, Albert Bydark, Flash Davis and Mrs. Davis and Captain and Mrs. Harry Shaw.

Woolen garments should be dry cleaned or laundered before being stored for the summer. Moths thrive on soiled spots.

Napanoch Head Assails Thrillers

referred to some of the outstanding criminals he had studied while he was connected with Elmira Reformatory prior to coming to Napanoch. Many of these criminals were very intelligent but they had been off to a bad start. Home conditions had not been good, the wrong kind of company had been kept during early age and a wrong picture of life had been acquired and prison was the result.

Lack of moral standards, a lack of respect for authority, for law and order had started most of the criminals out on a career of crime at an age when they might have been directed in the course of a useful citizen had the proper kind of supervision at home and in the schools and in the church been pursued.

During his talk Major Hanlon referred to the work which is being done at Napanoch Institution. He said the staff there is loyal, efficient and doing a good job. Inmates at the institution are not normal folk. They are all under 10½ years of age mentally. If any inmate demonstrates that his mental age is above 10½ years he must be released or sent back to a penal institution to serve out his time if he has been convicted of a crime.

When received at Napanoch all inmates are examined and studied for 30 days to determine their mental condition and attitude. Then a plan is devised to aid the individual with the aim of making the inmate suitable to be returned to society, if possible. This work is carried out in various ways, through vocational training and education. Last year in the shops of the institution $65,000 worth of aluminum and sheet metal work and other arts work was made and sold to institutions in the state. Crops with a value of $33,000 were raised on the institution farm and every opportunity is taken to restore the inmates to a useful life.

Adjustments Are Cited Major Hanlon said that of the last 500 inmates who have been paroled over 80 per cent had made social adjustments and several had made distinct successes of life. In the past to maintain discipline at the institution a "jail" was used where those guilty of infractions of the regulations were confined. Recently a plan was made to give guidance to these violators of the rules instead of confining them to the "jail." This class started with five and is now up to about 70 and is working out well, the men are being directed to good citizenship instead of being punished for infractions of the laws. This plan which has worked out in the institution, is a plan which if carried out in civil life in the home, school and church would prevent much of the present juvenile delinquency and relieve the burden of our institutions. Major Hanlon said. The aim of the institution was to see that every inmate of Napanoch could read and write, was in good physical condition and above all has a respect for authority before he is permitted to go out and return to society.

Referring to local conditions, Major Hanlon said that in Ulster County under County Judge John M. Cashion trespassers of the law were treated as individuals, were given a square deal and justice was always dealt out by Judge Cashion in a "human manner."

Major Hanlon had been introduced by Judge Cashion as "one of the foremost penologists of the state of New York" who was doing the "finest" work at Napanoch, if not the finest work in any institution in the state of New York. Judge Cashion said that conditions at Napanoch were "ship-shape" and the institution was a credit to the corrective program of the state.

Cashion Tells of Work

Referring to his own part in the juvenile delinquency program, Judge Cashion said that it always had been his aim to deal individually with law violators and to try and "make the punishment fit the crime," an idea vastly different from the old idea which did not take into consideration the circumstances surrounding the crime but dealt out punishment without regard to individual cir-circumstances. One problem which faces courts today however is the question of what institution to send some young violators to, Judge Cashion said.

Referring to former District Attorney N. LeVan Haver, who was a guest at the dinner, Judge Cashion referred to Mr. Haver as one of the best district attorneys in the state of New York and he said that he knew his successor, Louis Bruhn would be a worthy successor and will do the same kind of a job that "Van" Haver had done in the past.

Matthew F. Van Tassel, president of the Association, presided and introduced the guests. Mr. Van Tassel said these meetings had been held for 12 years and many famous men had been guests of the Association during that time.

At the speakers table were seated County Attorney Fred Stang, District Attorney Louis Bruhn, President Van Tassel, Major Hanlon, N. LeVan Haver and County Judge John M. Cashion. The arrangements for the dinner were made under the direction of Lester S. Lyons, chairman of the committee.

County Attorney Stang introduced District Attorney Louis Bruhn. In so doing he said that in a public office such as district attorney it was impossible to carry on the duties without "stepping on the toes" of someone at times. However this was a part of the job for which the district attorney is paid and he knew that Mr. Bruhn would carry out the duties of his office fearlessly, without favor and without fear and that he would do the job he was being paid for in a manner which would reflect honor upon not only the office but on the county as well. Mr. Stang presented Mr. Bruhn.

District Attorney Louis Bruhn in opening said that he sometimes felt that in many instances it was a case of "parental delinquency" rather than juvenile delinquency and he spoke of the "impressionable age of youth" when lives were being formed. He said parents should "take inventory" of their children. He called upon all adults, all parents to set an example not only in the home but in the community so that the youth of today might pattern themselves after the examples set in this manner the serious problem of juvenile delinquency could be reduced. District Attorney Bruhn said juvenile delinquency was a serious problem and becoming more serious.

Should Set Example Referring to the "impressionable age" of children he said that it was the parent, the school and the church which certainly should set the example and by this example set by their elders, the youth of today could become good citizens of tomorrow.

At the opening of his address District Attorney Bruhn, who during the war became an interpreter in the army, greeted his audience with the greeting, "I am happy and honored to be with you" spoken in the Japanese language, which created much merriment among the men.

The meeting was brought to a close by President Matthew F. Van Tassel who thanked the members of the Association for their attendance and stated that the dinner was one of the best attended sessions he had enjoyed and he extended an invitation to all to attend the regular business meetings of the future.

Referring to local conditions, Major Hanlon said that in Ulster County under County Judge John M. Cashion trespassers of the law were treated as individuals, were given a square deal and justice was always dealt out by Judge Cashion in a "human manner."

Major Hanlon had been introduced by Judge Cashion as "one of the foremost penologists of the state of New York" who was doing the "finest" work at Napanoch, if not the finest work in any institution in the state of New York. Moose Softball Club Will Drill Friday Evening

The Moose softball team will hold an important practice session Friday night at Barmann Park starting at 6:15 o'clock. Manager Ray Avery told the Freeman this morning, "I'd like to see all of the players out at this drill. Avery said, "because it's the final one before the State League opens."

The local Moose softies will open the State Softball League Sunday afternoon at Hutton Park in a game against Walden. Game time is slated for 2 o'clock.

The comedy skit "Joe G. I. Comes Home," starring Tommy Murray as G.I. Joe, assisted by Edward Luedtke and Al. Messenger, also scored a big hit with the veterans, and the takeoff on the experiences of a rookie in joining the army was cleverly portrayed.

Redeemer Church Honors War Vets Wednesday Night

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer paid honor to the men and women of the church who have returned to civilian life, after receiving their honorable discharge from the armed forces, at a dinner and entertainment held in the church Wednesday evening. Twenty-eight members of the church are still in service.

The large service flag of the church bears a gold star in memory of Gordon Richards, the only one of the 131 members of the church with the armed forces who lost his life in World War 2. In his memory a minute of silence was observed.

The event last night, one of the most successful ever held at the church, had been arranged by the Returned Service Men's Committee, headed by Ernest Heppner as chairman. The other members are Edward Luedtke, Al. Messenger, Thomas Rowland, George Schick, Kenneth Lang, Walter Snyder, Americ Herb, Fred Lang, Edward Fox and the Rev. Russell S. Gaenzle, pastor of the church.

The banqueting tables were artistically decorated with spring flowers, and the turkey dinner was prepared by the members of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the church.

The Young Women's Club and the Young People's Society served the dinner.

Of the 103 veterans honored at the dinner, 40 were unable to attend as they were away to college, or employed out of town.

Ernest Heppner was toastmaster and brief addresses were delivered by Clarence S. Rowland, Harry S. Hutton, president of the church council, and Pastor Gaenzle.

Mr. Rowland welcomed the veterans on their return to civilian life. He said they had accomplished a grand job during the war and that he expected they would do equally well in civilian life.

Speaking in behalf of the church Mr. Hutton said that he also desired to extend a cordial welcome to the men and women who had served so valiantly during the war, and urged them to again resume their church activities, interrupted by the war.

There were three points that he wished to emphasize, said Pastor Gaenzle. The first was remembrance, and he wanted the veterans to be assured that what they had accomplished during the war years would never be forgotten.

We also owe to you men and women our gratitude in stamping out the curse of Nazism and the imperialism of Japan from the world.

The third point he made was determination that the sacrifice made by the youth of the nation should not be in vain. Every effort should be made to stamp out the curse of war, so that nations could live peacefully together, he said.

In closing Pastor Gaenzle distributed to the veterans, as gifts made by the church, gold crosses to be worn by the men on the lapel of their coats, and by the women pinned on their dresses.

An exceptionally interesting program of entertainment for the veterans had been arranged by Chairman Edward Luedtke of the entertainment committee.

The program opened with trumpet solos by Bruce Wilson, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, which were heartily enjoyed.

Bob Messenger, one of the veterans, sang a solo "Sea Fever" accompanied on the piano by Fred DuBois. Mr. Messenger has a baritone voice of pleasing quality and tone. His solo was one of the hits of the evening.

Running a knife through a plate of glass without leaving a mark on it was one of the feats of magic performed by Fred L. Van Deusen, widely known local magician, who presented an entirely new program of magic for the veterans.

The comedy skit "Joe G. I. Comes Home," starring Tommy Murray as G.I. Joe, assisted by Edward Luedtke and Al. Messenger, also scored a big hit with the veterans, and the takeoff on the experiences of a rookie in joining the army was cleverly portrayed.

The entertainment program closed with the showing of three reels of movies taken on a hunting trip in Alaska.

Divorce Decree Final

An interlocutory decree of divorce in favor of Catherine J. Bunce against Henry W. Bunce became final on May 1. The action was heard in Special Term of Supreme Court by Justice Harry E. Schirick in January term and decree granted awarding custody of two children to Mrs. Bunce, who also was given the right to resume her maiden name. Defendant is to contribute toward the support of the plaintiff and the children by the terms of the court's order which was entered in the county clerk's office, February 1. Mrs. Bunce may remarry, but Mr. Bunce may not without permission of the Supreme Court. Attorney Frank Campochiaro appeared for the plaintiff. The decree is based on acts alleged to have been committed in this city in August, 1945.

Question Is Tackled Paris, May 16 (AP)—The Foreign Ministers of the Big Four, ready to take a 30-day recess for further study of the unsettled problems of peace, tackled the German question today in a last-minute effort to reach agreement on at least one issue. U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, described by his associates as deeply discouraged by the failure of the conference to reach any basic agreement during three weeks of negotiations, was said to be convinced there was no other course except continued efforts to compromise the differences which have split the western powers and Russia.

Six Cases Settled In Supreme Court, Recess Till Monday

Six additional cases were announced settled by Supreme Court Judge Harry E. Schirick on the call of the calendar today and court recessed until Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The cases settled: No. 80, Sidney Samuels against Arthur Hasbrouck, an action for moneys owing, Cashion & Ewig for plaintiff and N. LeVan Haver for defendant.

No. 102 and 103, William E. Volz and another against David Pezzello, negligence, and David Pezzello against William E. Volz and another, negligence. Pete Harp for Pezzello and Andrew J. Cook for Volz.

No. 120, James Dirago and Joseph Dirago, and others against Mary C. Valletta, as executor, etc., a negligence action. Cashion & Ewig for plaintiffs and Cohen and McGuirk for defendants.

No. 128 and 129, Betty D. Kreitzer and Sidney Dole, an infant, by Jacob Dole, guardian, negligence actions against Louis Trachtenberg, Lounsbury & Lounstein for plaintiff and Thomas F. Harrigan and James A. Doherty for defendants.

Security Council Adopts Secrecy Rule on Meetings

New York, May 16 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council today unanimously adopted a secrecy rule which would permit the Council to deny the record of a private meeting to every U. N. member not represented in the 11-nation council.

Paul Hasluck, the Australian delegate and only Council member to speak on the secrecy rule, said he wanted it agreed that Rule No. 53 of the batch proposed today, should be interpreted very liberally by the Council.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate who returned to the Council session today, voted with his colleagues to pass the rule without further discussion.

The secrecy rule is part of a chapter giving the Council authority to meet in private and to make only one copy of the proceedings of that meeting.

The Council also is authorized to grant access to this record to any member of the United Nations not represented at the meeting. But the Council may at its pleasure deny this record to members not represented, even though they might be on the Council itself.

Thus if any delegate refused to attend a private meeting, and yet desired to examine the record, the Council could deny him the right to see it.

Hoe Presides

ferences of opinion. I refer to the bridge that some day must span the Hudson between Kingston and Rhinecliff. The New York State Bridge Authority had its beginning as an agency for financing the construction of the Rip Van Winkle Bridge, but since it has gone on its responsibilities and duties have been enlarged so that today it supervises three bridges and a ferry. It seems almost certain that, in the years to come, other bridges will span the Hudson north of the New York City and south of Albany. The Authority feels that its true function is not only to operate the bridges it now has under its control but to initiate the construction of other bridges as the need for them arises and can be demonstrated, so helping to develop the entire Hudson valley not just north and south as it used to be in the old days, but also east and west as it must be in time to come.

"With this thought in view, the Authority had advocated a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and hopes that, in the not too distant future, such a bridge will be accomplished. It may also interest you to know that early in 1945 the Authority made application to use Authority funds for an engineering survey for such a bridge, but it was found that, under the law, funds could not be used for this purpose.

Hopes for Continuance
I have been a member of the Bridge Authority since its inception, over 15 years, and during all that period my relations with the other members of the Authority have been of the pleasantest, and there has not been a member who has not tried to serve the public with singleness of purpose and to the best of his ability. It is my considered belief that the Authority should be kept in being and should continue to operate and maintain the present and any future bridges, that its members should continue to be citizens of high standing and residents of the valley, and that it should be kept free of all political influence.

Senator Wick's Pledge
The address of Senator Arthur H. Wick, sponsor of the ferry bill, was as follows:

Mr. Chairman, distinguished guests and ladies and gentlemen: I am happy to be present today to participate in this ceremony which celebrates the starting of the first ferry across the Hudson river ever operated by any agency of the New York State government. I am glad to have played a small part in making this celebration possible today.

My bill, which authorized and directed the State Bridge Authority to install and operate this ferry was passed in 1945. This ferry represents a new venture for the State and for the Bridge Authority. Many details had to be worked out, and many delays were, at times, discouraging. But we persisted in our efforts and the ferry is here and ready to serve the people of Kingston and Ulster County, and of Rhinebeck and Dutchess County, and in fact the people of the entire State.

Of course, I realize, as you do, that this ferry is only a stop-gap and is not going to give us the day and night connecting link across the Hudson river which we need and must have. A bridge across the river between Kingston and Rhinecliff is what we need and must have.

As you all know, at the last session of the Legislature I introduced a bill in the Senate, and Assemblyman Hatfield, of Dutchess County, introduced a similar bill in the Assembly, authorizing the State Bridge Authority to build a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff. You also know that the Wick-Hatfield bill unanimously passed both houses of the legislature but was vetoed by the Governor.

Cancellation Bill Set Up
We also introduced, at the request of the Bridge Authority, another bill which would have canceled the amount which the office of the State Comptroller has set up in its books as the cost of the Mid-Hudson bridge, which was constructed by the State before the Bridge Authority came into being.

The members of my staff and I spent many hours preparing a voluminous memorandum, setting forth the many reasons why a bridge should be built between Kingston and Rhinecliff and urging the governor to sign the bill. The members of my staff and I spent many additional hours in conference with various officials of the state government whose opinions were jointly considered by the Governor, attempting to persuade those officials of the soundness of our arguments in favor of such a bill. No stone was left unturned by me in my efforts to persuade the Governor to sign the bridge bill.

However, I am only a legislator. I can introduce bills and work for their passage. But I am not after they have been passed. Nor can I compel the Governor to approve bills which I introduce.

His 'Right to Disagree'
The Governor chose to veto the bridge bill. That was his constitutional right under our form of government. It is also my constitutional right to disagree with the Governor and I do most emphatically disagree with him on the bridge bill. I was in favor of the bridge at Kingston; I am still in favor of a bridge at Kingston, and I shall continue to work for a bridge at Kingston until our efforts are as successful as they have been in getting the ferry.

I can remember the time when my efforts to obtain this ferry were ridiculed by my political opponents and were called a pipe dream put out for political purposes. You were told that the ferry would never be operated by the state and that I knew it was an impossibility.

Today we are dedicating the ferry. Actions speak louder than words.

Returning now to the bridge. Upon my return from Arizona, where I spent a vacation after the end of the legislative session, I was astonished to learn that when the Governor vetoed the bridge bill, and while I was several thousand miles away and not here to defend myself, I was accused of "ducking" out.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, everyone who knows me knows that for years I have gone on vacation as soon as the busy and trying days of the legislative session are over. I took my usual vacation this year. As I have said before, I had done everything humanly possible to obtain approval of the bridge bill. I could have accomplished nothing further by sitting on the Governor's doorstep for 30 days while he was acting on the hundreds of bills which were before him for consideration during the legal 30-day period in which bills must be acted upon.

'I Shall Work for Bridge'
I worked untiringly for this ferry and eventually was successful, as this occasion proves. I shall work untiringly for a bridge and shall not cease my efforts until we have another ceremony such as this to celebrate the connecting of Ulster and Dutchess counties by the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. That is my pledge to you.

In conclusion, may I express my appreciation to the Bridge Authority and other state officials for their help and cooperation in re-establishing this ferry service and to all those who assisted in any way in bringing about this happy result.

Now that we have this ferry, let us all patronize it to give visible proof that we appreciate it.

"Must Continue Work"
"To my mind the resuming of ferry service between the city of Kingston and Rhinecliff is fitting and proper," said Assemblyman John F. Wadlin of Highland, the last speaker.

All know that in point of age the communities in and about Kingston and Rhinecliff are among the oldest settlements in the state. "From the beginning the means of transportation was the river that flows from New York to Albany, stopping to receive passengers and freight both at Kingston and at Rhinecliff. In the past many more persons were familiar with boats and their use than today. It was therefore a natural sequence that persons living on the west shore should have friends and relatives on the east side of the river, and they visited back and forth.

"The old ferry that connected these two places was as much a part of maintaining business and social relations as was the horse and buggy in its time and the automobile of today.

"When the ferry discontinued running it was almost like a separation of a married couple. Now they are getting back together again, and the families on both sides of the river are pleased and happy about it.

"Senator Wick worked tirelessly to bring about communication between both sides of the river at this point, and I am glad that I was able to contribute a small part toward making this day possible.

Those Invited
The list of distinguished men who had been invited to attend the ceremonies, practically all of whom were present this morning, included: Senator Frederick J. Bontecou of Dutchess county, Assemblyman Ernest I. Hatfield of Dutchess county, J. S. Bixby, district engineer of the State Department of Public Works; Chester C. Edmund, commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Markets; Commissioner M. P. Catherwood of the State Department of Commerce; Mayor John Rider of Red Hook; Mayor Ralph Wheeler of Rhinebeck; Henry D. Sherwood, master of the State Grange; Chairman Edward J. Murray of the Ulster county Board of Supervisors; Charles H. Sells, superintendent of the State Department of Public Works; Peter Troy, president of the Dutchess County Auto Club; William J. Gottlieb, president of the State Auto Club; John L. Edwards of Kingston, members of the State Bridge Authority; William K. Hagginbotham, executive secretary of the Bridge Authority, and Leonard Supple, chairman of the Dutchess county Board of Supervisors.

Overcast Skies
The ferry ceremonies were held under overcast skies.

As the guests and speakers reached the ferry shed they drove their cars aboard the ferry, and then assembled for the ceremony held on the drawbridge and the deck of the ferryboat.

Each invited guest was given a souvenir admission ticket for passage over the ferry on "its first official trip across the Hudson river."

Great Kauri Felled
A dry kauri tree of remarkable size, estimated to contain enough timber to build five or six average-sized houses, has been felled in the Waipoua national forest in the far north of New Zealand, Auckland reports. The trunk was 47 feet long and had a girth of 30 feet. It took four men two full days to fell the tree with a 12-foot saw.

Scout Camporee Will Be Held at Katsbaan Locale

The big general Camporee of the Ulster-Greene Council, Boy Scouts, will be held this year at Katsbaan, near Katsbaan. The date has been set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 31-June 2.

This is one of the outstanding events of the Boy Scout year and recent annual gatherings in Forest Park, Kingston, have attracted some 500 Scouts and Scouters.

Complete regulations governing the meet were recently adopted by representatives of the various districts of the Council. Some important ones are: Adult leadership positively required for overnight. The Scoutmaster to be in complete charge of his Troop Camp. Official Scout uniform to be worn, if possible. No pop, or any bottled drinks to be brought to the Camporee grounds. No ball playing. No bugles, as it is necessary to maintain respect for general calls. Use of axes will be restricted.

Keep Pets Home

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The State Conservation Department asked the public today to protect wildlife during the coming breeding season by keeping pet dogs and cats out of the field. Frowning dogs and cats, the department said, cause as much damage among rabbits, pheasants, grouse and other ground-nesting wildlife as all other predators combined.

General Smith Retires From Marine Command

Camp Pendleton, Calif., May 16 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Holland M. Smith—the Devil Dogs he led from the bloody beach at Tarawa to Iwo Jima called him "Howling Mad"—has bid farewell to his beloved Marine Corps.

In his retirement address here yesterday, the colorful general spoke in the same "rock 'em and sock 'em" language he used to inspire his Leathernecks in their surge across the Central Pacific to the doorstep of the Japanese homelands.

As long as there is a United States of America, there'll be the Marine Corps, he declared in turning over his last command—the Marine training and replacement command, San Diego area—to Lt. Gen. Harry Schmidt.

"Marines are the best fighting men in the world," he asserted. "There does not walk on the face of the earth a better soldier than a U. S. Marine."

The retiring general, who was top Marine general throughout most of the heaviest fighting in the Central Pacific, in leaving the corps said:

Camps Open May 27

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—New York state's 29 public camp sites will open May 27 and a record season is expected. About 2,000,000 campers can be accommodated at the state's 25 Adirondack and four Catskill sites. Conservation Commissioner Perry B. Duryea said yesterday. Additional facilities will be constructed for another 1,500,000 campers, he added.

U. S. Merchant seamen receive nearly three times the pay of the average of 15 other leading maritime nations.

IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

John Sevier, pioneer settler, Indian fighter, congressman and first Governor of Tennessee will make his first appearance on a United States postage stamp when the three-cent Tennessee commemorative is issued at Nashville, Tenn. June 1.

Sevier's portrait will appear with that of Andrew Jackson and a picture of the Tennessee state capitol on the stamp paying tribute to the Volunteer State's 150th anniversary of statehood. The stamp will be the usual purple in color. Suggestions for the design are under consideration by the Post Office Department by the Tennessee Historical Commission.

Although Jack O'Connell, the more prominent place in American history. Sevier played an important role in the early development of the United States. Born in Rockingham county, Virginia in 1729, he founded the Shenandoah Valley and was active in the annexation of the Watauga district to North Carolina. He was a member of the state convention and legislature of that state. In 1780 he was one of the leaders in the victory at King's Mountain over the British.

Sevier actually was governor of the Tennessee region before it became a state in 1796. In 1781 when North Carolina ceded the region to the federal government, settlers of the region set up a state they called "Franklin" and elected Sevier as governor. A conflict with North Carolina resulted and Sevier was arrested but rescued by his friends. He became a brigadier general in 1789, was elected to Congress in 1790 and in 1793 led a successful expedition against the Creek and Cherokee Indians. Elected Governor of Tennessee in 1796, he served until 1801 and again from 1803 to 1809. He returned to Congress in 1811 and was serving as a commissioner in locating boundaries of the Creek territory when he died in 1815.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations may send a maximum of 10 addressed envelopes, together with remittance for the stamps to be affixed to the Postmaster, Nashville.

Stamps are helping to rebuild the little native church of St. Francis, Belmont on Canaan road in the Crockett county of the British West Indies. When a hurricane wrecked the little church in 1941 the pastor the Rev. C. E. Pope began sending used United States commemorative stamps sent him by friends in this country to a Crockett England stamp dealer, and in return has received $1,250 representing one-fourth of the amount needed to rebuild the church, thus far.

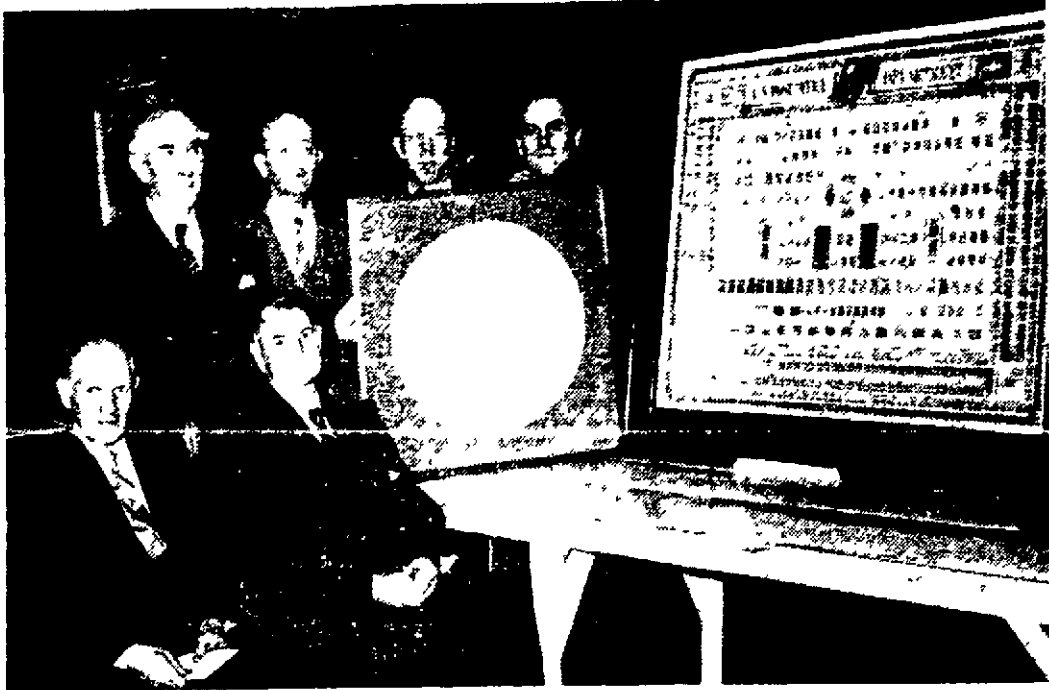

Argentina's postage tribute to the late President Roosevelt is a five-centavo stamp with a portrait of which bears the inscription "Propulsor de la Buena Vecindad y Abandono de una Nueva Justicia Social." (Promoter of Good Neighborliness and Standard Bearer of a New Social Order). The stamp was issued April 12 on the first anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt's death.

Stamp Club Holds Its 5th Annual Exhibit at Y.M.C.A.

The 5th annual exhibit of the Colonial City Stamp Club opened Tuesday evening in the Y.M.C.A. There are 75 frames of U.S. stamps, also frames of stamp designs.

The stamps include the first issue of 1847 up to the present issue of the honorable discharge emblem. There is the first stamp issued in England in 1840, the One Penny Black on cover and a pair of the famous "Mitre" envelopes.

The following members are exhibitors: Edwin B. Schultz, C. Augustus Raschke, Byron V. Stevens, Lewis A. DeGraff, Ernest J. Linson, Miss Lydia M. Scott, Charles R. O'Connor and Charles A. Terwilliger. There are three junior exhibitors: Miss Diana Schultz, Thomas Fickus, Donald Bernard.

Blue red and white ribbons were awarded. The U.S. Government frame of 1847 to 1893 was the highlight of the exhibit. It attracted much favorable comment. The show will continue until 10 o'clock tonight in the Y.M.C.A. building. Admission is free.

The Society will hold its 1946 convention in Detroit May 31.

Judge Has Fistic Duel With Defendant

City Ind. May 15 (AP)—Superior Judge Homer E. Sackett 69 left his bench yesterday and jumped in with and twice threw to the floor Virgil Underwood, 35, a 6 foot 3 inch 175 pound tuxedo owner of Black Oak Inn.

Underwood who was in court as a defendant in a divorce case during a conference with his wife, her attorney Richard S. Kaplan and witness, had struck a woman witness, blocking her eye.

Judge Sackett grabbed Underwood pulled him over a three foot railing and threw him to the floor after which Underwood came to his aid.

Underwood got up and swung at the judge but Sackett who is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 165 pounds seized him around the neck again and threw him to the floor. Deputy sheriffs ran in from the hallway and took charge of Underwood.

Judge Sackett returned to the bench and fined Underwood $200 and sentenced him to 90 days in jail for contempt of court.

Norway Is 'Doing Well'

Washington May 15 (AP)—Lithgow Osborne returning ambassador to Norway reports the Scandinavian country is getting back on its feet faster than other liberated countries and is in better shape than any of them with the possible exception of Belgium.

Osborne, returning after 11 months as ambassador, said he will return to his newspaper, The Citizen-Advertiser, Auburn, N. Y.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have excess acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Red Army Soldiers Being Demobilized

Moscow May 15 (AP)—The vanguard of several million Red army men who will be demobilized between now and September have begun to arrive in Moscow and other large cities of the Soviet Union. Special food ration bureaus, clothing stations and employment agencies have been set up to take care of the new arrivals. Privates and non-commissioned officers in six age classes are being returned to civilian life under the demobilization decree which was adopted last March 20. It was the third such demobilization order since the end of the war in Europe affecting in all a total of 23 age groups.

Seamen Detained

Pearl Harbor, May 16 (AP)—Four hundred forty-one seamen eligible for release from the Navy today had been "frozen" in their jobs for a maximum of 90 days. Capt. F. M. O'Leary, commandant of Aiea barracks and the Pearl Harbor receiving station said they "will be retained on the grounds of military necessity as no replacements can be provided." Their job: To help speed thousands of other men home.

SEVEN TONS OF THAT SWEET STUFF

Just to guard against any untoward incidents, a police officer stands guard at Medford, Mass., over seven tons of sugar dumped when a trailer truck tipped over. The driver was uninjured and the load was salvaged. (AP Wirephoto).

Would Christianize China

Buck Hill Falls, Pa., May 16 (AP)—Since "only two of the world's four great powers are Christian x x x," it is the responsibility of the church to make China the third Christian power," says Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York, president of the United Lutheran Church of America. Such a task, he told the 199th convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states last night, will require 100,000 mission workers. He quoted Chiang Kai-Shek as saying the missionaries "are not only needed in China but would be warmly welcomed there."

Valentine Finished

Tokyo, May 16 (AP)—Lewis J. Valentine, former New York police commissioner, has completed his survey of the Japanese police system and will report shortly to General MacArthur, who requested his assistance. Valentine will return to the United States soon aboard the U.S.S. Tazewell.

Feared Lost

Tokyo, May 16 (AP)—Two occupants of a U. S. Fifth Air Force A-26 bomber were feared lost at sea yesterday when their plane was forced down in the ocean 50 miles north of the Ashiya airbase. However, headquarters said a smoke signal and dye marker had been reported from a search plane late yesterday, and that the search would be continued. Names were withheld.

Railroaders Idle

Albany, N. Y., May 16 (AP)—The New York Central Railroad estimates 1,800 of its workers in the Albany district extending from Harmon to Syracuse are idle because of the soft coal strike. I. W. Martin, superintendent of the West Albany locomotive shop, said yesterday 1,600 workers had been laid off indefinitely and B. H. Dayton, assistant district superintendent, reported 200 brakemen and firemen were idle as a result.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

The Easy Way

Los Angeles, May 16 (AP)—Ira A. Gilmore, 39, and his wife Sybil, 27, have found a solution to the housing problem which has been plaguing them since last October. They both joined the army yesterday.

Gratitude

Seattle, May 16 (AP)—Bartender Omar C. Bjornlie is gambling nickels to test human gratitude. He deposits nickels in parking meters for overdue car owners with notes pointing out: "I deposited a nickel to protect you against a police fine. If you appreciate this favor please mail it to me."

So far, says Bjornlie sadly, only one response has come from six nickels. But that grateful soul sent a quarter.

Name, Please?

Denver, May 16 (AP)—First, Buckley Field flushed a private named Saint Peter working in the post chaplain's office. Now the public relations office has come up with: Pvt. Frank Sinatra and Pvt. Tommy Dorsey, who can not sing or play a trombone, respectively, Pvt. Harold Lloyd and Pvt. James Byrnes, basic trainees; Lou Boudreau, who is not on Buckley's baseball team, and Pvt. Lloyd Douglas, too busy to write books. And in the hospital, a Sgt. Chronic.

Right Bait

Brainerd, Minn., May 16 (AP)—The opening of the fishing season found George Fisher, Brainerd newspaperman and fishing enthusiast, unable to find a rod and reel to complete his tackle. Then he inserted a "blind" classified advertisement in a newspaper. The first answer which brought him the equipment was a surprise. It was from S. G. Fitzpatrick, Fisher's roommate.

Political Ad

Hammond, Ind., May 16 (AP)—A resident of nearby East Chicago sent the following classified ad to a Hammond newspaper: "Attention, Democrats: If I don't get an apartment soon, I'll vote Republican, so help."

War Crimes Tribunal Studies Defense Demands

Tokyo, May 15 (AP)—The International War Crimes Tribunal, which is to try Ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and other high ranking Japanese for war crimes, adjourned indefinitely today to study the extensive demands of an American defense attorney for a bill of particulars.

Army Capt. Samuel J. Kleiman of New York city had asked in behalf of five of the defendants that the prosecution: Specify the times, places and manner in which the defendants conspired to wage aggression.

Port Ewen Legion Hears Reports on Memorial Program

Legionnaires Will Parade for First Time; Bruhn Is Listed as Orator for Ceremonies

Memorial Day chairman Robert T. Fairbrother and Poppy Day chairman, Vice-Commander Robert J. Henry made their reports at the meeting of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion, held at St. Leo's Hall, Tuesday evening. The activities of these two committees were the highlights of a very interesting time.

The Post has assumed the arranging of a suitable observance of Memorial Day in the Town of Esopus and Chairman Fairbrother brought out that invitations have been sent to all of the organizations in the town to participate and several acceptances have already been received. Louis G. Bruhn, district attorney of Ulster county, will be the principal speaker at the ceremonies to be held at Port Ewen cemetery.

Poppy Day Chairman Henry is distributing the poppies to Legionnaires throughout the town for distribution. The sale of poppies at this time of the year by veterans' organizations has always been recognized as a very worthy activity. The poppies are made by disabled veterans in the various Veteran Hospitals and purchased from them by the New York State Department of the American Legion Auxiliary. The posts in turn purchase the poppies from the State Auxiliary and distribute them to the public. Proceeds from the sales, less the cost of the poppies, is put into the posts' rehabilitation and relief fund and earmarked for that purpose only. In the case of Town of Esopus Post, this will be the first opportunity to place funds in such a category and special efforts are being made to start the fund with a substantial sum.

Will Decorate Graves

The Post will also assume the responsibility of decorating the National Organization of the Legion. The list is now being compiled.

Commander Beichert made a special request to all members of the post to turn out on Memorial Day as this will be the first public appearance of the post as a body. The new colors of the post will be carried by a representative group of all of the services. Chester Barth has been appointed in charge of the firing squad for the Memorial Day services.

Birth Honored by France Commander Beichert also pointed out that a member of the post had been greatly honored during the past week when Chester W. Barth, former staff sergeant of the 18th Division, had received from the French Government a Croix de Guerre citation, along with the medal and campaign ribbon.

A social hour and refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting with Post Activity Chairman Bob Doyle in charge.

Gardener Finds Mine

Bernard Stackhouse, wheeling a barrow in his garden in a small Scottish town, felt the ground give, and jumped. Where he and the barrow had been a few seconds before, was an old mine shaft, 60 feet deep and 10 feet across, with water at the bottom, Glasgow reports.

Conrad Remus Weds Miss Dorothy Schaefer

Miss Dorothy Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schaefer, Stone Ridge, became the bride of Conrad Remus, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Remus, 38 Stephen street, Saturday at 2 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents. The Rev. Gerard J. Koster, pastor of the Stone Ridge Reformed Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride wore an aquamarine suit with white and brown accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Attendants were twins, brother and sister of the bridegroom, Miss Doris Remus and Donald Remus. The bridesmaid wore a beige suit with white and navy blue accessories and a corsage of red roses.

A reception for 25 guests was held at the home following the ceremony. Table decorations were a three-tiered wedding cake and white candles. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Remus left for a short wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and was employed at Electrol Inc. Mr. Remus attended Kingston High School and was recently discharged from the marines after serving two years overseas.

For the present, Mr. and Mrs. Remus will make their home at 58 Stephen street.

Middletown Schedules Community Concerts

A series of at least four concerts with the possibility of a fifth are planned for next season by the Middletown Community Concerts Association. The association, organized like the Kingston group, is four years old and is being assisted by Lawrence Bernhardt in its drive this week. Kingston will have three concerts this season.

The Middletown group plans 1200 members, 100 more than the Kingston group can accommodate in the Kingston High School auditorium. At the opening campaign dinner Monday night in Middletown, 450 renewals of memberships were announced.

In accordance with the announcement two weeks ago, one of Middletown's concerts will be the National Symphony Orchestra, which is also scheduled for Kingston. Another concert announced Monday in Middletown will be the Don Cossack Russian Chorus and Dancers.

Commencement exercises will be held at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York City. Miss Hasselmayr is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Will Attend Luncheon

Colonel Charles Brandon Booth of the Volunteers of America will attend a meeting and luncheon of the local advisory board of the local volunteers of America at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Friday, May 17, at 12:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called by Adjutant Arthur G. Noble of the local Volunteers of America organization.

Firemen to Discuss Convention at Meeting

All of the volunteer firemen of the city will meet with Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy at the city hall Friday evening at 8 o'clock, to discuss plans for making the 11th annual convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association to be held in Kingston Friday and Saturday, July 26 and 27, a success.

The convention committee, composed of delegates from all of the 10 volunteer fire companies of Kingston, will also meet that night at the city hall to complete plans for the Firemen's Ball to be held in the municipal auditorium Thursday evening, May 23.

Depends on The Weather

Dear Mrs. Post: When a man calls for a girl and she is not quite ready and the man prefers to wait outside on the porch, does it seem rude to close the front door on him? Perhaps not in cold weather, but please answer about when weather is no consideration.

Answer: If it is cold you have to close the door obviously! If it is hot, there is no reason for not leaving it open.

"Convention Party Menus" would bring many ideas to the busy hostess. For this leaflet, send a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of the Kingston Daily Freeman.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

One of the exceptional cases where notes of thanks never are required is described in this letter: "My young child gave a birthday party and all the little guests brought presents. My child thanked each one and I thanked them, too, and said something as well to each nurse. Considering the young ages of the children, I don't know now whether I should write and thank the parents, whom I know only slightly. The fact that several of the children brought rather expensive gifts makes me even more doubtful."

Thanking each donor and emphasizing this fact to his (or her) nurse was correct and sufficient.

Again Previews

Dear Mrs. Post: Originally, at the time I was named, I was "Junior." When grandfather died, I became "Junior." During recent years I have been writing my name "W. Henry Blank" instead of the way my father writes his, "William Henry" or "William H. Blank." I now wonder whether it might be possible for me to drop the "Jr." after my name?

Answer: I think it is very possible and to avoid all future complications, if I were you I would be inclined to do so. (This is however, something you should think about seriously before deciding.)

No "Rehearsal" Party Required

Dear Mrs. Post: Who gives the afternoon tea or dinner in connection with entertaining the wedding party after or before the rehearsal?

Answer: Any friend or relative who cares to may invite the wedding party to what she pleases. On the other hand, no entertainment is exacted. Usually, however, they all go back to the bride's own house or to that of a friend to talk for a little while and possibly have light refreshments.

Big Improvement in Field Events May Be Deciding Factor; Arlington Here Next Saturday

Having finally found themselves in the N.Y.M.A. meet last week, Kingston High's 1946 track squad travels to Poughkeepsie Friday afternoon for a date with the Bridge City cindermen. The Maroon routed N.Y.M.A. at Cornwall last week 82-31 after losing 74-38 1/2 to Newburgh, and the locals hope to score their second straight victory.

The Maroon presented a well strengthened squad to the cinders which accounts for their overwhelming victory. Although weak in the field events at Newburgh, the locals came back to hold their own in the field last week and presented some encouraging optimism to local fans for the rest of the season.

Although victories over Poughkeepsie and Arlington in the dual meets this week and next are the immediate events in the minds of the Maroon trackmen, all are pointing to the all-important DUSO meet at Middletown June 1. Here, the forces of Coach G. Warren Kias get another crack at Newburgh, this time for the DUSO title, and the Kingston boys are looking for revenge after the defeat in the Hilly City two weeks ago.

Locals Confident

The locals are confident that they can turn the tide against the Goldbacks next time and the outcome of the next two meets may tell the story. The field events have been strengthened, and the running events which have been the main point-getters for Kingston in recent years have been improving every week. However, Kingston has high hopes that one of the other teams can cut into Newburgh's points and put the Maroon in a good position to cop the title.

The Kingston record holders, Eddie McCordle in the half mile, and Frank Dolan in the 400 will be counted upon this week. The amazing factor about Dolan's record is that he had never participated in the 400 before being a half miler in previous years.

If Kingston can continue its winning form against Poughkeepsie, local fans can look forward to the DUSO meet with anticipation. The Maroon coaching staff, G. Warren Kias and Loryne Connick have been working hard with the boys all year, and their labors brought results last week.

The Arlington meet, scheduled for next Saturday, is the only home meet of the year for the Maroon. The stadium under puffs should ring with some close action since a meet between these schools is always a close battle and local track fans will have a chance to see some real competition.

4. Gripping has a greater relationship to your swing than you might suspect. The grip is not merely a matter of grabbing the shaft and hanging onto it. The grip has this influence because your manner of grip defines the way your hands will act as you proceed with your swing. A baseball grip, so called—and as illustrated today—will lead to immediate rigidity in your wrist, which you will be able to overcome only by long and arduous practice. Therefore, no use putting this handicap upon yourself when a more correct grip is just as easy to use. If you will pick up any club and deliberately take hold of it with your thumbs and forefingers at the same time so grasping it that your hands are reasonably close together, as for swinging, you will almost automatically fall into a fairly correct grip. Some how, your mere hold on the club in this fashion will prove illuminating, since you will at once sense how much more keenly you feel the clubhead. Go immediately to work with such a grip as you thus find. It is almost sure to be improvement.

Grimm Confident Cubs Will Make Bid for Pennant

Jolly Cholly More Grim These Days as He Leads Team Through Eastern Invasion

New York, May 16 (AP)—Jolly Cholly Grimm of the championship Chicago Cubs seems more grim than jolly as he leads his National League pennant winners on the club's first eastern invasion of the baseball season.

Leaning back comfortably in the drawing room of a Pullman, en route from Philadelphia to New York where the Bruins open a series with the Giants today, Grimm nodded grimly.

Glad to Leave Philly "I'm sure glad to leave Philly," he said. "It may not show in the standings, but those Phils are tough. You can't relax against them a minute."

His Cubs had made a mad dash to catch the train at the north Philadelphia station after the Phils had forced them to go 13 innings before winning, 6-4. "Where's my banjo?" Charley echoed a question. "I never take it with me on trips. When I'm home I like to strum on it, but not on trips."

"I'm confident the boys will soon get their hitting on. Our pitching has been good, but we haven't been backing it up. If we make a good showing on this trip I believe we have a chance of repeating."

Now in Fourth "Currently the Cubs are tied for fourth place with Cincinnati at 12 victories and 10 defeats. Of the 12 triumphs, eight have been against clubs below them in the standings; three against the Reds, one against the Giants and two each against Pittsburgh and the Phils."

A year ago the Cubs used the second division. Boston Braves, Reds and Phils as a stepping stone to the pennant. In 66 games against these three clubs they played a superlative .803 game, winning 53 and losing only 13, far above the overall .636 percentage they turned in on a 98-56 worst record in taking the flag.

Race to the Wire "But it'll be different this year," Grimm grinned. "We beat the Reds 21 of 22 games last year and three times already this season, but it's much harder. And you know the Braves aren't the same. They're a 1,000 per cent better. The whole circuit is stronger and it should be a race right down to the wire with the Cards, Brooklyn and us in the thick of it."

Player Changes In City Baseball, Softball Leagues

Two new players have been added by the Chez Emile baseball club of the City League. Norman Markle, secretary, announces. The players are H. Thompson and Bob Purvis. The same club also omitted Joe Woods and Jim Martin from future games.

Other changes involved Morgan's Restaurant who signed Scherer while Perry's Service Station announced the acquisition of J. Russo. The Old Capital Motor club has released D. Ransom.

The following changes in rosters of City Softball League teams have been announced by Sid Lutz, superintendent of the recreation department.

The Mayone Tavern club has added Andy Ball, D. Osterhout and J. Schoonmaker. Worfs have added Ad Stumpf and omitted Junie Guess. The B'nai B'rith outfit has released M. Levy and J. Epstein and added J. Gruberg and H. Basch.

Local Boxers Will Appear on Program With Clevelanders

Carmen Virgilio, Bridge City Favorite, Back for Second Showing; First Bout 9 P.M.

With practically all the ring-side seats sold, and boxing fans talking favorably about tonight's B'nai B'rith card, a capacity crowd is expected at the municipal auditorium tonight at 9 o'clock for the fistful show that features the Cleveland Golden Gloves champions.

The invading champs are matched with the best talent in the Adirondack Division of the A.A.U., which means that there should be plenty of action.

In addition to the Cleveland card contains the names of local favorites, Bobby Bowers, substituting for Eddie Albright, and Carmine Virgilio, Poughkeepsie boy who fought a sensational fight on the last card.

The complete card: Five Rounders Jimmy Taylor 150, New York vs. Billy Hunt, 142, Cleveland. Both boys are Golden Gloves Hunt having won the welter title this year.

Charles (Babyface) Decker, 118, Schenectady, formerly of Kingston, G. G. open class winner in New York, 1946, vs. Jimmy Bowman, 115, Cleveland sensation.

Three Rounders Carmine Virgilio, 115, Poughkeepsie kayo punter, vs. Joe Zaddock, Cleveland G. G. champion. Bobby Bowers, 187, Kingston, vs. Eddie Romero, Albany.

Barney Emerson, 12, Kingston, vs. Harland Minton, Albany. Pat Bowers, 138, Kingston, vs. Jimmy Thomas, Schenectady.

Hummingbirds in Tie The Newburgh Hummingbirds fought to a 4-4 tie (called at the end of the 10th due to darkness) in a regular North Atlantic League game with Stoudsburg last night. In other pool contests Bloomington scored a double win over Carbondale, 4-3 and 4-0, while Peekskill walloped Mahanoy City by 7 to 1.

Reds Trip Giants Another fine pitching exhibition by Joe Beggs, who notched his fourth triumph without a defeat, enabled Cincinnati's rising Reds to edge out the New York Giants 2-1 in a 10-inning thriller under the arc lights at the Polo Grounds.

Giant Outfielder Willard Marshall brought a crowd of 35,975 to its feet in a ninth inning homer which tied the score at 1-1, but a single by Max West in the top of the 10th, a sacrifice and a miff of a fly ball by Rightfielder Jack Graham gave the Reds the decision.

The Pittsburgh-Boston Braves National League clash was postponed by rain.

A left-hander proved a wise choice for St. Louis Cardinals Manager Eddie Dyer. With lefty Howie Pollett holding Brooklyn to five scattered singles, the Redbirds shaded the Dodgers 1-0 to displace the Flatbush favorites as the National League leaders.

Lee Webber proved a tough foe for the crack St. Louis southpaw, but a second inning double by Whitey Kurowski and a 400-foot triple by Dick Sisler spelled the right-hander's doom. The sweep of the two-game series with the Dodgers put the cards 11 percentage points ahead of the Brooks.

Sox Yanks Lose The Boston Red Sox dropped their second game in the last 19 and their fifth in 28 games this season when they bowed to the Chicago White Sox 3-2, but did not lose any of their five and a half game cushion, as the second place New York Yankees also were beaten, 8-2 by the St. Louis Browns.

Cleveland came up with some Grade-A pitching to gain a double sweep over the Athletics 3-0 and 5-0. Mei Harder, making his initial start of the season, scattered six hits in the opener to register his 23th victory of his major league career. Steve Gromek allowed only four hits in the nightcap.

The Chicago Cubs got off on the right foot in their eastern invasion by whipping the Philadelphia Phils 6-1 in a 13-inning endurance contest. A three-run homer by

Katrine Gun Club Has Added 239 New Members Since 1936

Sportsmen Make Great Plans for New Club Grounds Which Will Include 17½ Acres

A tremendous jump from a starting membership of 50 to the present high total of 289, including servicemen still in uniform, is the secret success story of the active Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club which is developing into one of the most widely known organizations of its kind in New York state.

Since its beginning back in 1936 when Emerson Mayes became the first president, the popular sportsmen's organization has made such rapid strides that it today holds cherished incorporation papers.

The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club was founded in 1936 by a group of enthusiastic sportsmen including Al Montovani, Sr., Hendricks, Al Montovani, Sr., George Munier (killed in service at Okinawa), and Chester Joy, who realized the scarcity of game in this particular area and who decided the best way to accomplish a steady stream of game in the future years was to complete the foundation for a strong club.

Since its early days 10 years ago the live-wire club has gained in membership from a lowly total of 50 to its present lofty total of 289. The organization has an ultimate goal of 300 members at which time the membership drive will end.

Work Project Progressing
One of the greatest work projects of any organization is now progressing rapidly on the new club grounds located off the Neighborhood road in Lake Katrine. Upon the completion of this vast undertaking the club will possess one of the finest and most complete layouts ever owned by a club of its type.

The new grounds were secured from Don Parish and they were formerly known as the Parish Homestead grounds on the Neighborhood road. Included in all there will be 17½ acres for the clubhouse and shooting grounds. At the present time the organization has a total of 1200 acres of posted land and about 1800 acres of open land.

"We've undertaken this gigantic task," President Chester Joy said to a Freeman writer earlier this week "as a royal tribute to our 50-odd members who went off to war. It's going to take quite a bit more time to complete all the constructions and arrangements but upon its completion we will have one of the finest setups of any similar organization in this state."

A large bulldozer began work on clearing off the club grounds around Easter and a look at the area will tell a person what a tremendous job already has been done. Plans for the area include a 360-foot triangle for parking space and a 150-vehicle parking lot.

May Open July 4
At the present time we hope to begin work on the construction of skeet and trap shoots sometime in June," President Joy said, "and sometime later our club house will be erected." The new structure will be a 40 x 60 building. New installations on the grounds also will include three skeet fields and two standard 16 yard trap shoots. Spokesmen of the club said this week that it is their hope that the first shoot of the season will be run July 4.

While arrangements continue for the new area, early foundations are being planned for other recreational facilities for the club members. On the north end of the property the club has a 250-foot creek frontage which will be devoted to boating, swimming and fishing. "We have a few members who do not participate in the sport of skeet or trap shooting," Les Hotaling, the club's able secretary, declared, "and thus we plan to offer them these privileges."

One of the most unusual collections of the work now being done on the club grounds will be Elliott Clark's prized films which he has taken since the first bit of ground cutting. Mr. Clark has followed the first steps of the ground improvement and will continue to take pictures until the final buildings are constructed. All of the pictures will be shown in technical color at the end of the project.

The club's treasurer plans on showing these films to the various sportsmen's clubs of this section. The Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club, which is operated on a non-profit basis, experienced its beginning in 1936 when the first official meeting was held at the Lake Katrine Inn. From that time until the present the organization held meetings and matches in several areas. Then in 1942, as members began to go into service, the men behind made it their goal to obtain an area which would be stable for a long time to come. A little later the present grounds on the Neighborhood road were purchased. The club now holds its regular bi-monthly meetings at the Rose Marie Cabins on R.W.

Land Owners Are Praised

"We wouldn't have such a favorable outlook today, however," officers of the club spoke in unison "if we did not have the complete cooperation of the various land owners in our area. They have been very cooperative and we owe a large part of our success to these people." Land owners who have been very instrumental in the progress of the sportsmen's club are Henri Reither, Alfred Montovani, Sr., Copeland Gates, Myron Boice, Don Parish, Herman Roosa, Tony Ferlazzo, John Cook, Courtney Van Etten, Pratt Boice, Bert Chambers, Ken Parish, Steve Vassilech, Gertrude Truman, Chester Newell, Thomas Goodman, Fred Weidman, William Linden, Leroy Crosby, Tracy Munson, Lawrence Winchell and Jim Pfeiffer.

In addition to the membership goal of 300, officials of the club hope to release a total of 2,000 pheasants a year. "We can't possibly reach that goal this year or not even next season," Elliott Clark treasurer, said this week "but we do plan on releasing something like 400 to 500 birds this year. We'll keep on shooting for that 2,000 mark though." Since 1936 the organization has released approximately 3,500 birds.

Expert Marksmen

A look over the membership list of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club will find some of the best shooters in these parts. Others, who do not profess such high standards, are ardent members of the club who have donated so much of their time in making the organization what it is today and what it will eventually be tomorrow. Some of the most outstanding marksmen in the organization are Fred Schwenk, Emerson Mayes, Ray Canitz, Isaac Merrinew, John Van Gonsie, Tony Van Gonsie, Henry Oak, Harold Sickler, Joe Dulin, Nelson Shults, James McGrath, Charlie Senor, Claude Needes, George Dixon, Nick Bruck, Bill Henninger, Chris Flanagan, Harry Smith, Scott Vining, Frank Koenig and Bob Gross. This imposing list gives the club one of the finest group of sharpshooters in the state.

From the time war was declared in 1941 until now when the majority of war veterans are returning to civilian life, the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club has sent about 50 of its members into uniform of Uncle Sam. Four veterans failed to return. They were George Munier, former recording secretary; Albert Tremper, Bud Prommer and William Geisel. At the completion of the project which is now under way, appropriate memorial services will take place on the club grounds, and at that time the area will be dedicated to those who paid the supreme sacrifice for their country.

While some of the members were off to war, others who stayed behind did not give up the project in keeping the popular organization alive. In 1942 the club's treasury was frozen with total assets reaching $50. From 1942 until 1945 members who were still with the club raised that total to $1200 through auctions and various skeet and trap matches.

Inter-City Match Planned

Although definite plans for the future are somewhat hazy at the present time due to the great job ahead of securing enough shares to finance the project, the club expects to sponsor an inter-city competition on skeet and traps this fall. "By September or a little later we should have our grounds in fine shape," spokesmen of the club agreed "and by that time we'll be ready to put on this attraction." The club also plans for a Federation trap shoot on the grounds sometime during the fall months. From time to time competitive matches with other Federation club members will be held.

Sometime ago word was received by the club from Roscoe Coles, former president of the Ulster County Gun Club that he had offered his services at any time in setting up skeet traps. "Of course, we'll welcome Mr. Coles," Les Hotaling stated, "and through the coming season we surely hope the veteran marksman will take part in some of our competitive matches." A capable list of instructors has been set up by the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club for the season. They are Joseph Zech, Gordon Boice and Al Montovani. "All of these men are fully capable of giving the best instruction possible," one of the officers added, "and we know a lesson from any one of the three will pay dividends for the shooter." In 1940 Montovani was the club champ and received a national association medal for his honors. Joe Zech copped the honors in 1941.

One of the most well remembered matches put on by the club occurred in 1943 when the Hercules gunners challenged and defeated a group from the Electrol plant.

First Officers

The first slate of officers elected by the club was in 1936 and included Emerson Mayes, president; Philip Hendricks, vice-president; Al Montovani, recording secretary; George Munier, corresponding secretary; and Chester Joy, treasurer. These same officials served through 1937 and 1938. In 1939 Mayes was re-elected president and Howard Myers was chosen vice-president. Other officers that year included Al Montovani, Jr., recording secretary and Robert Morehouse, treasurer. John Smith became the vice-president in 1940 and his mate as vice-president was Leo Smith. Robert Morehouse took over the top office in 1941 with Chester Joy as his running mate.

The present secretary, Les Hotaling, made his first appearance as an officer in 1942 when he was elected to that post. Joy was named president while Gordon Boice was elected vice-president. Emerson Mayes was given the job of recording secretary and treasurer. Joseph Zech took over presidential duties in 1943 with Chester Joy being named vice-president. Tom O'Reilly, treasurer and Les Hotaling, secretary. Then in 1944 members voted Chester Joy as president and through 1945 and 1946 he has retained that same office.

The present slate of officers this year in addition to the president are: Hilland Atwater, vice-president; Elliott Clark, treasurer; and Les Hotaling, secretary. A board of directors, including Don Parish, Fred Schwenk, Joe Zech, James McGrath, Ray Canitz and Charles Warren, also were named at the 1946 elections.

Bill Benswanger Silent on Assertion That 90% of Players Are Union Members

Boston, May 16 (AP)—The American Baseball Guild, in singling out the Pittsburgh Pirates for its first request for negotiations, asserts that more than 90 per cent of the players are union members but the club president has to be shown.

That would indicate that the Labor Relations Board would be requested to conduct a vote on whether the players wish the A.B.G. to represent them for collective bargaining purposes.

Robert Murphy, prime mover of the player organization, last night sent a telegram to President William E. Benswanger of the Pirates asking that club officials meet with the guild for bargaining purposes.

The message went to Pittsburgh and Benswanger in New York said he would have to wait for it to catch up with him before he could comment on it.

Of Murphy's assertion that 90 per cent of the players were members Benswanger remarked that he would have to see that for himself to believe it.

Recently the guild filed charges with the Baltimore Regional Labor Board accusing Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, of "intimidating and coercing his players from their rights to join or form a labor organization."

Murphy said he had received no official answer from the board on that issue.

Duck Hunters Are Asked To Bag Fewer This Year

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Bad news for duck hunters came today from the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Reporting a decline of 25 per cent in the continental population of migratory waterfowl in the last year, Director Albert M. Day said:

"It is obvious, therefore, that American sportsmen will be called upon to take a smaller portion of the 1946 crop so that more breeders can be permitted to fly north in the spring of 1947."

Milk Stout Must Go

Milk stout will disappear from the British market, because the Food Ministry objects to the word "milk," claiming there is no whole milk used in its manufacture, London reports. Under a "gentleman's agreement" with brewers, it will be sold under other names, now being sought. Milk stout contains lactose, a form of sugar derived from whey.

Aliens Regimented

Enemy aliens who were interned on Somes Island, off the New Zealand coast, now are being released, Auckland reports, and will not be allowed to enter business or work in that country on their own account without official permission. If not deported, they will be put to work on high priority jobs, such as public works, railways or building hospitals.

Rollick Sets Money Record of $948.33 At A.B.C. Tourney

Officials Release Basis for Prize Awards; 1108 Doubles or Higher Will Be in Money

The total surpasses the previous high of $772 collected at Cleveland in 1939 by national match-game champion Joe Wilman of Chicago.

Checks totaling $209,598 will go to winners of 9,686 cash prizes in the 62-day meet which ended Tuesday night.

The 34-year-old traveling salesman set the new record on these performances:

Singles (737 title score) $300
Team (one-fifth share of $1,500 title score) $300
All-events (second-place 2052 score) $250

High single game in doubles (1093) $12
High single-game in singles (279) (six-way tie for fourth place) $25.83.

Doubles (one-half of $42 for 1205 score) $21

In addition, Rollick will receive either a diamond-studded medal or buckle for his 300 perfect game, the only one of the tournament, and two other diamond-studded medals, one for winning the singles event and the other as a member of the championship team.

REMINDER OF GRIM HARVEST—A farmer sows spring seed near St. Lo, France, beside a wrecked tank, a reminder of the grim harvest reaped on Normandy fields in 1944.

A preliminary check by A.B.C. officials indicated that cash prizes would be received by all doubles tandems scoring 1108 or better; singles competitors totaling 567 or higher; all-events participants tallying 1759 or more, and five-man teams scoring 2646 or better.

The doubles prizes range from $10 up to $300 for the winning 1860 rolled by John Gworek and Henry Kmudowski of Buffalo; singles awards from $5 up to $300 for Rollick's winning 737, all-events from $5 up to $300 for the winning 2054 rolled by Wilman, and team prizes from $25 up to $1,500 for the winning 3023 grossed by the Lio-Dar-Mar bowl team of Santa Monica, Calif.

Carnival Party Is Enjoyed by 250 Kiddies Wednesday

Wednesday was a gala day for 250 children from three homes in this area, when they were guests at the Penn Premier Shows, playing at Pan Am field all this week for Ulster County Volture 40 and 8 of the American Legion.

From the time they arrived in four special buses and private cars, whose motors were drowed out by carnival music, the kiddies had an enjoyable time visiting the various attractions that were opened from by Lloyd D. and Mrs. Serfass, owners of the show.

The big ferris wheel and merry go rounds went round and round for two hours. Every child had a ride. Then the crowd shifted to Captain Shaw's animal show and the Cavalcade of Strange People, featuring midgets, wildmen and the amazing fire-eater. The Monkey Circus was popular, too, with the youngsters as was the daredevil riding of Flash Davis in his big motordrome.

On the way out, the little folks got their share of ice cream and other refreshments that go with a carnival.

Members of the 40 and 8 Penn Premier Shows personnel remarked about the good behavior of the children who came from Sacred Heart Orphanage in West Park, Industrial Home and the Convent of St. Anne.

Committeemen from the 40 and 8 at the show grounds for the outing were Mayor William F. Edelmuth, County Judge John M. Cashin, Judge Bernard A. Culliton, Sheriff George Smith, John N. Coudis, Major Kaplan, Nathan Markson, Thomas Bohan, John Janakis, Gus Paulson, Edward Jones, Phil Schantz of Highland, Vince Shannon of Saugerties and Charles Hummer, captain chairman for the 40 and 8, who with Mr. Serfass planned the party.

Personnel of the Penn Premier Shows who entertained the children were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd D. Serfass, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davidson, Charles Hayes, Albert Bydark, Flash Davis and Mrs. Davis and Captain and Mrs. Harry Shaw.

Woolen garments should be dry cleaned or laundered before being stored for the summer. Moths thrive on soiled spots.

Kiddies Enjoy 40 & 8 Carnival

Approximate 250 children from several homes in this area spent an enjoyable afternoon, Wednesday, at the Penn Premier Shows on Pan Am field as guests of the owner, Lloyd D. Serfass, and the Ulster County American Legion 40 and 8 Volture which is sponsoring the carnival all this week. The kiddies and their chaperones were delighted with the outing. (Freeman Photo).

referred to some of the outstanding criminals he had studied while he was connected with Elmira Reformatory prior to coming to Napanoch. Many of these criminals were very intelligent but they had been off to a bad start. Home conditions had not been good, the wrong kind of company had been kept during early age and a wrong picture of life had been acquired and prison was the result.

Lack of moral standards, a lack of respect for authority, for law and order had started most of the criminals out on a career of crime at an age when they might have been directed in the course of a useful citizen had the proper kind of supervision at home and in the schools and in the church been pursued.

During his talk Major Hanlon referred to the work which is being done at Napanoch Institution. He said the staff there is loyal, efficient and doing a good job. The inmates at the institution are not normal folk. They are all under 10½ years of age mentally. If any inmate demonstrates that his mental age is above 10½ years he must be released or sent back to a penal institution to serve out his time if he has been convicted of a crime.

When received at Napanoch all inmates are examined and studied for 30 days to determine their mental condition and attitude. The plan is devised to aid the individual with the aim of making the inmate suitable to be returned to society, if possible. This work is carried out in various ways, through vocational training and education. Last year in the shops of the institution $65,000 worth of aluminum and sheet metal work and other arts work was made and sold to institutions in the state. Crops with a value of $33,000 were raised on the institution farm and every opportunity is taken to restore the inmates to a useful life.

Adjustments Are Cited
Major Hanlon said that of the last 500 inmates who have been paroled over 80 per cent had made social adjustments and several had made distinct successes of life.

In the past to maintain discipline at the institution a "jail" was used where those guilty of infractions of the regulations were confined. Recently a plan was made to give guidance to these violators of the rules instead of confining them to the "jail." This class started with five and is now up to about 70 and is working out well, the men are being directed to good citizenship instead of being punished for infractions of the laws. This plan which has worked out in the institution, is a plan which if carried out in civil life in the home, school and church would prevent much of the present juvenile delinquency and relieve the burden of our institutions. Major Hanlon said. The aim of the institution was to see that every inmate of Napanoch could read and write, was in good physical condition and above all has a respect for authority before he is permitted to go out and return to society.

Referring to local conditions, Major Hanlon said that in Ulster County under County Judge John M. Cashin trespassers of the law were treated as individuals, were given a square deal and justice was always dealt out by Judge Cashin in a "human manner."

Major Hanlon had been introduced by Judge Cashin who referred to Major Hanlon as "one of the foremost penologists of the state of New York," who was doing the "finest" work at Napanoch, if not the finest work in any institution in the state of New York. Judge Cashin said that conditions at Napanoch were "shipshape" and the institution was a credit to the corrective program of the state.

Cashin Tells of Work
Referring to his own part in the juvenile delinquency program, Judge Cashin said that it always had been his aim to deal individually with law violators and to try and "make the punishment fit the crime," an idea vastly different from the old idea which did not take into consideration the circumstances surrounding the crime but dealt out punishment without regard to individual circumstances. One problem which faces courts today however is the question of what institution to send some young violators to, Judge Cashin said.

Referring to former District Attorney N. LeVan Haver, who was a guest at the dinner, Judge Cashin referred to Mr. Haver as one of the best district attorneys in the state of New York and he said that he knew his successor, Louis Bruhn would be a worthy successor and will do the same kind of a job that "Van" Haver had done in the past.

Matthew F. Van Tassel, president of the Association, presided and introduced the guests. Mr. Van Tassel said these meetings had been held for 12 years and many famous men had been guests of the Association during that time.

At the speakers table were seated County Attorney Fred Stang, District Attorney Louis Bruhn, President Van Tassel, Major Hanlon, N. LeVan Haver and County Judge John M. Cashin. The arrangements for the dinner were made under the direction of Lester S. Lyons, chairman of the committee.

County Attorney Stang introduced District Attorney Louis Bruhn. In so doing he said that in a public office such as district attorney it was impossible to step on the toes of someone at times. However this was a part of the job for which the district attorney is paid and he knew that Mr. Bruhn would carry out the duties of his office fearlessly, without favor and without fear and that he would do the job he was being paid for in a manner which would reflect honor upon not only the office but on the county as well. Mr. Stang presented Mr. Bruhn.

District Attorney Louis Bruhn in opening said that he sometimes felt that in many instances it was a case of "parental delinquency" rather than juvenile delinquency and he spoke of the "impressionable age of youth" when lives are being formed. He said parents should "take inventory" and their children. He called upon all adults, all parents to set an example not only in the home but in the community so that the youth of today might pattern themselves after the examples set in this manner the serious problem of juvenile delinquency could be reduced. District Attorney Bruhn said juvenile delinquency was a serious problem and becoming more serious.

Should Set Example
Referring to the "impressionable age" of children he said that it was the parent, the school and the church which certainly should set the example and by this example set by their elders, the youth of today would become good citizens of tomorrow.

At the opening of his address District Attorney Bruhn, who during the war became an interpreter in the army, greeted his audience with the greeting, "I am happy and honored to be with you" spoken in the Japanese language, which created much merriment among the men.

The meeting was brought to a close by President Matthew F. Van Tassel who thanked the members of the Association for their attendance and stated that the dinner was one of the best attended sessions he had enjoyed and he extended an invitation to all to attend the regular business meetings of the future.

At the speakers' table for the annual dinner of the Ulster County Grand Jurors Association in the county room of the Hotel Stuyvesant, Wednesday night were: Standing from left, Edwin Zeidler, treasurer; Thomas J. Murphy, chairman of the board of directors; Fred Stang, county attorney; Henry Macchold; sitting from left, Louis Bruhn, district attorney; Matthew Van Tassel, president; Thomas J. Hanlon, superintendent of Napanoch Institution for Defective Delinquents, and N. LeVan Haver, former district attorney. (Freeman Photo).

The local Moose softies will open the State Softball League Sunday afternoon at Hutton Park in a game against Walden. Game time is slated for 2 o'clock."

Redeemer Church Honors War Vets Wednesday Night

The Lutheran Church of the Redeemer paid honor to the men and women of the church who have returned to civilian life, after receiving their honorable discharge from the armed forces, at a dinner and entertainment held in the church Wednesday evening. Twenty-eight members of the church are still in service.

The large service flag of the church bears one gold star in memory of Gordon Richards, the only one of the 131 members of the church with the armed forces who lost his life in World War 2. In his memory a minute of silence was observed.

The event last night, one of the most successful ever held at the church, had been arranged by the Returned Service Men's Committee, headed by Ernest Heppner as chairman. The other members are Edward Luedtke, Al Messinger, Thomas Rowland, George Schick, Kenneth Lang, Walter Snyder, Almerie Herb, Fred Lang, Edward Fox, and the Rev. Russell S. Gaenzle, pastor of the church.

The banqueting tables were artistically decorated with spring flowers, and the turkey dinner was prepared by the members of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the church.

The Young Women's Club and the Young Peoples' Society served the dinner.

Of the 103 veterans honored at the dinner, 40 were unable to attend as they were away to college, or employed out of town.

Ernest Heppner was toastmaster and brief addresses were delivered by Clarence S. Rowland, Harry S. Hutton, president of the church council, and Pastor Gaenzle.

Mr. Rowland welcomed the veterans on their return to civilian life. He said they had accomplished a grand job during the war and that he expected they would do equally well in civilian life.

Speaking in behalf of the church Mr. Hutton said that he also desired to extend a cordial welcome to the men and women who had served so valiantly during the war, and urged them to again resume their church activities, interrupted by the war.

There were three points that he wished to emphasize, said Pastor Gaenzle. The first was remembrance, and he wanted the veterans to be assured that what they had accomplished during the war years would never be forgotten.

We also owe to you men and women our gratitude in stamping out the curse of Nazism and the imperialism of Japan from the world.

The third point he made was determination that the sacrifice made by the youth of the nation should not be in vain. Every effort should be made to stamp out the curse of war, so that nations could live peacefully together, he said.

In closing Pastor Gaenzle distributed to the veterans, as gifts from the church, gold crosses to be worn by the men on the lapel of their coats and by the women pinned on their dresses.

An exceptionally interesting program of entertainment for the veterans had been arranged by Chairman Edward Luedtke of the entertainment committee.

The program opened with trumpet solos by Bruce Wilson, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Miss Elizabeth Wilson, which were heartily enjoyed.

Bob Messinger, one of the veterans, sang a solo "Sea Fever" accompanied on the piano by Fred DuBois. Mr. Messinger has a baritone voice of pleasing quality and tone. His solo was one of the hits of the evening.

Running a knife through a plate of glass without leaving a mark on it was one of the feats of magic performed by Fred L. Van Deusen, widely known local magician, who presented an entirely new program of magic for the veterans.

The comedy skit, "Mr. G. I. Joe Comes Home," starring Tommy Murray as G.I. Joe, assisted by Edward Luedtke and Al Messinger, also scored a big hit with the veterans, and the takeoff on the experiences of a rookie in joining the army was cleverly portrayed.

The entertainment program closed with the showing of three reels of movies taken on a hunting trip in Alaska.

The Farm Security Administration at Kingston today called upon citizens of Dutchess, Greene and Ulster counties to advise it of any good family-type farms for sale at their fair agricultural value.

"Veterans, who have had considerable farming experience, are looking for farms," said F. A. Norman, F.S.A. supervisor. "We are prepared to help them buy."

The supervisor said that farms must be capable of earning their purchase price and supporting a family, and he insisted that F.S.A. could not and would not help veterans buy real estate at highly inflated prices.

"It wouldn't be fair to the veteran," explained Norman. "Our county committee will not allow any young man to go back to farming with a big farm debt which he can never hope to repay hanging around his neck like a millstone."

"However, we do want to know of farms that could be purchased at a fair price. The number of veterans looking for farms increases every month; and we are going to help as many experienced farmers become re-established on the land as we can."

The request for information about available family-type farms was one of several steps taken by F.S.A. to increase production of foods needed here and abroad. F.S.A. makes loans to farmers for the purchase of farms and for operational purposes. The farm ownership loans are for 40 years at three per cent interest and the operating loans for from one to five years at five per cent. At the same time, the supervisor asked all farmers who borrow from F.S.A. to increase production of foods needed by this nation and starving millions abroad. He pointed out that farmers cooperating with F.S.A. achieved large increases in food production after Pearl Harbor and expressed the opinion that they could do it again during peacetime.

Security Council Adopts Secrecy Rule on Meetings

New York, May 16 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council today unanimously adopted a secrecy rule which would permit the Council to deny the record of a private meeting to every U. N. member not represented in the 11-nation council.

Paul Hasluck, the Australian delegate and only Council member to vote on the secrecy rule, said he wanted it agreed that Rule No. 53 of the batch proposed today, should be interpreted very liberally by the Council.

Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate who returned to the Council session today, voted with his colleagues to pass the rule without further discussion.

The secrecy rule is part of a chapter giving the Council authority to meet in private and to make only one copy of the proceedings of that meeting.

The Council also is authorized to grant access to this record to any member of the United Nations not represented at the meeting. But the Council may at its pleasure deny this record to members not represented, even though they might be on the Council itself.

Thus if any delegate refused to attend a private meeting, and yet desired to examine the record, the Council could deny him the right to see it.

Firemen to Hear About Tickets, Entertainment

At a meeting on Friday at 8 p. m. in the city hall of the ticket committee for the Firemen's Ball in the municipal auditorium, May 23, Peter Keresman, chairman of entertainment, will make a report on the eight star acts to be featured during the show.

"We intend to lay emphasis on comedy," he said in discussing the program. In addition to Johnny Burke, Broadway comedian, Harland Dixon, well-known dancer, has been procured for one of the acts.

Money made on the ball will go toward paying expenses for the firemen's convention here on July 26 and 27.

Seizure Is Hinted

Washington, May 16 (AP)—A hint from trainmen and engineers that federal seizure might forestall Saturday's scheduled nationwide railroad strike stirred wide speculation today. President Truman has said he will not hesitate to take over the lines if that action becomes necessary.

Would Outlaw Strikes

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small asserted today John L. Lewis has thrown industry into "chaos" and called for legislation outlawing strikes for at least six months.

The regular meeting of the Hurley Grange will be held in its rooms tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock.

Great Kaori Felled

A dry kauni tree of remarkable size, estimated to contain enough timber to build five or six average-sized houses, has been felled in the Waipoua national forest in the far north of New Zealand. Auckland reports. The trunk was 47 feet long and had a girth of 30 feet. It took four men two full days to fell the tree with a 12-foot saw.

Hoe Presides At Ferry Rites

ferences of opinion. I refer to the bridge that some day must span the Hudson between Kingston and Rhinecliff. The New York State Bridge Authority had its beginning as an agency for financing the construction of the Rip Van Winkle Bridge, but as time has gone on its responsibilities and duties have been enlarged so that today it supervises three bridges and a ferry. It seems almost certain that in the years to come other bridges will span the Hudson north of the New York city line and south of Albany. The Authority feels that its true function is not only to operate the bridges it now has under its control but to initiate the construction of other bridges as the need for them arises and can be demonstrated, so helping to develop the entire Hudson valley not just north and south as it used to be in the old days, but also east and west as it must be in time to come.

"With this thought in view, the Authority had advocated a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff, and hopes that, in the not too distant future, such a bridge will be accomplished. It may also interest you to know that early in 1945 the Authority made application to use Authority funds for an engineering survey for such a bridge, but it was found that, under the law, funds could not be used for this purpose.

Hopes for Continuance

I have been a member of the Bridge Authority since its inception, over 15 years, and during all that period my relations with the other members of the Authority have been of the pleasantest, and there has not been a member who has not tried to serve the public with singleness of purpose and to the best of his ability. It is my considered belief that the Authority should be kept in being and should continue to operate and maintain the present and any future bridges that its members should continue to be citizens of high standing and residents of the valley, and that it should be kept free of all political influence.

Senator Wick's Pledge

The address of Senator Arthur H. Wick, sponsor of the ferry bill, was as follows:

Mr. Chairman, distinguished guests and ladies and gentlemen: I am happy to be present today to participate in this ceremony which celebrates the starting of the first ferry across the Hudson river ever operated by any agency of the New York State government. I am glad to have played a small part in making this celebration possible.

My bill, which authorized and directed the State Bridge Authority to install and operate this ferry was passed in 1945. This ferry represents a new venture for the State and for the Bridge Authority. Many details had to be worked out, causing delays which we persisted in our efforts and the ferry is here and ready to serve the people of Kingston and Ulster County, and of Rhinebeck and Dutchess County, and in fact the people of the entire state.

Of course, I realize, as you do, that this ferry is only a stop-gap and is not going to give us the day and night connecting link across the Hudson river which we need and must have. A bridge across the river between Kingston and Rhinecliff is what we need and must have.

As you all know, at the last session of the Legislature I introduced a bill in the Senate, and Assemblyman Hatfield, of Dutchess, introduced a similar bill in the Assembly, authorizing the State Bridge Authority to build a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff. I also know that the Wick-Hatfield bill unanimously passed both houses of the legislature but was vetoed by the Governor.

Cancellation Bill Set Up

We also introduced, at the request of the Bridge Authority, another bill which would have canceled the amount which the office of the State Comptroller has set up in its books as the cost of the Mid-Hudson bridge, which was constructed by the State before the Bridge Authority came into being.

The members of my staff and I spent many hours preparing a voluminous memorandum, setting forth the many reasons why a bridge should be built between Kingston and Rhinecliff and urging the governor to sign the Wick-Hatfield bill. This memorandum was filed with the Governor. The members of my staff and I spent many additional hours in conference with various officials of the state government whose opinions were jointly considered by the Governor, attempting to persuade those officials of the soundness of our arguments in favor of such a bill. No stone was left unturned by me in my efforts to persuade the Governor to sign the bridge bill.

However, I am only a legislator. I can introduce bills and work for their passage. But I am not the Governor; I cannot sign bills after they have been passed. Nor can I compel the Governor to approve bills which I introduce.

His 'Right to Disagree'

The Governor chose to veto the bridge bill. That was his constitutional right under our form of government. It is also my constitutional right to disagree with the Governor and I do most emphatically disagree with him on the bridge bill. I was in favor of a bridge at Kingston; I am still in favor of a bridge at Kingston, and I shall continue to work for a bridge at Kingston until our efforts are as successful as they have been in getting the ferry.

I can remember the time when my efforts to obtain this ferry were ridiculed by my political opponents and were called a pipe dream; you were told that the ferry would never be operated by the state and that I knew it was an impossibility.

Today we are dedicating the ferry. Actions speak louder than words.

Returning now to the bridge. Upon my return from Arizona, where I spent a vacation after the end of the legislative session, I was astonished to learn that when the Governor vetoed the bridge bill, and while I was several thousand miles away and not here to defend myself, I was accused of "ducking" out.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, everyone who knows me knows that for years I have gone on vacation as soon as the busy and tiring days of the legislative session are over. I took my usual vacation this year. As I have said before, I had done everything humanly possible to obtain approval of the bridge bill. I could have accomplished nothing further by sitting on the Governor's door-step for 30 days while he was acting on the hundreds of bills which were before him for consideration during the legal 30-day period in which bills must be acted upon.

I worked untiringly for this ferry and eventually was successful, as this occasion proves. I shall work untiringly for a bridge and shall not cease my efforts until we have another ceremony such as this to celebrate the connecting of Ulster and Dutchess counties by the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge. That is my pledge to you.

In conclusion, may I express my appreciation to the Bridge Authority and other state officials for their help and cooperation in re-establishing this ferry service and to all those who assisted in any way in bringing about this happy result.

let us all patronize it to give visible proof that we appreciate it.

"Must Continue Work"

"To my mind the resuming of ferry service between the city of Kingston and Rhinecliff is fitting and proper," said Assemblyman John F. Wadlin of Highland, the last speaker.

"We all know that in point of age the communities in and about Kingston and Rhinecliff are among the oldest settlements in the state.

"From the beginning the means of transportation was the river that flows from New York to Albany, stopping to receive passengers and freight both at Kingston and at Rhinecliff. In the past many more persons were familiar with boats and their use than today. It was therefore a natural sequence that persons living on the west shore should have friends and relatives on the east side of the river, and they visited back and forth.

"The old ferry that connected these two places was as much a part of maintaining business and social relations as was the horse and buggy in its time and the automobile of today.

"When the ferry discontinued running it was almost like a separation of a married couple. Now they are getting back together again, and the families on both sides of the river are pleased and happy about it.

"Senator Wick's worked tirelessly to bring about communication between both sides of the river at this point, and I am glad that I was able to contribute a small part toward making this day possible.

Those Invited

The list of distinguished men who had been invited to attend the ceremonies, practically all of whom were present this morning, included: Senator Frederic H. Bontecou of Dutchess county; Assemblyman Ernest I. Hatfield of Dutchess county; S. J. Bixby, district engineer of the State Department of Public Works; Chester C. DuMont, commissioner of the Department of Agriculture and Markets; Commissioner M. P. Catherwood of the State Department of Commerce; Mayor John Rider of Red Hook; Mayor Ralph Wheeler of Rhinebeck; Henry D. Sherwood, master of the State Grange; Chairman Edward R. Murray of the Ulster county Board of Supervisors; Charles H. Sells, superintendent of the State Department of Public Works; Peter Troy, president of the Dutchess County Auto Club; William J. Gottlieb, president of the State Auto Club; James F. Loughran of Kingston, members of the State Bridge Authority; William K. Haginbohm, executive secretary of the Bridge Authority; and Leonard Supply, chairman of the Dutchess county Board of Supervisors.

Overcast Skies

The ferry ceremonies were held under overcast skies.

As the guests and speakers reached the ferry stairs they drove their cars aboard the ferry, and then assembled for the ceremonies held on the drawbridge and the deck of the ferryboat.

Each invited guest was given a souvenir admission ticket for passage over the ferry on its first official trip across the Hudson river.

left Newark, N. J., early last night.

Police found a passport in an unburned coat pocket of a badly charred body bearing the name Jose Matredona Zambrini. This, along with the muscular appearance of most of the bodies, led to the early belief that the plane had been chartered by Mexican or other Latin American workers or athletes.

Mrs. J. A. Williams whose home is on the Whitlock farm place a half mile from the crash site, said she was awakened shortly after 1 a. m. by "the loud explosion" of the accident.

Richmond morticians set up a temporary morgue in the yard at the Whitlock farm.

The first wagon with six of the bodies was brought out at 8:25 a. m. It was a farm wagon drawn by a tractor.

Brazil Maps Pipe Line

Brazil has moved to provide transportation for crude oil from oil fields to refineries which will be built in the State of Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro reports. The National Petroleum Council has named an Oil Pipe Line Study Commission to map the project. The main line will extend from the port of Santos to the city of Sao Paulo.

TO SHARE HER FATE Ex-Navy Chaplain Will Be Memorial Day Speaker Here

The Rev. Lynde E. May, who served as a chaplain in the navy during World War 2, will be the speaker at the annual Memorial Day services in the municipal auditorium on Sunday evening, May 26, under auspices of the Kingston Veterans' Association.

This service will take place at 8 o'clock and will be preceded by a half hour concert by members of the Kingston high school band. Following the concert, James M. Krom, today announced the regular Memorial Day services would be held with music by the 40 member choir of St. John's Episcopal Church under the leadership of Robert Williams.

Lincoln's Gettysburg speech will be recited by Joseph Mills, president of the senior class of Kingston High School and "In Flanders Fields" will be given by Joan Byrne.

The program for the afternoon services which will be held on Sunday, May 26, at Stone's dock in memory of those who died at sea, has not been completed as yet. This program which will be under auspices of Auxiliary 53 of Sons of Union Veterans, will be announced as soon as arrangements are completed.

Major, 65, Says He Is No Martyr; May Go With Sick Wife

Is Determined to Spend Remaining Years in Leprosarium; Were Prisoners of War

San Francisco, May 16 (AP)—A tall, ruddy army officer, determined to spend the remaining years of his life by the side of his wife in a Carville, La., leprosarium, was undaunted today by unofficial word from Carville that his request probably would be denied.

This possible set-back came as friends of 65-year-old Maj. Hans George Hornbostel, a veteran of two wars, pushed his petition in Washington. Surgeon General Thomas Parron was among those with whom the probably unprecedented request was taken up.

Mrs. Hornbostel, who is 52, developed skin trouble while she and her husband, an army engineer, were prisoners of the Japanese at Santo Tomas in Manila. However, physicians at San Francisco Hospital where she is in isolation believe she contracted the disease long before, probably while doing research with her husband among Polynesian peoples. They point out that leprosy usually does not manifest itself until from five to 20 years after exposure. Although she suspected leprosy while at Carville, she was not told until she was obtained here only a week ago.

Major Hornbostel has no doubts about his decision to join his wife at the leper colony.

"I don't consider myself any martyr by asking to be with her as long as we both shall live," he said. "I'd be unhappy without her and she'd be unhappy without me, and that's all there is to it."

He envisioned his own future at Carville.

"I've done a lot of things in my life. I've written stories; I've been a mine superintendent; I've been an explorer and a department head; and I've served in the Army and the Marine Corps. I've been a forester and a chief of police, and I see no reason why I shouldn't be damned good at kitchen police or even a missionary."

The blue-eyed wife he married 33 years ago feels that same way.

"Hans is ready now to be retired from the service," she said in her hospital room, filled with roses brought by her husband. "He says he's had his fling in life and that he wants to be with me. I want him to come with me."

65 Are Desirous Of Forming Naval Reserve in City

Sixty-five discharged naval veterans attended a special meeting Tuesday night at the American Legion to discuss plans for activation of a Naval Reserve unit in Kingston, and participation in the Memorial Day parade.

Herman Gottfried, of the legal department of the New York Board of Water Supply, who has been active in negotiations to establish a Reserve here, said that 65 men have indicated a desire to serve in the Reserve.

The navy men agreed on plans for marching in the parade and will appear in full uniform, Gottfried said.

Third Naval District headquarters in New York has not announced a decision regarding a dock site on the Rondout waterfront, Gottfried stated. The headquarters sent an inspector to Kingston several days ago to look over tentative sites for docking a naval vessel for use in conjunction with the Naval Reserve training program.

Another meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 21, at which time plans will be formulated for activation of the unit.

Mr. Gottfried, a former lieutenant-commander, said the Kingston unit definitely would organize regardless of the decision of Third Naval District headquarters. The training program in that event would be tied up with some other unit in the Hudson valley.

The term skyscraper originally applied to a skysail of triangular form.

The first regulations governing naval officer uniforms were passed by the United States in 1797.

Nuzzo Pleads Guilty; Is Sentenced to Sing Sing

The "Nuzzo Case" was unexpectedly settled in Supreme Court at Newburgh, Monday morning when Samuel Nuzzo, a former Newburgh labor leader, entered a plea of guilty to count 2 of the first indictment against him. The count specifically charged embezzlement of $200 in the death benefit fund of the union.

The defendant waived the usual two-day waiting period and was sentenced by Justice Frank Coyne to a term from 1 1/2 to 3 years in Sing Sing Prison.

Nuzzo, former business agent of Local 17, International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers Union, previously was convicted, on January 7, 1943, when a jury found him guilty on all but one of 32 counts of theft and forgery, upon which he had been indicted. At that time he was sentenced to serve 10 to 20 years in Sing Sing. He spent but 83 days in the county jail and state prison and then was released on appeal and was granted a retrial.
